'Pick the Champs' Rules

1. Fill in the entry blank naming your selection of the American and the National League baseball teams that will play in the World Series. Then select the other teams in each league in the order you think they will finish. Send your entry to the AFRO-AMERICAN, 628 N. Eutaw St., Baltimore, Maryland 21201 postmarked no later than Saturday, September 25.

2. Submit as many entries as you wish. The more guesses you make, the better your chances to be correct. Use the AFRO entry or simply make your selection on a plain sheet of paper.

3. 25 transistor radios will be awarded to the 25 entrants who have correctly picked the teams and in order. In cases of tie the earliest postmark and neatness will be considered. No entries will be returned and the ruling of the judges will be final.

4. Anyone may enter except employees of the AFRO-AMERICAN and their immediate families.

5. Winners will be announced in the AFRO within one week after the close of the game.

6. All winners agree to the use of their names and photos for publicity purposes.

7. This contest is valid in all states except where prohibited by law.

Mobile court asked to end picketing ban

MOBILE, Ala., (UPI)—Attorneys Monday filed suit seeking dismissal of a federal court restraining order banning racial demonstrations or picketing near Marion public schools.

Gov. George Wallace requested and obtained the restraining order on grounds that demonstrations, picketing or any other civil rights activity outside Perry County schools at the outset of classroom desegregation might cause violence.

Judge Daniel H. Thomas issued the order Aug. 31 enjoining leaders, including Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., and civil rights organizations from interfering in any way with the opening and operation of Perry County and Marion Schools.

WALLACE ALSO received a similar federal court order from a district judge in Birmingham preventing civil rights activity near Greene County schools.

There has been no trouble in either county connected with public school desegregation. However, partial boycotts against the two school systems by students have been effective.

NAACP attorneys challenged the federal court jurisdiction to issue such a restraining order. It was extended by Judge Thomas Sept. 9 and was to have expired Monday.

Nkrumah opens Volta River Dam

ACCRA, Ghana (UNPA — On Sept. 21, President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana will throw switches setting in opeeation the first of four power units of the $168 million Volta River Hydroelectric Dam project.

The ceremony that day will mark the 56th birthday of the Ghanian leader, whose country is paying 50 per cent of the cost of the dam.

The Volta Dam plant at Akosombo is a gigantic development scheme. It was set in motion in 1962, when President Kennedy committed the United States to a $37 million loar - term loan for the venture, with an additional $97 million going to Kaiser Industries and Reynolds Metal," an American consortium.

2 NAACP aides running for office

NEW YORK — Two local NAACP branch presidents emerged victorious over their opponents in this week's Democratic primary elections here.

Both men were running for seats in the New York State Senate. Basil Patterson, president of the NAACP Manhattan Branch, will be the Democratic candidate for the Senate from the Thirty-first District.

Dennis Coleman, on leave as president of the NAACP Bronx Branch, will be the Democratic candidate for the Senate from the Thirty-fifth District.

Mrs. Harrison wed to James McWhite

With Lula Jones Mackay

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Wainwright announce the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. LaVerne Harrison, to James McWhite, Saturday.

The double - ring ceremony took place in the bride's Edmondson Ave. home.

The bride, who has been living in Hawaii, is the widow of Sgt. Richard Harrison. For the ceremony and reception for 50 guests, she wore an ensemble in blue, which included a street-length dress, hat and veil. She was attended by Mrs. William Hawkins, matron of honor; and Mrs. Merrial Williams, bridesmaid. The latter wore ensembles in pink and egg shell, respectively. William Hawkins was best man for Mr. McWhite.

• • •

MR. AND MRS. Charles Law have been in their newly - acquired elegant place on Forest Park Ave. since Saturday. He's a top town mortician, official in the National Morticians' Association, and she, on the faculty of Morgan State College.

• • •

DR. BERTHA MARTIN, and daughter, Beryl, who spent two weeks here and in Cape May, N. J., with her sister, Mrs. Mattie Connor, flew back to their home in Los Angeles, Sunday, after a round of parties in Dr. Martin's honor.

During their trip East, they also visited relatives in Washington and Richmond, Va.

Mrs. Glynis Hill was hostess at dinner for the visitors, Mrs. Maurice Adams entertained at a dinner party in Holiday Inn, Saturday, and that evening, Dr. and Mrs. Nathan Pitts were hosts in their home.

