Pin queen finds running is tougher than rolling

By SAM LACY

If business was as easy as bowling for Fern Scotland, things would be mush rosier on North Avenue.

That is the conclusion one must draw after visiting with the former local champion at the Walbrook Bowling Lanes, where she serves as a co-proprietor and manager.

• • •

"IT SEEMS to have reached a point where the small alleys simpy can't compete with the larger, more heavily - blacked plants," asserts Miss Scotland.

"You offer the same features, you provide all the modern equipment the other alleys have, and you do everything you can to promote regular league competition, but the participants dwindle more and more each week.

"My figures will bear me out when I say we have lost over 60 percent of our bowling patron over the past five years — or since the beginning of integration in the area bowling establishments."

• • •

"WHEREAS WALBROOK once had leagues operating five nights a week and two on Mondays, there are only two competing now. These are Monday and Tuesday night leagues.

"There was a time when we had some of the city's best bowlers playing here people like George Lee, Harvey Robinson and Rose Burnham. Now they play elsewhere.

• • •

"ONE OF the main problems," Miss Scotland goes on, "is in the youth. We can't seem to get youngsters interested in bowling.

"Our Saturday Morning Youth League produced a 16-18 boys' team last year that won the city title, but even that failed to generate the interest we had expected!".

• • •

ASIDE FROM her financial investment in the business, Fern has put a considerable amount of time and energy in playing and teaching the game.

She has a trophy room crammed with honors she has picked up in city and state competition over the past then years.

And the record of her boys' team in the 1963 youth competitions attests to her ability to teach.

The secret of being a good bowler, she says, concentration and practice, she rolls between three and nine games every day, polishing up her timing and converting spares.

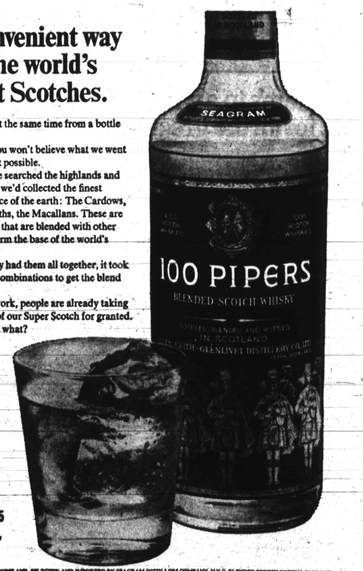
The convenient way to try the world's greatest Scotches.



Pour them all at the same time from a bottle of 100 Pipers.

It's so simple you won't believe what we went through to make it possible.

For 20 years we searched the highlands and the lowlands until we'd collected the finest whiskies on the face of the earth: The Cardows, the Tains, the Keiths, the Macallans. These are the prize whiskies that are blended with other fine whiskies to form the base of the world's greatest Scotches.

When we finally had them all together, it took no less than 530 combinations to get the blend we wanted.

After all that work, people are already taking the convenience of our Super Scotch for granted.

And you know what?

We're glad.
