If YOU Ask ME

Election tips to remember

So, here it is three days before the Nov. 8 election, time to offer some tips, just in case you've forgotten.

You CAN remain behind the curtain and make your choices for a full four minutes . . . longer if you need to considering the large number of questions on the ballot.

You SHOULD vote early as soon as the polls open at 6 a.m. if possible. . .but certainly sometime between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. or you may find a line if you wait until the time nears the 7 p.m. closing hour.

You MAY take a sample ballot behind the curtain with you and consult it as you study the machine levers.

* * *

If you've forgotten how to vote, there is a sample ballot and machine in your polling place.

You HAVE a right to practice on the machine before you go in to vote.

If you happen to pull the wrong lever, do not panic.

You CAN correct your error, simply push the wrong lever back and pull down the correct one.

Remember, your vote is NOT registered until you open the curtain!

* * *

And, do remember, a good citizen is registered and votes. Now is the time to put your money where your mouth is. No one knows how to vote behind the curtain.

Make your choice and vote. After you leave the poll, encourage your neighbors to vote. Offer your car to an elderly or sick neighbor, but do VOTE.

P.S. — If you have a question about the voting machine or if you can not find the candidate or question you're looking for, ask the questions BEFORE you get behind the curtains. Attendants are NOT authorized to help you once you're inside.

Happy voting!

One more tip: If you have moved since the last election and have not changed your address at the Supervisors of Election, it is too late to do so now.

You must vote from your old address.

Don't let anyone turn you away.

You have the right to vote from your old polling place, according to the Supervisors of Elections.

People, places and things

It was a handsome group of Baltimoreans who journeyed to Washington on Friday evening for the annual Pigskin dinner-dance at the Statler-Hilton.

Seen about: Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. W. Paul Roller, Mr. and Mrs. William Morton, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Felton, Dr. and Mrs. Louis E. Harmon;

Also, Mr. and Mrs. James Phelps, Mrs. Connie Neal, Mrs. Mary Alston, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Brown, Mr. and Mrs. John de Cecilio, Dr. and Mrs. Albert Burwell, Mrs. Vivian Burnett and James T. Dorsey.

* * *

Leaf collection note: If you live in the area bounded by Garrison Blvd. and Liberty Heights, the sanitation department collects leaves on Nov. 7. Same date for collection in the area bordered by Gwynns Falls and Liberty Heights.

* * *

School note: Nov. 6-12 is American Education Week. Theme is 'Education Adds Up To human dignity.'

This is the week when parents and guardians are expected to visit their children's schools and find out how they can help teachers help their children.

This is important enough to take the time off from your job. A visit to Johnny's school NOW might be the thing which guides him on the right road.

* * *

Cuff note: Dr. Samuel Owings has extended his N. Carey St. office to 911, ("the house where I was born") He holds open house Satdee.

* * *

Open house is set Sunday from 3 to 9, for George Taylor's House of Flowers (2105 W. North).

Mr. Taylor is the talented florist who was formerly with Norman Holt, Raimondi's et al.

Now on his own, he plans specialty in oriental designs and the artistic.

His philosophy: 'People should not think of flowers only for sickness, funerals and weddings. Flowers can speak every day — with a thank you or an I love you etc.'

* * *

Notes : Mr. Taylor is a 1953 Douglass High grad and an Army vet. He belongs to St. Katherine's P.E. Church.

To show you how talented he is — costumes he designed won first ($100), and second prize ($50) at the Urban League Guild — Shaeffer Beaux Arts ball 'Neptune' and the Mermaid and Miss World). How about that!

More about people, things

St. James Episcopal Church's brand new pews were almost filled at 9:30, fifty a half hour before the scheduled solemn high eucharist on Sunday.

By 10 a.m., when the Rt. Rev. Cedric E. Mills, resplendent in his robes, walked down the main aisle, all of the 800 seats were filled, and there was standing room only.

Occasion was Bishop Mills' first visit in three years to the church where he pastored 16 years, and where he was consecrated as bishop of the Virgin Islands.

* * *

'Twas a glorious sight. There was much going on at St. James.

For example, the rector, Father Donald O. Wilson made a moving and memorable election appeal — urging members to get out and vote and to help others — and to vote for Mr. Agnew as governor.

