Mrs. Alverta Bowie buried from Providence Thursday

Funeral services were held Thursday at noon at Providence Baptist Church for Mrs. Alverta McDaniel Bowie, 62, 2342 Reisterstown Rd., who died Monday at Sinai Hospital.

A Maryland Beauticians Board inspector, Mrs. Bowie is active in Arbutus Memorial Park.

The Rev. Marcus G. Wood, pastor of the church where Mrs. Bowie was a longtime member, presided at the services and at the graveside.

For burial Mrs. Bowie was robed in pale frost pink and reposed in a white metal casket. Since her favorite color was white, the Phillips Funeral Home, in charge of arrangements, provided a white hearse and white limousines for the family and close friends.

The family floral blanket was designed with white carnations and roses.

Mrs. Bowie had been ailing many months with a kidney condition. Physicians supplied artificial kidneys in a Saturday operation.

Mrs. Bowie was widely known as a longtime beautician before her retirement. She was also one of the founders of the Valiant Women, the Housewives organization that successfully aided in the election of Mrs. Verda Welcome to the House of Delegates and the state Senate.

She was also an early Woman Power member and ardent worker at the Providence church.

Surviving are her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin McDaniel; two sisters, Mrs. Luella Fedd, with whom she resided, and Mrs. Polly Thompson, Washington; two brothers, Sam and Lucius McDaniel; seven nieces, two nephews, and a godson.

Schmoke leads unbeaten City in quest of No. 16

City College, gunning for her 16th consecutive victory, takes on a rugged Mt. St. Joe eleven this afternoon (Friday) in what amounts to the top game of the Maryland Scholastic Association football weekend.

The Collegians, guided by their all-city quarterback, Kurt Schmoke, will be coming off an impressive win over Loyola, as they journey to the home field of the Mounts.

IN BEATING Loyola last week, incidentally, City received a spectacular effort from Schmoke.

The classy young senior quarterback tallied two touchdowns, passed for another TD and scored three 2-point conversions, thus having a hand in 24 of the points tallied by his team in its 30-0 triumph.

St. Joe could pose something of a problem in that she boasts a tough defense and appears to be improving with each game. After losing to Douglass in its opening game, the St. Joe eleven downed Patterson last week with little difficulty.

NEXT SATURDAY, City gets another test of her mettle. The champs [illegible] on Edmondson at Kirk Field.

The Redskins also are 1-1 on the season, having lost last week to Calvert Hall. However, is not supposed to cause great concern because Calvert Hall has one of the strongest teams in the area this fall and, like City, is undefeated. . .LACY.

Pupils from School 48 visit AFRO

Alumni award will delight Dr. Stokes

WILBERFORCE, Ohio — Dr. Rembert E. Stokes, president of Wilberforce University, will receive Boston University's alumni award for distinguished public service on Oct. 14 at the Sheraton-Plaza, Boston.

The award is given annually to a few graduates who have achieved an outstanding place in their chosen work and in the eyes of the community. Dr. Stokes, who received a bachelor of sacred theology degree from Boston University in 1943 and a doctor of theology degree in 1949, has been president of Wilberforce since 1956.

Tough Lion defense test for Colts

Their budding two-game win streak smashed by the Bears' powerful ground attack in a 27-17 setback in Chicago last Sunday, the Colts will attempt to regain their victory touch at the expense of Detroit Sunday in Memorial Stadium.

In order for the Colts to jack their record to 3-2 they'll have to penetrate one of football's finest defenses. The Lions traditionally have fielded tenacious defensive units with tackles Alex Karras and Roger Brown and linebacker Ernie Clark the key operators.

The Colts will have to flash more scoring punch than they have to date if they're going to whip Detroit.

THROUGH THEIR first contests the Colts have yet to cross the goal line in the opening quarter. Only a pair of field goals have saved them from being completely shut out. The Colts have spotted the opposition the first touchdown in each game.

"Sure," Baltimore offensive backfield coach Don McCafferty, "we'd like to get going earlier. We certainly realized how important it is to get the jump on the opposition. It's possible to turn the entire game in a different direction.

