GE SPECIALIST — Miss Teresa Kelly, a native Baltimorean and Morgan State College graduate, is a specialist in Manufacturing Information Systems Maintenance at General Electric's Appliance Park-East, and a valued employee.

Miss Kelly shines at GE Park plant

A few months ago Miss Teresa Kelly didn't know that jobs in manufacturing existed for women, but today, she can tell at a glance which of some 400 parts and assemblies go to make up any one of the 293 models of air conditioners which will be manufactured at Geneal Electric's Appliance Park — East.

As specialist — Manufacturing Information Systems Maintenance, Miss Kelly maintain the manufacturing material information system, including inventory, production and accounts.

Using computer listings, she has built up multi-level bill of material files which reveal instantly the component parts and sub-assemblies that go into each model at the different levels.

Four main levels of control are maintained: the final assembly, the chassis assembly, the refrigerant assembly and the sub-assemblies which go into the other three.

Therefore, greater control is exercised over, for instance, inventory, since the parts used can be subtracted at each level of assembly, rather than at product completion.

All of this is part of the preparation for full production of air conditioners which is scheduled to begin in October. The pre-production phase will start in August when 300 models will be shipped from Louisville for assembly and check out.

Miss Kelly, 23 and single, had worked as a programmer and a systems engineer before coming to GE on March 1.

"I had never worked in manufacturing before," she said, "but I think my background in data processing has helped a lot."

• • •

She spent the first one and a half months at GE in "in process" training, learning what the manufacturing information system can do.

A native of Baltimore, Miss Kelly graduated from Morgan State College in 1968 with a BS degree in math. She would like to go to graduate school and has been giving serious consideration to getting an MBA.

Her activieis outside of work include sewing she makes half of her own clothes and bowling, oil painting and reading.

She is very pleased with her job at GE. "I've really enjoyed working here," she said. "The atmosphere is just great. The enthusiasm of the people around you makes you happy to come to work in the morning."

Mrs. Doty is proud to be homeowner

By BENNY PHILLIPS

"I'm not a person to go with the crowd, I stand alone.

"If you are nice to me, there is nobody who is going to make me change my mind."

That is how Mrs. Annie Beatrice Doty of 2907 Winchester St., feels about Morris Goldseker and his firm.

Mrs. Doty purchased her house on Aug. 13, 1969, from Mr. Goldseker's representative Milton Schaffer.

Mrs. Doty says that they showed her several different houses but she liked this one.

With a down payment of $290, Mrs. Doty went ahead and set her routes in her investment. She had a monthly payment to make on her house to the North-East Building and Loan.

MRS. ANNIE DOTY

Mrs. Doty says, "There were hard times though the years when my husband was on strike and I have had several illnesses, but I have never called or gone to their offices and they were always willing to help."

Mrs. Doty went on to say "I wrote them a letter of appreciation, but I waited until I didn't owe Mr. Goldseker one dime before I wrote the letter.

"You know, gratefulness is a great quality, that is, never biting the hand that feeds you.

"There were times when they could have foreclosed but didn't even threaten to do so.

"They always did it in a way that they wanted to help, so why should I go against them?"

Mrs. Doty is a nurse at Ridgeway Manor Nursing Home in Catonsville.

She is the wife Ralph Doty who is a crane operator at Bethlehem Steel.

She has three children: William Elliot of California, Mrs. LaFaithia Macini of Warwick, R.I. and Chappie E. Elliot of Batimore.

Mrs. Doty attends Mt. Pisgah CME Church where the Rev. A. C. Crumley is the pastor. She has been a member there for one year. Before that, she attended Emmanuel Baptist Church.

Nader type program is formed

FREEPORT, N.Y. — A leading educational consultant announced this week the organization of a "Ralph Nader-type" program with special emphasis on problems related to the black community. N. H. Jackson, president of N. H. Jackson Associates of Freeport, N.Y. said that this "Black Consumer Report" (BCR) will be an adjunct of his consultant service.

"We will specialize in demanding accountability from such untouchables as major black leaders and their organizations, the black press and its role in the black community, black appointees to high level government positions, and white government decision makers, state, federal, and local, who all tend to be notoriously negligent in exemplifying a sense of responsibility and concern in meeting the needs of the nation's poor."

Mr. Jackson is of the opinion that the rank and file grass-root masses, both black and white, could play an important role in solving this nation's racial problems if they were apprised of some facts that are now available only to major government decision makers and their black appointees.

"Somebody has to expose the system to public view before we can start bringing about meaningful change. Only motherhood and apple pie will enjoy amnesty from our indepth scrutiny," Jackson said.