There was Mrs. Agnew, wife of the gubernatorial candidate who occupied a rear seat and caused necks to crane as notice was taken of her presence. .

And, there was Mrs. Mills, (Rebecca), wife of the bishop, looking the picture of health.

Both she and the Bishop have glorious suntans and they look as though the balmy Caribbean weather has agreed with them.

Their son, Damon, now Dr. Damon Mills, is a practicing physician in California, where he and his family settled recently.

* * *

Memorable moment at the luncheon honoring Bishop and Mrs. Mills at the Sheraton, he acknowledged the standing ovation, and then turned to his wife, and asked that she come forward to share the gifts. Isn't that just like him!

Reunions like this give one an opportunity to learn of hidden talents.

The toastmaster was this newspaper's president, John H. Murphy 3rd, a real wit.

* * *

This funny one brought laughter from the 500 guests:

'Father Mills, as you know, was always on the scene when there was an emergency — you could depend on him.

'It got so, he traveled so fast, there was thought of naming Gwynns Falls Parkway Mills Rd.

'One day, he was stopped by an officer. When he saw he was a clergyman, he sent him on with the admonition, 'drive safely, Father.'

'Not so fortunate was his assistant, Father Fox. He was flagged down by an officer.

'When he identified himself as Father Fox, the officer quipped, 'I don't care if you're Mother Goose, you were speeding, and you have a ticket!'"

* * *

Among out-of-towners here: William DaCosta of the Howard University faculty; and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ellis, also of Washington.

* * *

Seen in the crowd: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young (Bob and Alice). They were looking oh so happy.

Special reason: Their one and only, Bob Jr., is now an interne at Sinai Hospital here.

He finished Howard Medical School in June (on the 28th wedding anniversary of his parents).

He is married too. His wife is the former Wilhelmina Howard of Rockville, Md., a U. of Md. music school grad.

Cuff note: Mrs. Ruth E. Grant, the Richfond teacher who was buried last week, was the sister of Baltimore's Mrs. Helen Fleming, Mrs. Janie Cosby and Mrs. Ora Coles.

A bit about this and that

Happy birthday cards to William Arthur Jones, 1219 W. Lafayette Ave.

He is the retired postal employee and longtime Prince Hall Mason, who marks his 90th birthday on Nov. 7.

* * *

More birthdays: Nov. 7 cards for Mrs. Leah Patterson, 2746 W. Mosher. She's a good neighbor.

Same day hellos to another good neighbor, Mrs. Bernard Harris Sr., 1207 N. Carroline.

* * *

November is time for two celebrations in the family of the Rev. Mr. Clayton, mentioned above. He and his wife observe their 32nd wedding anniversary on Nov. 8.

* * *

Get-well quick cards to William B. Day, the veteran employment bureau executive. He had surgery at Provident Hospital.

Continue get-well cards to William Keene who is on the USS Shangri-La, CVA 38.

A verse for the week

This verse of the week is by Lee Fisher:—

A careful man I want to be
A little fellow follows me;
I do not dare to go astray
For fear he'll go the selfsame way.
I cannot once escape his eyes;
Whate'er he sees me do, he tries;
Like me he says he's going to be—
The little fellow who follows me.
He thinks that I am good and fine
Believes in every word of mine;
The base in me he must not see—
The little fellow who follows me.
I must remember as I go
Through summer's sun and winter's snow,
I am building for the year that be
For that little chap who follows me.

President Johnson to undergo surgery

President Johnson announced Thursday he will undergo abdominal and throat surgery within 15 days and he must cut down on his activities in advance of the operation.

Johnson, who returned Wednesday night from a 31,500-mile trip to Asia, personally read a statement to newsmen disclosing plans for the operation.

He said he would enter the hospital for repair of a "defect" at the site of his gall bladder operation 13 months ago and for the removal of a small polyp on his right vocal chord.

Dr W. J. Gould, a New York specialist who examined the President, told newsmen that a polyp ordinarily is not malignant but that Johnson's would be examined immediately after its removal. A polyp is a projecting mass of swollen or tumorous tissue.