"Unfortunately, we've not only been unable to pick up that quick TD but we've given away three-two to Green Bay on interceptions and one to Chicago on a fumble. We're always digging from behind."

A PAIR of Baltimore receivers managed to shine through the gloom in Chicago. Split end Raymond Berry, in his twelfth season with the Colts, established a new NFL career record by hiking his air yardage to 8,492 via 84 yards on six receptions against the Bears. Bears.

And tight end John Mackey continued his long range assault on the enemy's end zone with a 79-yard catch-run tally in Wrigley Field. He's previously registered touchdowns on strikes of 83, 57 and 26 yards and is averaging 22.8 yards for his 15 catches.

Tan Sailor QB on beam with his 'fun' football

ARLINGTON, Va. — One might suppose that if John Thomas of the pro Football Virginia Sailors took his moonlighting vocation more seriously he might not be half as successful at it.

He couldn't care less that he's strangely enough, the only colored signal-caller in professional football (major or minor league) and despite the apparent fact that he's challenging to be the Atlantic Coast League's No. 1 passer, he's not kidding himself about getting a shot at the big time, this year or ever.

Thomas plays strictly, "For the fun of it," he laughs, and the cash doesn't hurt either, but it isn't a big factor.

THE 5-10, 185-pounder from Southern University had his best night of 1966 last Saturday evening when he bombed the (then) red-hot Jersey Jets by completing 11 of 25 passes for 225 yards and four touchdowns.

He now trails Jersey's Joe Namath, the AOFL's top passer and could catch him with another solid performance like he had last weekend.

Meanwhile, Thomas has more TD passes (17) and fewer interceptions (5) than any other quarterback in the 9-year-old minor pro circuit.

THOMAS, WHO works during the day as a playground leader for the District of Columbia Recreation Department, led the North American League in passing during 1965, leading the Sailors to a 9-2 mark and the title. His completion mark of 54.3 was tops yet he was the only NAFL quarter who had never seen the inside of a big league training camp.

The Sailor flinger scrambles like Fran Tarkenton. He's gained much poise and checkoff savvy in a short time. He can hit the long bomb and complete the safety valve toss better than any other ACFL passer.

BULLETS HOST LA:

D.C. All-American picked for pro cage inaugural

BALTIMORE
The acquisition of John Austin by the Baltimore Bullets, while not expected to work immediate wonders with the team, may eventually give the National Basketball Association another outstanding "find" from Washington (DC) schoolboy circles.

Austin was obtained early this week in a deal with the Boston Celtics, and will be on hand for tomorrow's (Saturday) opening of the National Basketball Association season at Civic center.

HELPING Baltimore get started on her 1966 pro cage campaign will be the Los Angeles Lakers, and coming in with them is Elgin Baylor, perhaps the biggest name in basketball to come out of the District of Columbia.

Baylor, a graduate of Washington's Spingarn High School, has joined Wilt Chamberlain, Oscar Robertson and other top Los stars in setting the basketball world on its ear.

Austin may crash his way into the select circle within a year or two.

JOHN WAS an All-American and Olympic star at DeMatha High in Hyattsville, just outside Washington. He was recruited by former Boston Celtic star Bob Cousy following graduation from DeMatha and enrolled at Boston College, where Cousy coaches.

JOHN AUSTIN

After three fine season at BC, Austin was named to the collegiate All-America squad and drafted No. 6 by the world champions.

Only a wealth of backcourt veterans on the Cletics enabled Baltimore to make a deal for the sharpshooting youngster.

COACH Mike Farmer and the Bullet staff is hopeful that the addition of Austin and the return of Don Ohl will pull the Bullets out of their doldrums.

Ohl, a holdout in salary dispute, came to terms with the club late Tuesday. He could help turn around the whole season for a Bullet five which lost eight of its first ten games on the exhibition wheel.

OPENING NIGHT fans will have an opportunity to see a completely renovated Bullet outfit in action.

Newcomers Austin, Leroy Ellis and Mel Counts are being worked into a unit that includes veterans Gus Johnson, Kevin Loughery, Ohl and Wayne Hightower.
