THEIR NINTH ANNUAL CELEBRATION — A memorable occasion recently was the Ninth Anniversary Observance of the Royal Hoffman Pleasure and Literary Club and Auxiliary. Highlighting the celebration was the joint worship service held at the New Metropolitan Baptist Church. The pastor, the Rev. Lawyer L. Swinson, delivered the Anniversary Sermon.

300,000 REVISIONS were made in listings in the new December, 1965 Baltimore area telephone directories now being distributed to the 8 million customers by the C and P Telephone Co. Mrs. Doris K. Jackson, customer service representative, holds one of the new books which for the first time give listings for the entire Baltimore Metropolitan Area instead of the separate blue section as in the past. There is also a pink section with dialing guides.

With Soft Whiskey, you'll never know anything hit you. Soft Whiskey is gentle going down.

But don't try to be a hero.

It's 86 proof and does what any 86 proof does. It just does it softer.

Now there's not very much we can tell you about how we soften Soft Whiskey except that we do some of our distilling in small batches instead of large ones. The rest will have to remain our secret. It took years and years for us to come up with a Soft Whiskey. And other distillers have been trying to come up with a Soft Whiskey for a long time now.

That's all we can let you in on.

Let's face it, we wouldn't want other distillers cutting in on our territory.

People, places and things

Wedding note: Thanksgiving bride is Mrs. James S. Julian 3rd.

The former Miss Patricia A. Matthews, 22, daughter of Mrs. Ella Matthews of Ashburton St., and the 27 - - - old son of Dr. and Mrs. Julian of Julianwood Rd., Pikesville, were married on Saturday.

The Rev. Robert Newbold, minister of Grace Presbyterian Church, officiated at the double - ring ceremony witnessed by members of both families and held at the church parsonage.

* * *

For her big Day, the bride wore a stunning white knit suit with a matching white hat and veil and carried two white orchids.

* * *

The new Mrs. Julian is in government service at Ft. Meade. Mr. Julian is an accountant at Equitable Trust.

Miss Sylvia Julian, sister of the bridegroom, was maid or honor. Best man was Nathaniel Stewart.

At the wedding and dinner party following at the home of the bride's mother were, Dr. and Mrs. Julian, Mrs. Elizabeth White, aunt of the bridegroom; Emile Julian, his brother; Ralph Reckling 3rd., Jerome Callings, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Matthews.

The newlyweds were at home at 3907 Parkview Ave.

* * *

Cuff note: Mrs. Flossie Dedmond is in Altanta for the Southeastern Regional of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

* * *

Thanksgiving - time family reunion will come on Saturday when Mrs. C. C. Ferguson (Georgieva), of N. Calhoun St., has her children and the 'grands' about.

Mrs. Ferguson is the widow of the longtime Bethel AME Church minister.

Her children are Clarence Clyde, dean of the Howard U. Law School; Zelma, and Albert, both in public school posts here; and Vernelece Vankinscott, nursing instructor at Hopkins, where she is, by the way, a first.

The reunion will also be a bon voyage for Father David Croll, assistant at St. James Episcopal Church, who leaves in January to live permanently in his native Jabaica.

* * *

FLASH —Mrs. Rosamond J. Diggs, well - known nurse at Henryton Hospital, is ill in Sinai Hospital and in need of blood donors. Remember her good deeds and contribute a pint of blood, please!

* * *

Not so happy Thanksgiving for Baltimore's Mrs. W. A. C. Hughes (Blanche), who is in Marshall, Tex., for the funeral of her sister, Mrs. Lucille Dogan Tycer.

Mrs. Tycer, an Oberlin grad and AKA soror, was long a music instructor at Wiley College, founded by her father, the late Dr. Matthew W. Dogan.

Another sister, Mrs. Ruth Shelton of Houston, Tex., also survives.

* * *

Cuff Note: — Mrs. Allie L. Clift of the social science division at Coppin Teachers College, is attending a meeting of the National Council for Social Studies at Miami Beach during the Thanksgiving holiday.

