Clay speedy, Patterson vicious in fight drills

LAS VEGAS, Nev., (UPI) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay flashed enough agility and speed about and Floyd Patterson floored one of his sparr mates Wednesday in workouts for their Nov. 22 title bout.

Clay worked seven rounds at the Stardust, and was consistently impressive. He worked off the ropes against Cody Jones, a 215 - pounder, for two rounds and showed good timing in avoiding blows.

HE ALSO boxed three rounds with his brother, Rudolph Valentino Clay, during which he let the other man punch him for as much as 30 seconds successatively in the body without apparent ill effects. He also went two rounds with James Ellis of Louisville.

'Big Bell' just wants to play ball

As far as Walt (Big Bell) Bellamy is concerned he will be perfectly happy if the pros and cons surrounding his trade to the New York Knickerbockers by the Bullets will die out and he be allowed to do what he does best — play basketball.

The "Bell" made these and other observations Wednesday night following his less - than - spectacular debut in a Knickerbocker uniform.

He went to New York in the trade which brought Jim (Bad News) Barnes, Johnny Egan, and Jhonny Green to the Bullet plus $50,000 in cash.

While the knicks were bowing to the home team to the tune of 129 to 114, Bellamy scored 25 points and picked off 12 rebounds.

He was forced to the bench with eight minutes remaining in the final quarter after getting tagged with five personal fouls.

Any Bellamy fan will readily admit that this was a subpar performance for the 6 - 11 super star.

On the other hand, the sparse gathering of 3,567 partisans were given ample reason to believe the Bullets got the best of the deal — at least for a night — in wake of the sparkling play of "Bad News" and the hustling Egan.

It took but 24 minutes of action for Barnes to dump in 15 points and hawk 14 rebounds. Egan, who lead the fast break, justifying the tag of "a rushing Bullet team," scored five points and passed off for four baskets as the locals made like race horses on the Civic Center court.

Green, who saw limited duty, scored four points.

* * *

In reference to charges that he blamed his considerable troubles with the Bullets on race, the "Bell" made a gallant attempt to quell further debate of his stormy departure.

"I feel the management did what it thought was best for the team. I believe the move was best for me. At least I hope it works out that way," he told the AFRO after the game.

The star said the New York writer who quoted him as implying that race was at the root of his difficulties with the Bullet was guilty of inaccuracies.

"I made my home in Baltimore and liked it here. I bought a house here last year. Would I settle here if I thought perhaps there was a racial issue involved?"

Evidencing a wish that the whole matter will be dropped the star added:

"I just want to play ball and help the team."

Although he claims he was not being pressured in his debut, Bellamy every move drew reactions from the audience, obvious best, on evaluating the relative benefits of the four - man trade.

It was obvious, too, that big one was pressing, which accounts for his early departure via the personal foul route.

Chuvale behind, Terrell wants Clay - Floyd victor

TORONTO, (UPI) —Ernie Terrell, satisfied with his victory over George Chuvalo, now is eager to fight the winner of the Cassius Clay-Floyd Patterson bout for the undisputed world crown.

"The next toughest guy there is, that's the Guy Terrell will fight," the World Boxing Association's heavyweight champion maintained. "And if the WBA okays it, I will gladly fight Cassius Clay," Teerrell said.

"I know I can beat Clay," added Terrell. "He's always shouting that he can win, and that means he isn't really sure he can."

TERRELL, getting back to his victory over Chuvalo, accused the Canadian of being "a dirty fighter."

The six - foot - six Terrell accused Chuvalo of butting him "intentionally." He said Chuvalo in the 14th round a "deliberate butt" from opened up a one - inch cut under his eye.

However, Terrell added that referee Sam Luftspring "was as fair as possible."

TERRELL, who concentrated on his left jab throughout the match, said he was doing so well with the punch "to gamble on using my right much."

Terrell did admit that he was "a little overcautious" and "perhaps a little careless."

"I never did have any doubts I was ahead though" he stressed. Terrell labeled Chuvalo "a courageous fighter" despite his earlier accusations.

TERRELL criticized Chuvalo's excitable manager Irv Ungerman. "Chuvalo's got a very stubborn manager," Terrell said. "He talks in circles."

Ungerman had insisted the championship bout had to be held in Chuvalo's hometown (Toronto) and rejected the 5-7, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2, 8-4, over John Cottril of Australia.

Herb Fitzgibbon, Garden City, N.Y., was beaten by Owen Davidson of Australia, 7-5, 3-6, 4-6, 4-6.

Swim club admits officer; suit dropped

WASHINGTON (NNPA) — A retired Army officer has decided to drop a suit brought against an Alexandria, Va., swimming club to end alleged racial discrimination.

In filing the withdrawal motion Oct. 25, Lt. Col. Marion I. Johnson said the Brookville Swimming Club informed him after the litigation was begun that he and his family would be accepted for membership.

His attorney, Theodore Martineau, said assurances also had been received that the Alexandria facility would be open to other nonwhites as well.
