Dr. William C. Wade, who has practiced medicine at Turners Station for the past 20 years, was honored at a Recognition Service by the Harold McDaniel, a visiting teacher of the Baltimore County Board of Education; Dr. J. Recognition Service by the Harold Nichols, another physician of the community; and the late Dr. Joseph H. Thomas and the late Robert L. Abbott. The citations of the latter two went to their widows, Mrs. Flavia Thomas and Mrs. Magaret Abbott.

The affair was held in the United Steel Workers Hall

Dr. and Mrs. Wade are the parents of two children: William, Jr., 18, who graduated from Riverdale Country School, New York State, last term and is now a freshman at the University of Rochester; and Linda, 13, a ninth grader at Friends School, here. Mrs. Wade is the former Lucille Patterson of Washington, and a member of the Patterson clan of Dundalk. He was presented a plaque.

Mrs. McDaniel has been in the education field for 35 years, the last 32 of which she has been a visiting teacher. Prior to that post she served as classroom teacher and school principal on the Eastern Shore.

She is married to Harold McDaniel, machinist, who has the meticulous job of keeping in repair the clocks of the schools of the county. Mrs. McDaniel received an engraved desk set, as did Dr. Nichols.

Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Abbott each received beautifully engraved silver trays. A token of welcome went to Dr. Theodore Patterson, newest physician to establish practice in that community.

Dean Albert N. Whiting of Morgan State College served as toastmaster. Mrs. Clara S. Green, music instructor at Sollers Point High School, arranged the program of music.

Other participants on the program were Dr. John N. Snyder, Baltimore County Medical Society; Dr. Stanley D. Madison, Monumental City Medical Association; Dr. Bernard Harris Sr., Dr. Bernard Harris Jr.; D. Pallett Moore, president of Coppin State College; Dr. George Crawford, State Department of Education; Dr. William Wartham, director of the Baltimore County Health Department.

Mrs. Erna Brown and Mrs. Mildred Williams served as co-chairmen of the affair, which was attended by 100 guests from the vicinity, Washington, Philadelphia and Virginia.

FIRST PLANS for the annual fashion show of the Maryland League of Women's Clubs were discussed, Saturday, when First Vice President Shirley Kyle held a meeting of the executive members in her Reisterstown Road apartment.

The affair was also a "thank you" to members who had geared and steered the League's initial two-day conference, last spring, and made it such as success. Meeting were Mesdames Naomi Camper, Frankie Hinchon, Queenie Lane, Serena Manns, and Misses Marion Jones and Vivian Young.

Mrs. Camper will again serve as chairman of the fashion show to be held in January, and in which each club of the League sponsors a model. Incidentally, clubs have been requested to renew their subscriptions by November 28, and to send delegates to the December Quarterly meeting.

The quarterly session, this year, will center on the discussion of Mental Health, and will feature the regular Christmas items sale.

THE GAY NORTHEASTERNERS began sessions with a dinner meeting at the Sheraton-Belvedere Hotel on Friday.

Their guest of honor was Beautine DeCosta, welcomed back from a two-year stay in Africa. The group discussed plans for attending the installation of the New Jersey chapter, this month.

About were Emma Bright, Carol Diggs, Hilda Higgins, Constantia Jackson, Elizabeth Jenkins, Helen Lee, Ruth Lighston, Lillian Murphy, Bernice Monroe, Lillian O'Daniel, Senora Welcome, Elizabeth Walker, and Mrs. DeCosta.

MEETING OF THE MOLES (Baltimore chapter) on Thursday evening was elegantly hosted by Bernice McDaniels at her home on The Alameda.

New president, Mary McPherson, was in the chair welcoming the members back from summer vacations and noting the far flung spots from which greeting cards had come during the summer.

Main business of the evening was study of the budget for the year and program plans.

Mrs. McPherson and Florence Bailey will represent the chapter at the national board meeting in Washington this month, and the luncheon and cocktail party which will be a part of the session will draw any number of Moles and their husbands.

Attending the Thursday session were Helen Queen, Emma Dudley, Helena Harrison, Mary Pitts, Blanche Beckham, Carolyn Stubbs, Bertha Forte, Louise Lockerman, and Josephine Sloan, in addition to the hostess.

MR. AND MRS. Lawrence Lawson entertained a birthday party for their godchildren, Karen and Sharon Wilson, Sunday.

The party was attended by: Todd Washington, Renard Banks, Kevin Holley, Kenneth Holley, Charlotte Boston Jr., Edward Boston Jr., Michelle Wilson, Scott Wilson, Carol Coe, Barron Coe, Darryl West.

Also Carolyn Veronica Jones, Mrs. Anna Boston, Mrs. Geraldine Coe, Mrs. Jacqueline Banks, Mrs. Esther Clayton, Mrs. Louise Holley, Mrs. Leanna Sanders, Merriman Wilson, Mrs. Delores Wilson, Miss Ruth Clayton, Mrs. Vernice Jones, Lawrence Lawson, Mrs. Mary Clayton, Mrs. Treopia Washington and John Saunders.

The party was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawson on

300 leaders will meet on poverty issue

NEW YORK, N. Y. —Some 300 selected colored organization leaders are expected to convene in Washington, D. C., Dec. 9 - 11, under the sponsorship of the National Urban League for a conference on how to use the new acts to wipe out poverty and discrimination in local communities.

The three - day conference, to be called a "Community Action Assembly" was announced by Whitney M. Young Jr., the League's national executive director who issued the call.

The meeting will examine thoroughly the provisions under the Federal Government's anti-poverty program and evaluate methods of implementing the Federal Civil Rights Bill.

It will describe what useful tools are available to local leadership for community action in these areas by bringing together for the first time top government officials with selected leadership in an unprecedented high level conference.

Mrs. Isobel Chisholm Clark, the League's associate director, will act as conference co-ordinator. She will be assisted by Mrs. Sylvia Lauter, program analyst.

The conference will be held in the Sheraton Park Hotel, Washington.