* * *

Best wishes to the Rev. and Mrs. David Sparrow of Petersville, Md. They are re- cooperating at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Sparrow Sr., Meadowridge Rd., Elkridge.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Sparrow were injured in that Oct. 12 auto accident in which their son, Kendall, was killed.

Many know the Rev. Mr. Sparrow as minister of Union Bethel AME Church in Petersville.

* * *

Church Note: Sunday at 1, Ames Methodist Church (Carey and Baker Sts.), holds its Mission Dinner. It culminates a Mission Study Course held during the month, under the direction of the minister, the Rev. E. P. Clark.

Mrs. LeRay Stokes is chairman of the entertainment of the dinner; Gordon Owens is in charge of dinner arrangements. Mrs. Eleanor Moore and Warner Brown, Mrs. Alice Matthews and Mrs. Gladys W. Dixon are other chairmen on table arrangements, tickets etc.

They predict the dinner will be dee-licious. Bring the entire family, they say, and keep mother out of the kitchen.

* * *

Orchids to Mrs. Victorine Adams. She was dubbed 'canvasser of the year' at the Provident Hospital Development Report Luncheon on Monday at the Emerson.

Reason: She reported $34,653 from the door - to - door canvass of her committee to bring the total general solicitation of her group in excess of $339,500!

* * *

And there were many orchid at the luncheon for A. D. Anderson, the genial philanthropist, who leads the Chevrolet - Olds Foundation which bears his name.

He is the largest single contributor' to the campaign. On Monday, he gave another substantial gift — amount of which is kept secret at his request.

And - along with his generosity goes a good bit of humbleness. He told the Monday gathering 'I am truly proud to have a part in this Campaign.'

* * *

It was Louis Grasmick, a member of the Provident board who noted 'the great and overwhelming support of the colored community . . . they are some of the most liberal givers to the campaign . . . .

My - seat companion, Mrs. Sandford Rothschild added this aside: 'This support by the colored community has been a tremendous selling point when I have approached other people.'

Energetic Charles Tildon directs the development drive which is co-chaired by George Russell and Samuel Hecht.

The A. D. Anderson gift they say, 'has really gotten us over the hump.'

In the words of Charles Moylan, another board member, 'we are now at a crucial mid-point. There is no time to reflect on the past.

'Rather, we must look forward with humility as the road ahead is long, but we have promises to keep and miles to go before we reach our goal.'

Note: Initial Goal is $2.4. Reached to date $2,335,000. The new Provident is expected to cost in excess of $8 million. Other funds are expected from city, state and Federal Governmen'.

* * *

More orchids, please' to these stalwart fellow-citizens: Mrs. Eula Mae Watts, Mrs. Ida Russell, Dr. William Watts, Dr. Lillie M. Jackson and Mrs. Juanita Mitchell.

All five of them sold over $2,000 worth of tickets for the NAACP Freedom Festival Dinner last Friday!

Other large ticket sellers included Dr. J. E. T. Camper, long a freedom fighter in our community and chairman of the planning committee for the dinner; and energetic Dr. Emerson C. Walden, who chaired the program.

And, John Thornton, publicity chairman; Herbert Gardner, chairman of arrangements; and Harry Macer, the railway mail clerk who chaired the ticket committee.

* * *

These fellow citizens and many others gave Baltimore one of its most glorious public meetings and we all paid our $50 tab. There were no freebies for politicians or VIPs.

Originally planned for 550, there were over 600 persons in attendance.

Extra tables were set up around the main ballroom, in the alcoves and at the far end of the Southern Belvedere's twelfth floor to accommodate the crowd.

* * *

Guests were rewarded by the frank words of the speaker — Sargent Shriver, head of the Poverty Program (and doesn't he resemble his late brother-in-law — John F. Kennedy!)

For example, Mr. Shriver (who also heads the Peace Corps), said: 'Without the NAACP, there probably would never have been a civil rights revolution.

