ect for the day.

A surprise came when the children were told that they would go to beautiful Sherwood Gardens where each received his own individual drawing board and crayons and was set to work drawing some of the lovely flower displays that could be found there.

The children donned their aprons and sprawled or sat on the grass and worked on their project.

Children who thoroughly enjoyed this unique experience were Robin Hillen, Robin Gross, Cathleen Lewis, Raymond Carpenter, Nunna Whittaker, Kathleen Davis, Barbara Braxton, Carolyn Briscoe, Shirley Carroll, Leda Fuller, Sherly Greene, Pamela Jendy and Mitro Pitts.

Parents who accompanied them were Mesdames Hattie Hillen, Marguerite Carroll, Ardelle Jeudy, Jacqueline Lewis, Roberta Briscoe, Gloria Carpenter, Helen Whittaker, Saretha Greene, Anne Fuller and Inetta Gross.

THE BEST-KEPT secret of last week was, up until the very end of the party, was the surprise Bon Voyage cocktails — supper — cards that dumbfounded Seretha Greene, Friday evening.

It nearly dumbfounded the hostesses (Vivian Pendleton and Lula Patterson) too, because Seretha had gotten the date mixed, and was all ready to attend the Friday evening affair on Saturday night.

So came cocktails in Vivian's beautiful Dorchester Road home, and no Seretha. Came moving from the living room to the dining room to pick up supper . . and on to the club room, and still no Seretha . . and that's when a telephone call and a rush act fetched the tardy one.

Even through the evening of cards, the honoree didn't catch the act . . and it wasn't until, through the ruse of awarding card prize to her and the wheeling in of a cart load of beautifully boxed gifts that she got the message.

The gifts, beautiful lingerie, etc., came from Mary Pitts, Ellsworth Rhetta, Harriet Jones, Anethia Williams, Alma Gray, Elizabeth Patterson, Doreva Stanley, Lou Whitten, Phyllis McKinney, Gloria Carpenter, Grace Hunt, Ethel Day, Gwen Carter, Willie Garner and Louise Whitten.

BALTIMORE LINKS, as is their custom, entertained at luncheon for a debutante Bob'O'Link (child of a Link), Saturday afternoon.

The honoree was Michel Michael, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Michael, who was presented at the April Me-De-So Cotillion. The Links invited eighteen of Michel's selected friends to join her at luncheon.

The affair was beautifully staged in the Castle Inn, where in addition to a delicious lunch, they pinned corsages on all of the guests, and gifted the honoree with a memory book.

Michele chose to lunch with her Burnettia Johnson, Cecliss Grimes, Peggy Jones, Esther Hall, Tama Myers, Brenda Evans, Carolyn Costa, Tammy Thompson, Joan Sessoms, Helen Taylor, Pam Jones and Sandra Chappell.

The Links had as guests Mayme Williams, a Washington Link, and sister of local member, Pearlie Pennington; and Lula Patterson.

Members present included Mesdames Louise Perrin, president of the Baltimore unit; Emma Michael, Lydia Massenden, Andrev Norris, Xaveria McDonald, Lillian Berry, Pearl Pennington, Florence Gloster, Marie Hicks, Theresa Waters, Yvette Murphy, who served as chairman for the affair; Mae Adams and Etta Phifer.

THE 12 - 14 AGE GROUP of Tots and Teens held its annual Splash Party at the Hurt Gymnasium, Morgan State College.

It was grand to see the progress in swimming techniques that had taken place since the last group swim session.

Members of the group in attendance were:

William Pitts, William Bevans, Paula Brooks, Richard Mitchell, Darlynne Hunter, Marcia Porter, James Hill, Strelsa C. Gorham, Alphonso Gorham Jr., Yvonne Cousin, Althea Lee, Alice Tucker and Louis Tucker.

Their guests were Melvin Cade Jr., Cynthia Cousin, Rlyn Epps, Russell Epps, Linda Whitehead, Denise Barkley, and Richard Kimbers.

Chairman of the activity was Vanessa Porter and chairman of the age group is Strelsa J. Gorham.

POT - POURRI: Dr. Dolly Walker and Mrs. Maurice Adams were elated this week over the success of the NAACP Spectacular. With funds still coming in from the affairs they have their $5000 - gift to NAACP goal in touching distance.

The Class of '34 will have its reunion on May 30th, annual Alumni Day at Morgan State College. Their specific plan is for a contribution to the college, which class members know of from previous correspondence. The contribution checks outlined should be made out to Mrs. Alice T. Carroll, treasurer, but forwarded to Miss Sallie Panzo, alumni secretary, at the college.

Mrs. Mary B. Pratt visited her son in - law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Zeikel Cummins of Philadelphia, Sunday. Other Baltimoreans there were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Batty and Mrs. Leon A. Brown. From the Bronx, N.Y., came Charles Harris.

Mrs. Hobbs cited at testimonial

Mrs. Pauline James Hobbs was guest of honor at a testimonial on Sunday afternoon at the Sheraton Inn.

Recently named supervisor of corrective and remedial reading in Baltimore County schools, Mrs. Hobbs was for 15 years elementary supervisor in the county.

