Design Center Gives Free Aid In Urban Renewal Planning

planners and other professionals who live in the Baltimore area have organized what they call the Neighborhood Design Center.

The NDC was organized for the purpose of providing planning and architectural services on a no-fee, volunteer basis to neighborhood and community groups who couldn't otherwise afford them.

NDC volunteers have provided assistance to numerous groups in many ways. For instance, in the Reservoir Hill area an NDC volunteer assisted a community group in developing plans for converting the old Norwegian Seamans' Home into a multi-service community center. These plans were submitted to the city and recently approved.

The Riggs Avenue Improvement Association has requested volunteers to help with a planning study for the entire community. With the plans they hope to find coordinated ways to work on some of the problems and also stabilize the neighborhood.

Under construction now is the Project Exit Drug Abuse Center. The plans for the renovation of an old rectory on East Eager St. were developed by an NDC volunteer architect.

Similarly, NDC volunteers have helped or are helping 40 neighborhood or community groups on jobs that these groups have felt to be important.

In addition, to begin shortly is a training program which has been coordinated by the Neighborhood Design Center. It will utilize funds from the Concentrated Employment Program, the Urban League and various architectural and planning offices.

Twenty participants are now being recruited for the 16 month program. Private architectural and engineering offices and public planning agencies have agreed to assist by providing jobs for the trainees in their offices.

These projects are examples of a serious and growing commitment to solving some of the problems in Baltimore communities.

Bill Gillitt, an NDC volunteer who is also a planner for the Baltimore City Planning Department, describes NDC's role this Organization District/Planning efforts that the city provides and the services that the NDC provides, is that the NDC volunteers, due to their independence from the bureaucracy, have that much more credibility with the neighborhoods, and are more able to elicit their confidence and trust.

"One of the obstacles that the NDC can help to overcome is the alienders."

tion of the neighborhoods from the city government that has developed over the years due to the past bulldozer tactics of urban renewal and highway building.

The Neighborhood Design Center had its roots in 1968 when a number of professionals were working with community groups on their own time in a few scattered areas. The need for their services increased, and in an attempt to organize their efforts they rented an office last June on Park Heights Ave. In September they relocated in a row-house office on East Biddle St. near Calvert, where they now have a full-time operation.

A staff of five people coordinates the work for the volunteers. Mrs. Doris Johnson, a life-time resident of Baltimore who now lives near Clifton Park, acts as a community contact, and usually attends initial meetings with neighborhood groups.

Four architectural graduates assist her in the daily operation of the office, and also assist the architects and planners when needed. The four graduates are VISTA volunteers, and are paid through the VISTA program.

Grants from the American Institute of Architects and the American Institute of Planners pay for Mrs. Johnson's salary, as well as office rent and operating expenses. All other time is donated to the NDC.

Is the Neighborhood Design Center performing a useful function in Baltimore City? Pastor R. C. Meissner, of the Huber Memorial Church, located at 29th St. and The Alameda, thinks so: "The center is providing a very necessary service to the impoverished and socially deprived communities of the Baltimore area by making available both skill and concern through planning and self-help."

DESIGN CENTER—The Neighborhood Design Center, located at 29. E. Biddle St., helps community groups with planning and architectural services they could not otherwise afford.

Doctors' Tests Show How You Can Actually Help Shrink Swelling of Hemorrhoidal Tissues
...Due to Inflammation and Infection. Also Get Prompt, Temporary Relief in Many Cases from Rectal Itching and Pain in Such Tissues.
When inflammation, infection and swelling exist in hemorrhoidal tissues, it can be very painful for the sufferer. But there's an exclusive formulation which in many cases gives hours of relief from the burning itch and pain in hemorrhoidal tissues. It also helps shrink the swelling of such tissues. Sufferers are delighted at the way it acts so gently and is so soothing to sensitive tissues.
Tests by doctors on hundreds of patients reported similar successful results in many cases. And it was all done without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or stinging, smarting astringents of any kind.
You can obtain this same medication used in these tests at any drug counter. Its name is Preparation H®. Preparation H® also lubricates to protect the inflamed, irritated surface area to help make bowel movements more comfortable. Be sure and try Preparation H. In ointment or suppository form.

If you believe a great bourbon has to taste heavy, you believe a myth.
Because I. W. Harper doesn't taste heavy.
There's a very simple, but secret, reason in the recipe. And it gives Harper a great bourbon flavor, without the heaviness bourbons had in the old days.