'The court decisions won by the NACP added up to a nationwide admission of wrongdoing of injustice, a nationwide awareness which unleashed the forces that led to the entire series of civil rights acts . . . .'

Liked the way, Mr. Shriver credited his No. 1 aide, Edgar Cahn, for his assistance in all areas (If I have a Jewish problem, he is Mr. Cohen . . . an Irish one, Mr. Cahan . . . and when I need legal advice, I call on Mrs. Edgar Cahn!)

* * *

Beaming at a front table were Mrs. Edgar Cahn—Baltimore's own Jean Camper—and her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. T. Camper. Love that brilliant and unassuming gal!

* * *

Cuff note: This Thanksgiving Freedom Festival of the NAACP marked the branch's 30 years' service — enabled contribution of $20,000 to the life membership fund. What a tribute it was to the branch's three stalwarts, Lillie Jackson, Carl Murphy and Augusta Chiswell — they're the only three living charter members of the Baltimore branch. And, they were gifted with silver engraved bowls.

* * *

Quote of the week: —Father Cecil Marshall, assistant minister at St. James PE Church in his Sunday morning sermon on friendship: 'Always treat people as though you would die tonight because you may never pass this way again.'

And, he gave this child's definition of a friend: 'A friend is one who comes in when everybody else has gone out!'

More about people, things

Baltimore Chapter of Guardsmen play host this Thanksgiving weekend to fellow members from Boston to Savannah, Ga.

Some 100 out - of - towners are expected for the events which begin with a formal dance at Emerald Gardens on Friday evening to which some 500 localities have also been invited.

Guests will come from chapters in Mass., Conn. N.Y., N.J., Va., N.C., and Ga.

* * *

Saturday highlights include a business session, also at Emerald Gardens, and dinner for out - of - town guests in the club house at Pimlico Race Track.

There, the sixth race has been designated the Guardsmen Race.

At this writing names of entries were not available, but it will be a purse race according to J. B. Hickey Jr., Pimlico press director.

A black tie party for members and a score of guests follows on Satuday evening, also at Emerald Gardens.

* * *

Guardsmen are business and professional men who organized in Brooklyn and Baltimore over two decades ago.

* * *

The group expanded to cities up and down the East Coast is known as one of the top drawer aggregations in the Eastern U.S.

Officers of the Baltimore chapter are: Charles Brown, president; Joel Newton, vice president; Paul Chesler, treasurer; Howard Collins, secetary;

Members are Richard Cummings, Robert Diggs, Walter Edmonds, Dr. William Hall, William Harris, Harold Jennifer, David Mason, Dr. Marcus Moore;

Also Dr. William Garner, Stephen Moore, Clifton Murray, George Russell, Warren Weaver, Edward Williams and John Wood.

* * *

Another big social gathering this weekend is the Neptune Yacht Club's ball tonight (Friday) at Famous Ballroom.

These men likewise have garnered a reputation for gracious entertainment, and the event promises to be another feather in their caps.

Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity men opened the holiday season on Wednesday evening with a vey beautiful Orchid Ball at the Alcazar.

Add them to gracious hosts — it was truly a delightful party.

* * *

Pre-holiday party last Sunday and a pretty one too — was one Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert White gave at Wilson's. It was their turn to entertain the Wingoes Club.

Tables, of course, were decorated with a Thanksgiving motif. The ladies looked good in their long gowns.

Extra added attraction was supplied by Count Thomas, recently returned from a 15-day tour through the Islands and Africa.

Guests at the party included these Washingtonians:

Mr. and Mrs. William Moryway, Mrs. Eston Taylor, Mrs. Edma Ellington, Henderson Jackson and George Whitham.

Other Wingoes members included Messrs. and Mesdames Joseph Bishop, James Foreman, Frank Veney, Norman Smith, Norman Wallace, Carroll Fields, Louis Johnson, Count Thomas, Harold Weston.

Messrs. and Mesdames John Datcher, William Dixon, Albert Fitzgerald, C. A. Fletcher, Richard Gamby, Leon Johnson, Bernie Miller and Alonzo Maith, and Messrs. and Mesdames Pierce and Washington.

