FIRST KAINIT CARGO HERE

Steamer Caldonier Brings It From Deposits in Alsace

The Belgium steamer Caldonier came into port yesterday from Antwerp with the first cargo of kainit brought here or to any port in the United States since 1914, when the German potash syndicate had to give up business at this port. The cargo is consigned to H. J. Baker & Bro. It will be delivered to fertilizer manufacturers.

The kainit in the Caldonier comes from mines in Alsace, formerly controlled by the Germans. Following the Caldonier is another steamer filled with kainit. She is expected to sail from Antwerp within a few days for Baltimore for the Baker Co. which expects to receive all its imports at this port. The company has been made sole agent in the United States of the Provisional Bureau of Sales in France for the sale of potash in the United States, which means that that firm hereafter will distribute all potash from the mines of Alsace.—From Baltimore Sun.

The Peerless & Hubbard Fertilizer Companies were among the few manufacturers receiving potash on the S. S. Caldonier. The Peerless Co. now has a barge unloading kainit and muriate of potash at their plant here, which will be used in their goods this fall. Mr. Hubbard stated that the general branches of The Hubbard Fertilizer Co. and the Peerless had bought altogether about eight thousand tons of various grades of Alsatian potash to arrive between now and Mar. 31, 1920. —The Chestertown Transcript.

HOME-COMING CELEBRATION A BIG SUCCESS

Greatest Crowd In History Of Chestertown Here To Honor Our Returned Soldiers

The Home-Coming Celebration in honor of our returned soldiers was the greatest event in the recent history of Chestertown. Our oldest residents say they can remember no event that brought such a multitude to Chestertown as the crowd which came on last Thursday to pay a just tribute to the returned soldiers who did what they were called upon to do in the world's supreme crisis. It is impossible to estimate such a throng of people with any degree of accuracy, but there must have been somewhere between eight and ten thousand people here from all parts of Kent, while many were here from Queen Anne's and the other counties.

The town presented a beautiful appearance decked in full holiday dress with American flags and bunting while numerous "welcome home" signs all over the town gave out their mute but eloquent tokens.

The day was an ideal one for the big event. Late retirers on Wednesday predicted bad weather for the next day and on Thursday morning "Old Sol" rose in a sea of fog. But, before noon, however, the sun had ploughed its way through the fog and rode clear in the skies, with a gentle breeze blowing form the south, and the mercury climbed toward the century mark as the town filled with enthusiastic and patriotic people. And the ideal weather continued throughout the day, a bright moon lending its beauty to the scene when evening had let its mantel fall over the town.

The first event in the day's celebration was the exhibition baseball game between Centreville and Kennedyville. The largest crowd in the history of the new athletic field was present and saw Centreville win 2 to 0. The game was a good one, and developed into a pitcher's battle between Perry and Gordy. Perry pitched a remarkable game, allowing one hit and only one other man reaching first. His twirling was perhaps a record here. Almost as good was Gord's pitching. He allowed but two hits and struck out twelve men, but was not supported quite so good as was his opponent and made two wild pitches.

While the baseball game was in progress the colored parade, accompanied by the Cambridge band, was held. Ninty-five young colored men were in the parade, led by Early Green, who put the boys through some good stunts to the enjoyment of those who witnessed them. The parade started at the colored school on College Avenue and went through the streets of the town to Nicholson's Grove, at the foot of Cross street, where a sumptuous supper was served them. After the same a big dance was held at the K. of P. Hall on Calvert street. Rev. J. W. Johns, pastor of Janes M.E. Church Chestetrown, had charge of the colored celebration and it was a big success.

At about 4.30 the white parade, led by Capt. G. Allan Jarman, as Major, with his staff all mounted on horseback, and followed by a decorated car driven by Mr. O. C. Smith and bearing Messrs. Earle Duyer, W. F. Russell, Jr., Page Comegys and Martin Ten Hoor, carrying the colors, had formed near the college and marched through the town, followed by the soldiers in cars, Gaul's Band furnishing the music. About sixty-five autos were in the parade and over 150 soldiers. The parade was a big success. Many autos were trimmed in an attractive fashion. At the conclusion of the parade some good music was rendered on the green and several short speeches made. Memorials were here presented to relatives of the soldiers who had made the supreme sacrifice during the conflict.

At the conclusion of these exercises the largest supper in the town's history was served. The ladies and gentlemen had been tireless in preparing a sumptuous repast and the event proved that nothing had been omitted. The tables were decorated by Golden Glow, a beautiful yellow flower from many Chestertown homes. About 200 suppers were served the soldiers, and like the parable of the "loaves and the fishes," there was enough left to feed many more and many of those who had been so useful in preparing for the event, enjoyed a fine supper served by charming ladies in an inimitable fashion. What was left was sold at auction by Mr. Jack Jester.

In the evening Mr. Bond, of Baltimore county, thrilled a large audience in the square with a patriotic address, in which he paid a just and fitting tribute to our boys from Kent county. Ex-Judge Pearce made the introductory speech.

Following the speaking, which was interspersed by music, fine dancing was enjoyed on a specially constructed floor on the square, which lasted until about 12 o'clock.

The affair was a big succes and not an accident or mishap occurred to mar the occasion, which will go down in the history of the town as an event never to be forgotten.

TRACTOR

Disk Harrow
LEVERLESS

Not a lever on the harrow. Automatically operated from the tractor. The operator backs his harrow into any angle he desires this being done with a sliding hitch held in the stub tongue.

Can back up any time. If you run too far in a fence corner or for any other reason wish to back up a few feet, you can do so by reversing your tractor. The harrow will take care of itself by automatically straightening the gauge as the harrow comes back. No stop for wet spots. If there is a wet spot in your field you need not go around. Simply pull on the ropes which hang from the tractor seat and the disk gauge straighten up automatically, rolling through the wet ground without turning the soil. Construction is strong and durable. Turns corners easy. One on our floor can be seen and examined. Come in.

Yours to serve,

Davis & Satterfield,
