LOCAL MATTERS

Corn Damaged by Storm.—The corn crop of Kent county has been somewhat damaged by the storm of Wednesday, by being blown over, in some cases nearly to the ground. It will require considerable more work to cut the crop and be a great inconvenience to our farmers.

Field Day At Tolchester.—Saturday, August 23, will be Farmers' Field Day at Tolchester. Every farmer in Kent, Queen Annes and Cecil counties is invited to be present. Oliver Wilson, representative of the National Grange; T. C. Atheson, Washington representative of the National Grange; and B. John Black, master of Maryland State Grange, will be present and will speak on subjects of vital interest to farmers.

Another Plant Destroyer At Large.—Gardeners in Kent have had their lima bean vines damaged by green clover worm. If this worm is half as bad as its scientific name, the "Plathypena scabra Fabr," which is reported in large numbers in Eastern Shore counties, it will probably cause the farmers of this county considerable anxiety. This is not the first invasion of the pest in this section. It first appeared in this section in 1899.

New Books For The Library.—The following new books have been added to the Chestertown Public Library: Nancy Lee's Lookout, by Margaret Wade; Jim, Story of a Backwoods Police Dog, by Mayor Charles Roberts; Private Wire To Washington, by Harold MacGrath; Judith of Blue Lake Ranch, by Jackson Gregory; His Friend Miss McFarlane, By Kate L. Bosher; The Hills of Desire, by Richard A. Maher; Three Boys In The Indian Hills, by W. G. Phillips; The Cup of Fury, by Rupert Hughes.

Some Honest People Remain.—Dr. S. S. Hepburn lately traveled from Albany, N. C., to Springfield, Mass. As he was delaying the car at the latter place he felt a touch on his arm and looking around he saw a pleasant faced girl about 14 years old. "Mister," she said, "you dropped this in your seat." It was a leather purse, containing a ten dollar gold piece and small change, together with valuable keys. Dr. Hepburn was in such haste to make a change of cars he could not express properly his thanks or get the girl's address.

A Strange Mission.—Chas. W. Wood, a New York newspaper man, has sailed on the Steamer Empress on one of the most remarkable assignments since Jason set out to find the Golden Fleece. "Visit every country on earth and find out what the people want." This commission was given Wood by the Centenary Committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church. It may take him 20 years. This trip will take him all over the world and his mission is to not merely write up the missions, but to interpret the needs of each country as expressed by its leaders in every walk of life.

Some Fine Peaches In Kent.—The peach seems to be "coming back" in Kent county. There was a time when growing sections in the world, but the growing counties in the world, but the yellows and other diseases peculiar to this fruit caused the orchards to die out. The industry seems to be gaining new life in this county, and modern scientific methods have caused some of the finest peaches to be raised in Kent this year that have been grown since the peach industry thrived in this section, and there is some talk among many farmers of trying out the peach industry again.

Unlawful To Kill Robins.—State Game Warden E. Lee LeCompte has issued a warning to gunners not to shoot robins, which are under the protecting wing of the federal government. Robin pot pie will not be so plentiful in Maryland this year as in years gone by. The Conservation Commission of New York has taken the lead in the protection of this popular bird. Through the federal authorities the commission has administered a lesson costing $500 in the form of a penalty imposed on John Verza, of Marlboro, N. C., that robins are not a legal article of food in New York State.

Arrested For Taking Auto.—Sheriff Carter and Deputy Sheriff Mark Perkins arrested George Kismick, formerly of Rock Hall, but more recently of Philadelphia, on Monday, charged with taking an auto from Lieut. Berger, of the 49th Ambulance Company, in which company Young Kismick enlisted, and also accused of taking the car of a girl with whom he was keeping company, and several other things. He appeared at Rock Hall and was arrested there for operating a car without a license and brought to Chestertown jail, where the officers say he confessed that he was guilty of the various hharges. Kismick is 24 years of age.

Captain Kibler Home, But Gone Again.—Captain J. Thomas Kibler arrived in Chestertown Saturday night and was the center of an admiring group of friends. Captain Kibler looked every inch the athlete he is, although he was gassed, wounded and spent several months in the French hospitals. But his stay in Chestertown was for but a few hours, and on Sunday morning he left for Texas, where he hopes to receive his discharge. He was in the big parade in New York on Friday last, where regiments of soldiers who blocked the road to Paris against the German hordes paraded up Fifth Avenue. Captain Kibler says the sidewalks were jammed for miles and that regimental flags for a century had waved on every battlefield where Americans fought were waved to greet them. In the parade were 25,000 men and they marched in close formation. We hope to see Capt. Kibler home again soon.

Former Chestertown Couple Injured.—Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Temple were run down by a speeding auto recently and terribly mangled. Mr. Temple, who is employed at Traymore Hotel, with his wife, had been storlling on the board walk at Atlantic City, and while waiting in a safety zone for a trolley to go home were struck by a speeding auto. The body of Mrs. Temple was dragged for a distance of 30 feet or more. Mrs. Temple sustained a fractured skull, four broken ribs, a broken collar bone, a dislocated hip, and a compound fracture of one of her limbs. Mr. Temple had a limb broken in two places, above and below the knee, a broken collar bone and badly lacerated and bruised. Last reports received by friends in town stated that the chances of Mrs. Temple's recovering were slim, while Mr. Temple's condition was not thought to be very alarming. Mrs. Temple, before her marriage, was Mrs. Jeter and conducted the Hotel Imperial of this town. Mr. Temple is the only brother of Mrs. A. W. Carmine, of Philadelphia.