The testimonial, called 'An Appreciation Hour', was sponsored by principals and teachers who formerly served in her area.

TOASTMASTER was Roland E. Harris, principal, Bragg Elementary School

He introduced a dozen persons who lauded Mrs. Hobbs in word and song.

They referred to her as a devoted and dedicated worker, excellent leader who has shown kindness, cooperation, fairness to all in a gracious manner and with good humor.

It was also noted she had been a welcome committee of one to new teachers in the county.

Called 'Jenny' by her friends, Mrs. Hobbs responded, "You have inspired me. I hope I will continue to work with wisdom and love and have the strength to continue."

SPEAKERS WERE B. Melvin Cole, director of elementary education; Dr. George Crawford, supervisor of curriculum, State Board of Education; Dr. Gilbert Schiffman, supervisor, corrective and remedial reading.

Flowers, a memory book, gifts and plaque were the presentations made by the following:

Rho Chapter, Phi Delta Kappa Sorority, by Mrs. Alva C. Wallace, Wilmington, Del., Gamma Chapter by Mrs. Dorothy Washington, basileus, Baltimore; Corrective and Remedial Reading Department by Mrs. Helen Thornton; Department of Speech and Hearing by Miss E. Monterey Williams;

Jalco Jrs., by Miss Mar-Mrs. LaVerne Kelly, on behalf Tucker Jones, Mary Richardson, Parris Bernice Moore Bryant, Electa Whitney Holland and Catherine Beard Young, who was described as former teachers new to the area who were provided 'a home away from home,' and felt the impact of her unselfish service.

ALSO, PRESENTATIONS were from the honoree's former principals and teachers by Mrs. Mildred A. Williams, co-chairman of the planning committee, with Fred D. Lockett; and Cedric R. Hynson, Baltimore city teacher, who sang musical tributes, with original tunes ('She haventured wide, to every school room door and rendered services to all who sought it dear. .").

Also Mrs. Jennie F. Robinson of the county's guidance department, on behalf of parents and pupils.

Accompanist was Mrs. LaVerne Kelly. The Rev. Thomas P. Fraser, Walbrook Trinity Presbyterian, offered prayer.

HEAD TABLE guests included the honoree's husband, Joseph Hobbs, a junior high teacher in Baltimore County.

Among guests in the audience, William Hall, Prince George County supervisor; Mrs. Kathleen Francis, Talbot County supervisor; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown, Centreville;

Harris, Cecil County; Dr. and Mrs. Percy Williams, (he's of the State Department of Education);

UNABLE TO be present was the honoree's mother, Mrs. Pauline James, now recuperating from an illness at her home, 2012 Savannah Pl. SE, Washington.

Her father, Dr. Leonidas S. James, for many years president of Bowie State Teachers' College, is now in a VA position in Columbia, S.C.

For her big day, Mrs. Hobb was attractive in a black silk stripe with white and small straw.

Mrs. Williams, testimonial chairman, wore an ecru suit topped by a green straw, radiant with flowers—B.M.M.

John T. Colbert citation to Dean Bando of Morgan College

Dr. Thelma P. Bando, dean of women at Morgan State College, was recipient of the John T. Colbert Award for meritorious service to the community from the John T. Colbert chapter of the National Council of United Presbyterian Men, here, Tuesday evening.

The award was made at the annual Ladies' Night, when the Council, a unit of Grace United Presbyterian Church, hosted at dinner in Wilson's Restaurant

DR. BANDO, who, last year, received the Legion of Honor Citation from the Chapel of Four Chaplains, a division of Temple University, for outstanding work with students, was also inducted into membership in the International Institute of Arts and Letters, last year.

Dr. Bando received commendation from parents and friends throughout the country for her 'tender care' of students during the latters' imprisonment following civil rights demonstrations, last year.

ALSO CITED was Mrs. Christine R. Ward, who Grace United Presbyterian Church selected as 'Mother of the Year for 1964'.

Mrs. Howard Jenkins addressed the dinner session, which was presided over by Milton A Dugger

PARTICIPANTS on the program also included:

Mrs. Gloria H. Basfield, soloist; James G. Dashiell, Sr. who gave the invocation and blessing; Mrs. Annette C. Johnson, who presented Mrs Jenkins and the Rev. Robert T. Newbold, Jr., minister of Grace, who gave the benediction

"You become what you think" Dr. Brain tells club group

By LULA JONES GARRETT

Because of the deep human tendency to become what one thinks, there is great need for adults to understand what is going on within themselves as well as what is going on in children, said Dr. George B. Brain, here, Tuesday evening.

Dr. Brain, superintendent of Baltimore Public Schools, was speaker at the closing meeting of the Du Bois Circle, held in the Charles Room of the Sheraton - Belvedere Hotel.

HE SPOKE from the subject "The Importance of People."

"Spring," said Dr. Brain, is the loveliest season of the year, because for one thing, it brings out lovely and alurring hats on aluring ladies.

Then he went on to point out that this is a sophisticated generation and a sophisticated generation doesn't let show on the face its frustrations of living.

