DEMOCRATS, remember, if you don't register next Tuesday, Sept. 2, you cannot vote for a Chief Judge at the primary election Monday, Sept. 8.

ALBERT C. RITCHIE, candidate for Governor, Thomas J. Keating, candidate for Attorney-General, and E. Brooke Lee, candidate for Comptroller, will be at Ocean City, Md., Saturday evening and Sunday and will be glad to see and talk with the people of the shore. All who can do so should call and see these Democratic State candidates.

CHIEF JUDGE, WILLIAM H. ADKINS

In the nomination for Chief Judge of the Second Judicial Circuit, which embraces Cecil, Kent, Queen Annes, Caroline and Talbot counties, Kent is deeply interested in the retention of Judge Adkins on the bench. He is singularly equipped for this position. A gentleman, a scholar and a Christian man, whose knowledge of the law as well as his daily example of the moral doctrines taught by the Bible and by Christianity, all strongly affect his character and mind as well as his judgment. They have enabled him to administer law and justice with an even mind and well balanced judgment. It is an honor to these counties to be represented by such a man on the bench of the Court of Appeals. He has shown for thirteen years that he is possessed of that rare quality, rare even among the best lawyers—a cool judicial mind.

He is a man of strong convictions, tenacious in upholding his honest judgment as to the merits of every case on trial before him; yet, if, on the other hand, he be convinced an error has been made he has never hesitated to admit the error and correct it so that no injustice should be done to any party interested. This is a rare quality, possessed by few men, and few judges are able so to divest themselves of the pride of opinion, so common among men, and promptly ratify a wrong.

The fact that our judges are removed from daily and intimate contact with their fellow citizens, the very fact that they are not expected by men to be one of and in the crowd, that strong but uniform opinion which has ever hedged around the judiciary so that their whole time and whole lives must be devoted to the administration of justice, rather than to the seeking of popularity by the personal solicitation of votes, places Judge Adkins in such a position in this primary that it has been impossible for him to do his duty as a judge and at the same time visit around and make personal appeals to his fellow citizens. Yet every one knows his ambition is to be re-elected Chief Judge. That if it were deemed proper by legal traditions and thoughtful men for him to conduct himself as do other candidates who have never sat on the Bench, and who are therefore not bound by judicial conventionalities, his campaign would be handled by him with signal ability whereas now only his friends can speak in his behalf.

In Kent County particularly he deserves the vote of every thoughtful citizen. When Judge Lewin W. Wickes was appointed Associate Judge the entire county approved of his selection and with unusual unanimity gave him, regardless of faction, united support. It was generally thought there would be other candidates for Judge Wickes' place, but none have appeared. Both these judges had known each other at the Bar and on the Bench; recognizing the merit of each other they promised, we understand, they would give their undivided and generous support each to the other. Talbot Co., we are told, was unanimous for Judge Wickes, as were Judge Adkins' friends in the other counties, and it was agreed between them and their friends, we have been told, that they would support each other in the primary and in the general election in November.

Let the voters of Kent county remember this and at the same time do not lose an upright judge by failing to go to the polls on Monday, September 8, and give Judge Adkins your cordial and firm support and thus acknowledge by so doing that we have a man and judge, in Judge Adkins, worthy of being retained in the place he now occupies with so much honor and dignity in our highest court. Let us, in return for his services, do our best to retain him where he is most useful to the county, the district and the state.