Dr. and Mrs. Henry S. Martin and Mrs. Sue Davis Price of Washington entertained 50 friends in honor of Dr. Martin at the Martins' home in the Capital.

Dr. Martin is a practicing dentist in Los Angeles.

CUTE PARTY of the week, too, was that which celebrated the eighth birthday of Mitra A. Pitts at the Dorchester home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Nathan Pitts, Saturday.

Thirty - two children played "Charades" and games of balance. Peals of laughter rang out as the poor donkey's tail was pinned in the oddest places, attractive prizes were given to the lucky winners. The "Twist" and the "Monkey" will never be the same. The gifts were simply lovely! They presented a rainbow of color as they emerged from their wrappings.

Celebrating with Mitra were:

Annette March, Yolanda and Yvonne Tanner, Weslie Stubbs, Janet and Richard Montgomery, Bernard Christmas, Karen Christian, Harry Carpenter, Carolyn Briscoe, Celonia Walden, Lisa Moore, Pamela Jurdy, Cheryl Greene, Angela Griggs, Joyce Finney; Ivy and Stephanie Gates, Shirley Carroll, Cynthia Smith, Keith Neal, Nina and Dominick Tocci, Philip Scott, Kevin Davis, Cynthia Wright, Jill Ellis, Kitty Bryant, John Ireland, Keith Smith, Karen Lucas, and Percy Nicholas.

THE PLACE was the home of Mrs. Naomi Camper, The time, Tuesday. The group, was the Baltimore chapter of Sigma Wives, and the setting, a background of Mrs. Camper's breath-taking dahlias . . . expansive in size and of amalgamated hues.

Under the gavel of Mrs. Cora Gibson, the chapter held its first fall meeting to map plans for the year. As an auxiliary group to Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, they will be giving a great deal of time and energy to the decoration and furnishings of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity House.

They will continue development of its financial pledges to the Provident Hospital Building Fund, will continue its social service in the area of aid to the needy, its special project for the year will serve youth and adults confined to nearby institutions.

At the session were Mesdames Esther Wiles, Violet Lee, Reva Lewis, Naomi Camper, Kathryn Johnson, Lorraine Hayes, Hazel Phillips, Mary Jeter, Cora Gibson and Thelma Daley. Becoming a new member was Mrs. T. A. Pitts.

MRS. JAMES MEBANE, new president of the Pierians, called that group to her Harlem Avenue home, Saturday afternoon, for a business session and the discussion of such items as program, hostesses and membership.

Two members of the group are on leave, what with Mesdames Arthur Lamb and Glen S. Tarter, Mercedes Douglas, Clift Mackay, Medford Reynolds, Percival Smith, Ruth Welling, Herbert E. Wilson, Dr. Jessie Colson and Senator Verda Welcome.

• • •

MRS. ELIZABETH STEWART was the hostess who jockeyed her guests from a luscious smorgasbord dinner at the Sheraton Inn to cocktails and business session at her lovely Lafayette Avenue home Friday evening.

It was more than fun for the group, the Baltimore chapter of Girl Friends, because they ran into so many other folks there, best on the same difficult business of choosing what delicious viands to fill their plates with.

'Twas Georgeanna Chester, new president, who presided with charm and precision at the home session where they sipped cocktails as they smoothly transferred officers' duties from the former incumbents to the new; where they gifted a recently wed member, Lula Patterson Mackay, with a most magnificent pale pink linen table cloth and matching napkins; and jelled plans for their Dec. 30 cotillion.

MR. AND MRS. MEDFORD REYNOLDS shifted the regular Sunday afternoon meeting of the Couples Club to Saturday night . . . ending that group's two-month vacation.

It fell the lot of Bill Stanford, as chairman of the stock committee of this investment group, to report the sorrowful news of the summer slump on the stock market. (Luckily, they had been well fortified with rounds of drinks and a delectable dinner.) But he was able to brighten the picture with indications that a gradual upturn is in sight.

Jim Murphy, who is president, briefly reviewed the club's six - year history and gave a resume of the current status of its stock portfolio.

Guests at cocktails and dinner were Dr. and Mrs. Saul Pendleton and Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Russell.

Members present were Adele and Ben Foreman, Yvette and James Murphy, Bea and Hiram Butler, Lula and Bill Stanford, Lula and Cliff Mackay, Delaphine Warrington, Dr. Lonnie Greene and John Rich.