"We," said Dr. Brain, "are so haunted by fear and torn by conflicts and frustrations that there is great difficulty in getting along with people. Those persons, said he, who are able to revolve their conflicts, do get along with people as well as have a wonderful time living with themselves.

DR. BRAIN recited the following findings:

The greatest menace to men are tension, worry, guilt, depression and marital difficulties and debt

The highly organized, professional group has the greatest tendency to be discouraged and depressed.

By and large a person's world is not made up of conditions but of what goes on in his mind.

"THIS MAY sound like some kind of metaphysics," said Dr. Brain. "But it is a fact that we have today the [illegible] generation of negative thinkers we have ever had in this country, and we have to fight harder to resist them at all times.

"Without negative thinking the John Birch Society never would have been organized.

"Most famous psychiatrists of our time make assertions that there is a deep tendency in human nature to become like that which over a long period of time what you image yourself to be. We become precisely what we think or putting it another way, what we think, we are."

IN WORKING with children, Dr. Brain advised any case the adult has to handle may require consideration no contemplated by the adult's own pet theories.

It is more important, he said, to understand children than to label them, and a little listening can do more good than much lecturing.

Objectivity and warmth are not inconsistent, he told the group.

The open season for scholastic attainment is not continuous, said Dr. Brain, school there should be sanctuaries where children are safe from adult pressures.

"OLD RULES need changing for new children," said Dr. Brain. "Give them a chance to work. An emotionally upset person is in no condition to be disciplined. All efforts at interpretation, lecturing or establishing new relationships must be sayed for a better time. Most crises do not have to be solved on the spot and can be eliminated by thoughtful action.

"Don't attack on all fronts at once. If you surround a person with too many remedies for his ills, he may become involved emotinally to the extent that help is blocked," Dr. Brain said.

HE URGED adults to live their own lives for themselves and not try to make the young compensate for parents' failures. "You learned by making mistakes. The young should have the same privilege," he said.

• • •

DR. BRAIN had been introduced by Mrs. Kelly Jackson. Mrs. Charles Key, who heads the Du Bois Circle, presided.

Music was by Isador B. Oglesby and Joseph S. Eubanks, soloists, with Mesdames Georgeanna Chester and Carol B. Diggs, accompanists, respectively.

Miss Edna H. Brown told of the origin of the Circle, which is named for the late Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, and in whose memory, red roses, a favorite of Dr. DuBois, were presented to a relative, Mrs. Edythe D. Meyers.

THE CLUB, one of the oldest in the city, was organized in 1906 by a group of women who were interested in the Niagara Movement (which later became the NAACP) and who wanted to keep abreast of the interests of their times. The club has kept this format during its 58 year of existence.

Officers, other than Mrs. Key, are:

Mrs. Mabel Frisby, vice-president; Miss Edna H. Brown, recording secretary; Mrs. Florence Gloster, assistant recording secretary; Miss F. Marion Reid, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Meyers, treasurer; Mrs. Edna O. Campbell, historian.

MEMBERS ALSO include: Mrs. Lena K. Lee, Mrs. G. Clara Bibetta, Mrs. Virginia Love, Mrs. Lillian Murphy, Mrs. Viola C. Jackson, Mrs. Augusta T. Chissell, Mrs. P. Elizabeth Jenkins, Mrs. Gladys J. Hawkins, Mrs. Hilda M. Higgins, Mrs. Emma G. Bright, Mrs. Marjorie L. Coles and Mrs. J. Ethel Hodges.

Mrs. Higgins was chairman of the closing meeting. Serving on her committee were Mesdames Bright, Coles and Hodges, and Miss Carr.

Parks named to college board

Two new members have been elected to the Board of Trustees of the Baltimore College of Commerce, it was announced by Joseph S. Rook, president.

Henry G. Parks, president of a meat processing company and a member of the Baltimore City Council, and Robert B. Thomas, department store executive, brings the membership of the group to fifteen.

Headquarters for the Baltimore College of Commerce is in the Central YMCA Building. Enrollment in the college now numbers 1125 students representing the second high during its 55 year history.

Md. Yanks 7th in TB ratings

Maryland continues to maintain its rank of seventh in the United States for newly reported cases of active tuberculosis, according to figures released today by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association. The State is in eighth place for tuberculosis deaths.

The District of Columbia, according to the information now available, is in first place for mortalities and second place for new active cases. The figures are part of a report by the statistical department of the National Tuberculosis Association and are the final figures for the country for the year 1962. The report states that a total of 53,315 new cases of TB were recorded in 1962, with 1,350 of these in Maryland.

"I like to save money ...that's why I always go Greyhound!"
Save money, and go places, too. Take a Greyhound. It costs much less than planes or driving yourself. Greyhound is such a pleasant way to travel. Next trip, save as you go. It's easy by Greyhound.
Exclusive Scenicruiser Service at no extra fare. For example:

	ONE WAY		ONE WAY
NEW YORK	$ 6.45	ATLANTA	$18.00
BOSTON	$13.90	MONTREAL	$18.40
WINSTON-SALEM	$10.45	CLEVELAND	$13.50

Save 10% extra each way with a round trip ticket.