Mesdames Bessie Bell, Betty Lindsay, Lela Powell, Doris Rhewbottom, Mary McPerson and Carrie Scott.

Misses Gwendolyn Bidule and Isabelle Brown; and Harrison Howard and R. E. Burton.

* * *

Mrs. Clarence Monroe (Bernice), one of the town's most gracious hostesses, will entertain on Saturday.

She and Dr. Monroe will entertain a number of localities and several out-towners at their Morgan Park home.

* * *

Dr. and Mrs. Martin Jenkins will lead the contingent of Morgan State College rooters who will jet to Miami, Fla. next week to see Morgan play Florida A and M in the Orange Blossom Bowl on Dec. 4.

They'll be at the Moulin Rouge Hotel.

Miss Morgan, Miss Adele Proctor, of Brandywine, Md., will also be on hand to ride in the parade Saturday after noon before the game and attend the banquet Friday night for players and coaches.

She will be chaperoned by Mrs. Frances Henderson, Morgan's public relations exec.

* * *

Coaches Eddie Hurt, Earl Banks, Jessie Thomas and Nat Taylor will also go along.

So will Robert Smith, chairman of the athletic committee; Lloyd Davis, business manager and Theodore Still, statistician.

Town folks who have booked those hard-to-get Florida reservations include Messrs. and Mesdames Samuel Daniels (Gladys) and John Stokes (Merita).

* * *

Over in D.C., Dr. and Mrs. J. St. Clair Price (he's former Dean of the College of Liberal Arts at Howard) . . . will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary today (Friday, Nov. 26).

Mrs. Price (Maude), for 20 years operated a nursery school on Water St. in Northwest Washington.

Office Building on Tuesday was personable Velma McEwen, whom we had not seen for seventeen years. When she worked here with the Urban League, remember?

Today, she is Mrs. James Strode, wife of the assistant treasurer of the city of Cleveland. They have a seventeen-year-old son.

Mrs. Strode commutes between Cleveland and Washington, where she in consultant with the Community Relations Service neacquarters.

This is the group which works with state and local committees all over the country to help implement the Civil Rights Act.

* * *

Also met: Abraham S. Venable of the office of conciliation of the Community Relations Service.

He's a Washingtonian, has three small children. He recalled he once worked as advertising salesman with the Washington AFRO.

O Lord, Who Lends Me Life, Lend Life Replete With Thankfulness"—Shakespeare.

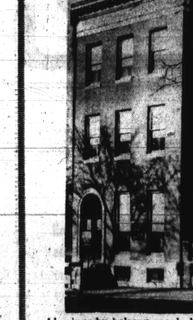
DEAR FRIEND AND CONTRIBUTOR:

For almost a decade the Anna Mae Hunter (Home For the Blind) Foundation has been caring for the blind and handicapped. It has meant home and happiness to those of us who know what it means to have a home of this kind. The Foundation has provided a much needed service to our community. To give this service the Foundation had to overcome many obstacles, the major one, rehabilitation of the home to meet Urban Renewal and city code standards. We are happy to report that all work required by Urban Renewal has been completed.



The work was financed by an improvement loan. The cost of improvement was six thousand dollars—so as you can see keeping up payments along with other financial commitments has been quite a task.

You and many others like you have made it possible for us to come this far. We feel confident that you will aid us further.

Your help has meant the difference between failure and success. For this help we are most thankful.

As we approach the thanksgiving season we offer our thanks for having so many kind friend like you.

Many people like you show their thanks to God for their many blessings by helping people like us. Won't you please remember us this Thanksgiving Season?

The Anna Mae Hunter Foundation fund raising campaign started November 22, 1965 and ends January 2, 1966.

We are hoping to be successful enough to finish payment on our renovation loan. As always, we thank you for your kindness.

Make check or money order payable to the Ana Mae Hunter Foundation.

Sincerely yours,
ANNA MAE HUNTER
