UNDER THE STARS AND STRIPES

Private Frank Lambert, Jr., in a letter to a Chestertown friend, says, in part, as follows:

I am glad to say that I am enjoying the best of health and I thank God that I am, and only hope and pray that I continue so, as it is a terrible climate over here, raining all the time, although it is not cold; it is just like September. It rained 330 days out of 365 last year at Brest, the seaport at which we landed last July. What do you think of that? and they say "sunny France.

I was sent to a school last week and just returned and was glad to find your letter waiting when I returned. Everyone in the company gets the same chance. I was studying automatic and service rifles, machine guns, Stokes mortars, hand and rifle grenades and what we call one-pounders. This is a small shell about six inches long and carrying a high-explosive.

Theodore Thompson, of Still Pond, was to an aviation school last week.

George Titter was over to see us on Sunday and he looks fine, as stout as ever.

I am very sorry to hear of so many deaths in town, especially of young people, but I must say that we have lost several of our soldiers with the same disease.

I could, no doubt, write a pretty large book, if I had made a note of my different travels, but I had no idea that the war would end so soon, and besides it looked as though I were not going to a get back myself, as I had many a narrow escape.

The following letter is from Private Hestor Ford, of Kent county, and is dated Lavallee, Meuse, France, Jan. 27, 1919:

I am not on the way home yet and things don't look very much like I was coming in the very near future. It is simply up to the people of the United States who sent us over here to get us back. Every mother's son of us over here is mighty anxious to come back, I can tell you, but we are in the army and have no voice in the matter. it appears to me it is about time you people woke up and started something. Here we are over here fiddling away our time and spending your money, waiting and hoping in vain for the time to only come when we can come back. It seems the people of America have forgotten their boys over here, now that we have come across and done our bit in the way they wanted it done. This may seem pretty strong, but we boys are all sick and tired of false rumors and shattered hopes. It is up to you people in the States if you want us home. I see in the papers where one or two Senators have had the "guts" to get up and speak in our behalf, but most of the country seems to be deaf to the call of their boys in the A. E. F. We continue to read of the ships and facilities you have for transporting us back, but the latest reports state that only some 200,000 of us have been returned and most of these were casuals. When they needed us over here to win the war and save the world for democracy they rushed us over at the rate of 300,000 a month. Now nearly three months have elapsed since the armistice was signed and only about a three weeks war time quota have been returned. Where are those ships and transportation facilities we read about? If this letter gets through and you want to put this in the paper go ahead and if this letter was large enough I could get the signature of every man in my organization that these are our unified sentiments. I am well and still living in hopes of getting back some day.

The following letter is from Lieut. Herbert Robinson, who is now at Rome, Italy:

I have just found a few minutes time to drop you a few lines to let you know how I am faring since I got out of the army. Myself and my old roommate are still together, though under quite different surroundings. We have a beautiful front room at the Hotel l'Europe in Paris with a real bed and sleep between sheets and in pajamas now. We arrived back in Paris last Saturday evening and have been quite busy ever since buying equipment. I spent a few hours yesterday and today at the office doing a little work. We both leave Paris Sunday for Rome, Italy, where we will be stationed for a few weeks. From there I think we will go to Constantinople, but it is not definitely settled so far. But no matter where I go I am sure I will have an interesting trip.

I am all decked out in a new uniform and a Sam Browne belt and are having the M. P.'s saluting me and everything. I visited the opera last night for my first time in Paris and the building is surely magnificent. No one can realize how beautiful it is until they have seen it. Rigoletto was playing and it was wonderful the music and singing was surely charming.

I have the Transcripts in my trunk, but have not had time to read them yet, so have not been able to keep up with the home news.

You Want Foot-Comfort Always

When you arise in the morning and slip your feet into your shoes, you expect comfort; but if your shoes pinch your corns, rub your bunions and later on develop a burning or cramping sensation, adding insult to injury, you become peeved and are mad clean through. It makes no difference whether you are a man, woman or child, at your home, on the farm, or at your office, or on a visit, your day is spoiled.

In the evening your first thought and duty is to slide out of those shoes, and then you spend half the night trying to get relief from your day's discomfort.

Avoid this situation, keep sweet and pleasant by having your shoes fitted at our store.

We are graduated foot experts and know how to suggest the proper footwear to suit your feet. We always have on hand large selections of various styles, colors, makes and widths in high and low shoes, at lowest prices.
