Red salmon, prunes head February list

Canned red salmon, prunes and prune products head the U. S. Department of Agriculture's list of plentiful foods for February.

Also included on the February plentiful list are fresh grapefruit, fresh oranges, onions and potatoes.

Sweet potatoes will be plentiful east of the Rocky Mountains. Production is 17 percent above last year and prices are lower.

Briefly here is the picture for various foods.

Salmon —A record 2 million cases of red salmon canned in 1965. Lower retail prices exptected. Salmon can be eaten as it comes from the can or combined with various ingredients to make nutritious dishes which are good morning, noon and night.

Try making salmon into a salad, a hot loaf, or croquettes. Serve it creamed using a Newburg, au gratin or curry sauce.

ONIONS — The late summer crop soared 16 percent above last year; most are stored for winter use. Onions are a treat served as a vegetable. Use a cream sauce or butter plus a garnish of grated carrots or herbs.

Potatoes — Record fall crop is moving from storage into retail markets. Prices drops of vegetable coloring. are down from last year. So plan to serve potatoes scalloped, baked, boiled and mashed. Top mashed potatoes with grated cheese and brown or garnish with herbs.

• • •

PRUNES — The crop was good this year and last, thus supplies are generous. Prices are reasonable for all prune products including juice. Try combining prune juice with citrus juices, the contrast of tartness and sweetness is good.

• • •

GRAPEFRUIT — Produce up 3 million boxes over last year's crop. February is the peak month for seedless grapefruit. These are good for breakfast or as a dessert served halved and either chilled or topped with a little honey or brown sugar and browned under the broiler. tion is up 3 million boxes over

• • •

ORANGES — The crop for this season will be about 7 percent above last season, the largest since the 1962-63 season. For a very special dessert peel oranges as you would apples. Slice them. Top the slices with shredded coconut, snow white or colored pale green, or deep orange. To color, toss the coconut in a bowl adding a few drops of vegetable coloring.

Try baked chicken with cherry gravy

Use two items on the plentiful list this week, for a new and surprising taste thrill.

This new recipe combines chicken and canned cherries.

• • •

BAKED CHICKEN with old Dominion Cherry Gravy is made with one broiler-fryer, two-one-half lb. ready to cook weight, cut up; one-half cup flour two teaspoons salt, three - fourths teaspoon ground pepper, one-eigth teaspoon ground cinnamon, and one can (1lb.) red tart pitted cherries.

The gravy requires two tablespoons flour, one - half teaspoon salt, one-fourth cup milk, and six drops almond extract.

• • •

TO PREPARE: Dip chicken in some of the cherry juice. Then shake, 2 or 3 pieces at a time in a bag containing the flour, salt, pepper and cinnamon to coat evenly. Place on lightly greased shallow baking pan, skin side down.

Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 30 minutes. Turn skin side up and continue baking another 30 minutes or until thickest pieces are tender. Remove chicken to hot serving dish and keep hot while preparing gravy.

• • •

TO PREPARE gravy blend flour into drippings in baking pan and cook until browned. Add cherries and remaining juice and cook, stirring constantly, until uniformly thickened.

Season to taste. Simmer 5 minutes. Just before serving stir in milk and almond extract. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

Here is a new way to prepare that vitamin-plus, economical vegetable, cabbage, and in a way that the most skeptical eater will appreciate.

• • •

SHERRIED CABBAGE FONDUE is made with one quart chopped raw cabbage, one tablespoon instant minced onion, one teaspoon sugar, one - third cup mayonnaise or salad dressing, one-fourth cup chopped pimiento, two teaspoons prepared mustard, one - fourth cup slivered almonds, eight slices enriched bread, crusts removed, three eggs, one - and one - half cups milk, one - third cup one teaspoon salt, one-eighth Sherry, one teaspoon salt, one -eight teaspoon pepper, and one half teaspoon paprika.

• • •

COMBINE cabbage, onion and sugar in a (2 quart) saucepan with enough water to cover. Cover and bring to a boil; simmer for three minutes. Drain well.

Stir mayonnaise, pimiento, mustard and almonds into drained cabbage. Cut bread slices into halves. Arrange 8 half - slices of bread in a greased (8 inch) square baking dish. Spread cabbage mixture over bread; top with remaining half - slices of bread.

Beat eggs and milk together; add Sherry, salt and pepper and pour over bread and cabbage. Sprinkle paprika over top. Bake in a moderate oven (30 degrees F.) for forty - five minutes or until puffed and lightly browned.

