Those Who See The Post-War Maxwell Want One

IT'S a great tribute to the keen minds and good taste that made the Post-War Maxwell so handsome, to find that so many who take one look at this car want one.

There have been, in other days, cars possessed of beauty that was only paint deep, but nearly all are "orphans" today.

Not so with the Post-War Maxwell, because the major effort, the vast expenditure, the employment of superior brains, all have been devoted to a mechanical excellence.

Beauty came last with Maxwell executives; and it arrived last. But it's here now, and nearly everyone will say it's "liberally endowed with things that please the eye."

If it pleases you—take one ride. You will get a "feel" that you will remember many a day.

That delightful castering effect in steering which a new type front axle gives, that mental assurance you experience when you throw on the emergency (it's up on the transmission shaft), that troubleless electric system, that clinging-to-the-road feeling that a heavier rear axle supplies.

300,000 mighty good Maxwells are on the world's highways today. All the qualifications they possess and many more come with the Post-War Maxwell, and you pay only $985 f. o. b. Detroit.
