Pall Mall playground had fun

Things were really hot at Pall Mall Playground last week.

The Pall Mall Charm Class, under the supervision of Mrs. Doris Duncan, held a fashion show on its playground.

The girls modeled outfits of various kinds; some originals, casual sports and evening wear. Among the originals were African outfits (made by Mrs. Beverly Blunt and Mrs. Gene Wilkins).

• • •

The African fashions included evening wear and casual wear of the well-dressed African woman today. The show-stoppers of the models were Tiffany Blunt, age 4 and her brother James, age 2.

Tiffany wore an evening jumpsuit with bareback and matching turban. James wore a long daskiki.

Both outfits were Beverly originals. Some of the Gene originals were a beautiful evening outfit with midriff top and matching turban, also included was a flowered evening gown with choker collar.

• • •

Miss Clarice Smith modeled several beautiful outfits. Her most fascinating original was a mazi outfit with side splits.

Miss Linda Lane modeled several outfits. The biggest hit of her originals was a mini jumpsuit with striped sleeves and cuffs.

The evening gown worn by Miss Nita Brown was silver and pink with matching accessories.

Little Miss Monique McLee modeled a pink party dress with matching accessories. Women cannot succeed without men.

Master Jerrod Wilkins modeled a purple shirt with matching pants and a white wide belt. Master Glenn Joyner modeled two handsome back to school outfits. The real treat and hit of the show was Bernard Wongus. Mrs. Wongus, Leader-In-Charge, modeled a blue mohair tailor made suit. Mr. Wongus wore white and various shapes of blue accessories.

Truly everyone gets involved at Pall Mall Playground. The program was moderated by Miss Lynette Robb and Miss Janice Hall, a special guest, a model.

Pall Mall Playground is located at the Rear of 4610 Pall Mall Road.