The President said that his doctors had ordered a "reduced schedule of activity" and that he would leave Friday for his Texas ranch to rest.

* * *

THERE WAS no prior hint of Johnson's surprise announcement. Newmen had been told only that there would be a White House news briefing on his weekend travel plans at 3:30 p.m. EST.

When they were summoned to the cabinet room, they found Johnson wearing a dark gray suit and smiling at reporters as he rocked back and forth in his big leather swivel chair while waiting for them all to enter.

Sitting alone at the table, he exchanged pleasantries with a few newsmen and then read a brief statement disclosing his physical problems and plans for surgery.

* * *

SHORTLY AFTER Johnson informed newsmen of the planned operation, Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers announced that the President would hold a news conference Friday at 10 a.m. EST, and it would be available for live telecast and broadcast.

* * *

THE PRESIDENT gave no indication of any physical trouble earlier in the day. During a morning bill-signing ceremony at the White House, he stood at a podium and declared exuberantly: "This is a great day for me. It's good to be back."

There had been reports during the day that Johnson had issued a "hold order" on a projected weekend campaign trip until he received the results of a post-Asian medical examination.

Reports from leading local Democrats across the country Thursday indicated that Johnson had planned to visit Massachusetts, Illinois, Minnesota, Wyoming, Oregon, California, Utah, Arizona, New Mexico, Kansas Texas and perhaps Washington State in a final campaign swing before Tuesday's election.

U.S. checking on Camichael

The Justice Department reportedly is investigating dissenter Stokely Carmichael to see if he has broken any laws in his vigorous opposition to the Viet Nam war.

Carmichael, a leader in the "Black power" movement, said recently he would rather go to prison than enter the military, if he is reclassified I-A and drafted. His present status is I-y, meaning he does not meet all physical and mental standards for the draft.

Carmichael's recent statements were undergoing a routine check following a demand from Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss. that the Department move against Carmichael whose remarks he said, bordered on treason.

AJC head denies Jews are part of 'backlash'

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Morris B. Abram, president of the American Jewish Committee (AJC), said Saturday night few Jews are participating in the so-called White Backlash.

"Jews, as history's classic persecuted minority, cannot contend that any minority is striving too hard for equality or achieving its rights too fast," Abram said.

* * *

"THE REASON for this Jewish predisposition for civil rights is obvious," Abram said in a speech for delivery at the annual dinner meeting of the AJC's executive board.

Abram, a New York attorney and U.S. representative on the United Nations human rights commission, said "the portion of Jews who are backlashing is much smaller than that of Catholics or Protestants."

* * *

SLOGANS USED against colored citizens, Abram said, might some day be used on Jews. The said these slogans sterotype a whole group on the basis of the acts of a few or proclaim man must wait for a divine hereafter to enjoy human dignity.

Abram called on all Americans in the North to resist the backlash. Sharing the platform with Abram was Representative Charles L. Weltner of Atlanta, who predicted that the segregationist resurgence in the South will last another four years.

Hit by egg- hurler, boy's eye injured

WINDFALL, N. C. (UPI)—The State Bureau of Investigation was checking a report Tuesday a 16-year-old boy was hit in the face with an egg containing lye Halloween night. Medical authorities, however, said there was no evidence lye was used.

The boy, Johnny Miller, son of Mrs. Ethel Lee Miller of Windfall, was taken to a hospital in Washington, N. C. physicians said his left eye was bruised and there was a "chance" it would suffer permanent damage. "He has a fairly good chance for recovery," one physican said.

The Rev. F. L. Andrews, president of the Hertford Chapter of the National Association For the Advancement of Colored People, said the egg "contained a solution mixed with lye" and that it caused "total blindness." Doctors said this was untrue.

* * *

THE PERQUIMANS County sheriff's office said the boy was walking beside a road on his way home from a Halloween party at the Windfall Grammar School between 8:30 and 9:30 p.m. a car drove by and someone threw the egg, hitting Miller in the face, the sheriff's office said.

Doctors said the injury to the boy's eye was caused by the "weight of the egg" much the same as if he had been hit in the eye with a snowball.

Gov. Dan Moore's office said it had received a report of the incident by telephone and the FBI was "investigating."