Yield: 8-9 servings.

Deviled Tuna

Noodles or rice are well - known underliners for creamed fish, but some fast cereals are surprisingly good, too.

One of the better examples is shredded wheat. Besides being a nutritional bargain, this cereal, like other breakfast cereals, is inexpensive, convienient, adds flavor and texture.

When being served in this manner, you simply crush shredded wheat biscuits, either the round, oblong or spoon size, and stir the cereal into melted butter. Season with a little salt. Spread into a pan and cover with a piquant tuna or salmon sauce, such as devilled tuna casserole: good contrast in texture.

DEVILED TUNA CASSEROLE is made with cup butter or margarine, 1/4 cup finely chopped onion, 2 tablespoons flour, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1½ cups milk, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon prepared horseradish, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, 2 cans (7 ounces each) tuna broken into chunks, 2 hard - cooked eggs, sliced, 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento, and 1½ cups crushed shredded wheat.

Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in saucepan. Add onion and cook until tender. Blend in flour and teaspoon salt. Add milk; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened.

Stir in lemon juice, horseradish and mustard. Fold in tuna, eggs, and pimiento. Melt remaining 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in fry pan. Stir in shredded wheat sprinkle with ⅓ teaspoon salt.

Oyster and Ham Noodle Bake

A good way to use leftover ham is with oysters in a noodle bake.

This recipe calls for a half cup chopped cooked ham, a fourth cup chopped onion, two tablespoons butter or margarine, a can (10 ounces) frozen condensed oyster stew.

A dash of Tabasco sauce, a half cup milk, two tablespoons flour, one and a half cups cooked green noodles and grated Parmesan cheese.

• • •

BROWN HAM and cook onion in butter until onion is tender. Add oyster stew and Tabasco sauce, Heat until thawed.

Make smooth paste of milk and flour. Pour into soup mixture. Simmer three to four minutes, stir constantly until thick and smooth. Do not boil.

Combine sauce and hot noodles in one - quart casserole. Sprinkle cheese on top. Place under broiler for five minutes or until browned on top.

Say students need guidance in sex

NEW YORK (WMNS) — College - age men and women, struggling in late adolescence to complete their biological, emotional and sexual development, need explicit guidance to help them develop standards of responsible sexual behavior.

They do not now, by and large, receive such guidance from college administrators or other adults.

THIS IS one of the observations made in a recent report, "Sex and the College Student," prepared by a committee of the Group for the Advancement of Psychiatry (GAP) and endorsed by its 200 members. Although addressed to college officials the report also offers helpful guidelines to parents.

It is highly advisable, the psychiatrists note, that parents not assume that if they ignore the sex needs of their youngsters, these needs will somehow disappear. College officials who ignore the existence of the sexual needs of their students invite problems for both the college and the student.

• • •

PARENTS AND colleges the psychiatrists caution, must recognize that standards of sexual morality and conduct are changing rapidly under the impact of recent scientific advances and cultural changes.

The double standard of morality, experts agree is rejected by many young people. They also recognize that the adult world is far from a consensus on what constitutes acceptable sexual behavior. "Adult attitudes frequently appear (to young people) to be based on conflicting values, lack of candor and failure to respond to new realities," the report notes.

• • •

SEX IS an evolving force that changes as people go through various phases of development. Throughout adolescence the individual is preparing himself for his adult sex role. "Behavior patterns on late adolescence are not necessarily permanent, they may express a temporary adaptation," the report observes.

Regulations must respect a student's privacy. But a student who flaunts his sexual behavior may disturb others, and therefore the college may be obliged to intervene. Sound rules concerning sexual behavior will take into account, the report notes, the student who needs to be protected from premature sexual experimentation as well as the more mature student whose development requires more freedom.

A&P KNOW WHEN OUR SHIP CAME IN?

In 1859.
That was the year an imaginative 26-year old, named George Huntington Hartford, had a brilliant idea.
The idea? Buy tea direct from the Orient by the clipper shipload.
Eliminate expensive in-between costs. Sell directly to the public, at great savings... a small profit.
1859...that's when our ship came in. That was the beginning. That's when our founder showed he cared about people.
Today, in keeping with that proud heritage, A&P is still dedicated to bringing the most good food, to the most people for the least amount of money.
Today, more than a century later, we can honestly say, "WE CARE...about you."
Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.