Order any Chevelle or Camaro with these four features and we'll help save you some money.
Our Summer Sale works like this. Order any Chevelle or Camaro. Equip either car with white stripe tires, wheel covers, deluxe seat belts and AM/FM radio (or any stereo equipment).
Do this—and we'll help save you some money on cars that give you more for less even when they're not on sale. Which isn't the most likely way of doing business.
But then, "Putting you first" doesn't mean doing things from our point of view. It means doing them from yours.

Chisholm asks for delegates from territories

WASHINGTON, D. C. — In testimony before the House Interior Committee recently, U.S. Representative Shirley Chisholm, N.Y., called upon Congress to grant the right to have a non-voting delegate to the U. S. territories of Guam and the Virgin Islands.

Now is time for the 87,000 American citizens on Guam and the 63,700 American citizens living in the Virgin Islands to have representation."

Mrs. Chisholm cited the fact that the proposal to provide representation for Guam and the Virgin Islands had been before Congress for 16 years.

She argued that without such representation Guamanian and Virgin Island interests, views and concerns were not accorded the full hearing that they need.

Representative Chisholm stated, "We are not knowledgeable about conditions in the territories, yet we make decisions on a plethora of legislation which affects them.

"The way we do it is shameful. When we are dealing legislation, someone says, 'Oh, yeah, don't forget to stick in the territories,'" the outspoken Congresswoman stated.

Mathias' aide seeks to aid slow city areas

By MAX JOHNSON

He is a pleasant manner young man with a quick smile and an unmistakable aura of seriousness, and you will be seeing quite a bit of him in various sectors of the city in months to come.

He is Clarence V. McKee Jr., a recent addition to the staff of U.S. Sen. Charles McC. Mathias Jr.

McKee, who lives in Washington, was appointed to the U.S. Senate Committee on the District of Columbia. He formerly worked with Sen. Jacob Javits (N.Y.)

While his duties primarily include crime, drugs, education, welfare, hunger and urban affairs as they relate to the District of Columbia, McKee and Sen. Mathias hope to shift some of this attention to Maryland, the senator's home state.

Actually quite recently, Sen. Mathias addressed the city's 3rd District Citizen's Association on the "Challenge of hunger to Maryland and the nation."

McKee, on behalf of the senator, is planning to move as constantly as possible is this city's areas, primarily the underprivileged ones, to see if authorized benefits are being administered, and to what extent new aids may be forthcoming.

CLARENCE V. MCKEE JR.

In this role, he is seeking the aid of community leaders for necessary discussions, and will journey to meet them. He can be contacted through the Mathias offices.

A native of Buffalo, N.Y., McKee, 28, is a graduate of Hobart College in Geneva, N.Y., and attends the Howard University School of Law.

He has had extensive experience in federal government, having worked with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and the President's Council on Youth Opportunity. He wants to hear from community leaders.

Secretaries' baby rally this Sunday

Officers and members of the Baltimore City Educational Secretaries Association are planning a baby rally to be held at Polytechnic Auditorium, Cold Spring Lane and Falls Road on Sunday, May 16.

This is the group which lost its appeal to municipal and state officers for scholarship aid to provide scholarship assistance for college training for educational secretaries.

Money raised from the baby rally will be deposited at the Community College of Baltimore for scholarship purposes — to be used by the Baltimore City Educational Secretaries, said Mrs. Mary C. Frazier, supervisor.

Anybody can make a hard liquor. A soft whiskey is something else.
The difference between hard liquor and soft whiskey is more than just a matter of taste.
What makes Calvert Extra soft is the way it is distilled and blended.
So while soft whiskey has a unique taste, it is also as smooth and mellow as the best imported Scotch and Canadian.
It took us many years and thousands of experiments to develop the unique taste of soft whiskey.
It wasn't easy.
But we think you'll agree it was worth it.

Just ask a million menthol smokers why they switched to KOOL.
We ask all the time. And what we've found out shouldn't surprise anyone. They like its cool, smooth taste. So much so that Kool is the fastest growing of the major filter brands in America.*
And Kool is the number 1 menthol cigarette in the 50 states. You'll find it everywhere.
Right now, there are 27 other menthol brands wishing they were on top. But Kool plans to stay number 1.
Only Kool combines the right amount of pure menthol with 28 fine tobaccos. And then tops it all off with the most popular type of filter in America.
If you want a smoother taste from a menthol cigarette, give Kool a try.
But you don't have to go by our say-so. Instead just ask someone why he changed to Kool. After all, we do it all the time.
