Gypsy Joe Harris gets second call

PHILADELPHIA

Gypsy Joe Harris, who missed out on a chance to fight Curtis Cokes for the welterweight title when the promoter couldn't come up with enough cash, will be back in the small time against Miguel Barreto here Thursday night.

Cokes signed to meet Harris in Dallas last month, but the boxing commission stepped in and called off the bout because of irregularities by the promoter.

A COURT order was filed to make Cokes and Harris fight, but when it was time for the weigh-in Gypsy was back home in Philadelphia shooting pool.

"I couldn't make the weight anyway," said the undefeated Harris.

Barreto and Harris are both young fighters who are among the brightest prospects in the welterweight division.

Beaning try charge made by Sox's Scott

CHICAGO (UPI) —George Scott, first baseman of the Boston Red Sox, Sunday charged that he was deliberately hit by righthander Fred Klages in the first game of a doubleheader against the Chicago White Sox.

Scott was plunked on the left elbow in the fifth inning immediately after Carl Yastrzemski hit the first of two solo homers in a 4-3 Boston victory.

"I heard (Eddie) Stanky yell from the dugout," said Scott after the game, "telling Klages to hit me."

BOSTON manager Dick Williams declined, however, to return the compliment.

"I am a manager who believes in letting his pitchers protect his hitters," commented Williams, "but I told (Gary) Bell not to retaliate. This is too important a time, and there is too much at stake to get into a beanball throwing contest."

2 new coaches added H.U. starts grid season

Thirty five players, including 18 letternen, are expected to report to Coach Tilman Sease at 9 a.m. Friday, when Howard University begins pre-season drills for its 74th year of varsity football.

The Bisons will work out twice daily in preparation for the season opener, a Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association contest with Virginia State College, Sept. 23 at Petersburg, Va.

Six backs are among the lettermen expected to be on hand Friday. They include quarterback Curtis Simmons; halfbacks Henry Edwards, Randolph Jenkins and Terry Brandon; and fullbacks Harold Ford and Joel Mungo.

The returning linemen who earned their letters last year include centers Leon Johnson and Arthur Thompson; guards Clyde Mason, Earl Phillips and Timothy Moore; tackles Forest Cherry and Stanley Browne; and ends Harold Orr, Godfrey Revis, Donald Ware and Ronald Lassiter.

TWO COACHES have been added to the Howard staff. They are Ronald McKnight, a graduate of Winston-Salem College, and John Organ, a graduate of Virginia State College.

Prior to coming to Howard, McKnight was director of a Community Youth Center in Washington. Organ was head football coach at Dunbar High School in Lynchburg, Va.

Law needed

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — Gov. Richard J. Hughes said Friday federal laws restricting the purchase of guns would have lessened the nation's urban racial riots this summer.

Lack of such a federal law is hurting New Jersey, the governor told 700 delegates to the national convention of the Italian-American War Veterans of the U.S.

INTERESTING

It is every day a person runs into someone as interesting as Kenny Hamber. He appeared at the Black Jack Club last week along with LaVern Baker.

With Kenny was the band. Members are Denny Wells, trombone; Craig Seman, trumpet; James Gilliard, bass; Randy Phifer, drummer; Warren Garrison, tenor sax and also former Morgan student (A. Phi Ques ought to remember him, yes); and Timmy Boone, piano.

His manager is Roy Gunther, arranger and writer is Paul Johns and producer and writer is Eddie Walters.

KENNY IS a good ole home town boy. Didn't know that did you. Well, most don't. Kenny struggled for five years before he broke into records with hits.

You remember "Show Me Your Monkey" don't you.

To begin with, this ambitious young man use to work around WSID and met up with Bill "Sparky" Mullen, remember him.

Later on, Fat Daddy heard him sing in a local night
