Mrs. Pollard gets advisory post

Mrs. Margaret B. Pollard, a health educator with the Baltimore Maternity Center, has been named consultant in health education for the city's Comprehensive Health Services for Children and Youth Project 606.

A former resident of North Carolina, Mrs. Polard lives at 3720 Ferndale Ave. She holds the master's degree in science of public health.

She will assist health centers throughout the city in developing health education programs.

Before cominv to Baltimore, she was employed by the public health service of Washington, D.C.

Lawson estate was $23,827

Mrs Willie Mae Lawson, who died here April 20, 1966, left an estate of $23,827.91 according to papers filed in Orphans Court.

Mrs. Lawson was survived by three sisters and three brothers, including Mrs. Cathryn E. Phifer of this city; Mrs. Hazel Jacobs of Greensboro, N.C. and Miss Viola Barnum, who is stationed at Vandenburg Air Force Base in California;

Also Robert Graves, Herbert Graves, and William T. Graves of Greensboro, N.C.

The estate consists of her home at 3301 Woodlawn Ave., inventoried at $9,500, and which has now been sold to Mr. and Mrs. James W. Wells for $11,500; a Mustang car sold to Mr. and Mrs. Sidney E. Phifer for $1,500; and cash in the Maryland National Bank, $10,827.91.

Mrs. Lawson also had a joint bank account with Mrs. Barnum amounting to $4,401.29.

Tried to enlist; was rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A young man who cut grass at Arlington National Cemetery told Congress Tuesday he tried to serve in the U.S. Armed Forces, but couldn't.

"I failed the mental," he said.

Morris Bunche, who dropped out of school in the 10th grade, testified before a Senate Labor Subcommittee which is studying the impact of the draft on manpower programs.

Bunche, 21, who grew up in Orangeburg, S.C. was one of three men who told similar stories about how they volunteered for military services and were rejected. All said they had wanted to resume their education while in service.

Klan Kludd get receive notice of banishment

GREENSBORO, N.C. (UPI) — Grand Dragon J. Robert Jones Wednesday notified Imperial Kludd George Dorsett and two supporters that they are scheduled to receive a Ku Klux Klan trial May 13 on charges that resulted in banishment of the trio.

Jones told Dorsett, Greensboro area Titan Clyde Webster and James (Catfish) Cole by certified mail they would receive a hearing at Klavern One in Salisbury, Jones' home unit.

Dorsett said he doubted he would attend the hearing because it would be "illegal." He said he could only be tried by a Klokland, an investigating committee, of his own unit, the Guilford County Klavern.

Methodist youths to be Alaskan missionaires

Combining physical work, sight-seeing and the opportunity to share in Alaskan hospitality, about 25 Methodist young people from the Baltimore Conference will have an opportunity to be missionaries to Alaska, July 6-27.

The fourth annual "Mission Project" of the Methodist Youth Fellowship will devote two weeks hard work, improving a church campsite near Juneau; tackling such tasks as clearing land, digging foundations, laying cement block, building a chapel or painting buildings already erected.

The local young people will be teamed with an equal or larger number of Alaska Methodist youth for the work project, and for glacier hiking; visits to Methodist-sponsored Jesse Lee Home and the Alaska Methodist University at Anchorage.

The Rev. W. Edward Neighoff, director of youth work for the Baltimore Conference, 516 N. Charles St., is receiving applications.

It is expected that many congregations will give financial assistance to those of their young people who may be selected for the mission.

April proclaimed Diabetic Month

Dr. Abraham Silver, president of the Diabetes Association spoke at the opening observance of "Diabetes Month," that was held April 7 (today) at the Parkville Junior High School.

The Diabetes Association has initiated a drive to raise funds for a children's camp in Glyndon, for diabetic children between the ages of 5 and 15.

Dr. Silver said the drive will not be a door to door campaign but will depend on public collections.

Mrs. E. L. Herbst, whose daughter, Joyce Anne, has diabetes, has initiated a penny drive to raise funds for the camp. During April, members of the Diabetes Association will solicit funds.

Moore transfers superintendents
