Douglas Memorial scene of 'Meals on Wheels' luncheon

On Sept 16, the Board of Directors will precede its September meeting with a Meals on Wheels Luncheon at the Douglas Memorial Community Church which sponsers the most recent Meals on Wheels Kitchen to open in the Metropolitan area.

Mrs. Caroline A. Carter, chairman of the Douglas Kitchen, has arranged for the members of the board to be served the same menu, in the regular containers that are to be used on this day to serve the clients who receive our service of home delivered meals, from this Kitchen.

Each week day an average of 100 volunteers package and deliver 700 meals to 350 aging and convalescent persons throughout the Metropolitan area.

The area served by the Douglas Kitchen is the inner city. The Rev. Marion C. Bascom and the Congregation of Douglas Memorial Community Church sponsor the Kitchen.

The Steering Committee members are: Mrs. Caroline A. Carter, Chairman; Mrs. Margaret Head, Co-Chairman; Mrs. Lillian Dantley, Treasurer; Mrs. Evelyn Echols, Chairman-Packers; Mrs. Julia Reed, Chairman-Paper Supplies; Mrs. Joan Washington, Chairman-Visitors; Miss Mary Carter, Chairman-Food Supplies; Mrs. Eugenia Harris, Publicity; Mrs. June Cooper, Chairman-Visitors.

The Douglas Kitchen will celebrate its 1st Anniversary on Sept. 19.

Following the luncheon, the Board of Directors of the Baltimore Metropolitan Meals on Wheels, Inc. will hold its regular business meeting.

Baltimore Metropolitan Meals on Wheels, Inc. has the record for oldest continuous service among similar volunteer organizations operating in the United States.

In addition, it is presently serving more people and has more kitchens than any other Meals on Wheels in the country.

A recent survey made May, 1971 and published by HEW shows that Baltimore's Meals on Wheels, operating since 1960, has prepared and delivered meals to the aging and convalescing for over 10 years; longer than any other volunteer organization listed in this survey.

Over 1,000 manuals prepared in cooperation with a committee chaired by Mrs. Samuel Strouse and Mrs. Peggy Sheeler, Executive Director, describe the procedure for sitting up and operating the food service have been sent to groups all over the U.S. interested in starting such a service.

Baltimore meals on Wheels (M.O.W.) has grown from two (2) Kitchens to the present nine (9) with a tenth expected to open from Provident Hospital in the fall. In 1970 MOW served 152,000 home delivered meals to over 1300 individuals and recruited 1500 volunteers to package and deliver these meals Monday thru Friday.

A daily average of 100 volunteers package and deliver 700 melas to over 350 aging; and convalscent persons who are incapacitated to the extent that they cannot prepare their own food and are unable to shop for food supplies.

MOW is financed by a small charge to the voluntary contributions from individuals, civic-minded organizations, and by the United Fund of Central Maryland through its affiliated members; Community Chest of Baltimore Area Inc., Associated Catholic Charities, Inc. and Associated Jewish Charities.

New phone system

The most advanced type of equipment for handling telephone calls — an electronic switching system — went into operation Aug. 22 at the recently constructed telephone building at 3915 West Cold Spring Lane, adjacent to the Liberty central office.

W. M. Dunbar, area community relations manager for the C and P Telephone Company, said, "During the last several years there has been a tremendous surge in the requests for telephone service in northwest Baltimore area.

"Our new electronic system will help take care of the growth in numbers of customers as well as the increase in telephone usage. At the same time, it will provide service as modern, as fast, and as flexible as any in the country."

The electronic switching system, serving telephone customers with numbers beginning with 466, is equipped to furnish Touch-Tone service as well as the following custom calling features:

— Call Forwarding: Transferring calls to another number when the customer is away from home or office.

— Speed Calling: Dialing only one or two digits to reach frequently called numbers.

— Threeway Calling: Adding a third party to a conversation already in progress.

Touch-Tone service and the custom calling services are all optional conveniences made possible by the new switching system and additional charges apply for these features.

"As long as facilities are available," he said, "customers with 367, 642, and 664 numbers who wish to subscribe to any of the special services may do so if they change to a 466 number."

Representing an investment by the C and P of more than $3.5 million, the Liberty office addition is the fourth electronic switching system in Maryland. The other locations are Chase, Columbia and the University office in Baltimore.

Among the advantages of the electronic system is its greater switching capacity, making it able to handle many more calls in a given period than can present electro-mechanical equipment.

Another plus is the flexibility of this computer-like machine. Its instructions are stored on magnetic memory cards and can be revised without complex, time-consuming wiring changes.

And the versatility of the electronic switching machine will make it possible in the future to provide an even wider range of custom-tailored services.

Children's Theatre registration

The Children's Theatre Association, Inc. will hold registration for the winter season of creative drama classes on Saturday, Sept 18 from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. at CTA Headquarters, 225 West 25th Street

Classes for students from the 3rd through 12th grade will be held 1½ hours each week at CIA Headquarters and at the Wellwood School, 2901 Smith Ave.

The course includes instruction in body movement during regular class hours taught by a dance instructor.

Each student will participate in at least one class production. Classes for the various age groups will be scheduled on Saturday and afternoons after school at CTA Headquarters, and at 4 p.m. at the Wellwood School.

For 30 years the Children's Theatre Association Inc. (formerly the Children's Experimental Theatre) has been active as a youth service agency in Baltimore.

The goals of the organization are: to deepen each child's understanding of himself and others: to give him skill, self confidence, and fluency in communicating with others; and, to challenge and stimulate his imagination.

By the way...

by Joe Black

The revolt against status quo in this nation has created some socio-economic changes. Included among these change-overs is the acceptance of a "free expression" vocabulary. And one of the more popular expressions is: "Do your thing."

I dig the philosophy and relevancy of "do what you wanna do"; but I am afraid so many of us have been thinking so much about doing our thing, that we have forgotten the word respect. Quite often, when doing our own thing, we perpetrate acts that are harmful to or infringe upon the rights of others.

Some people try to excuse this lack of respect by saying that the generation gap makes it impossible for older people to understand today's action. We may be older, but I believe we adults are intelligent enough to recognize that time brings about changes. However, there are exceptions to every rule; and respect for one's fellow man is a quality that has withstood the test of time. Selfishness is the only excuse for not "doing unto others as you would have them do unto you."

I have often asked myself where our basic respect for one another has gone. This infringement upon the rights of others was vividly demonstrated this past Halloween. Do you recall a young Black boy dying because, while "Trick or Treating," someone gave him a goody that was loaded with a narcotic? Because someone was doing his thing, a Black child has been deprived of his opportunity to grow up and make his boyhood dreams a reality.

Don't you think that it is time for us to give and receive respect? It's my feeling that if we do, then we'll all be able to do our thing.

Model Cities Council 'A' awards

On Sunday afternoon, Sept. 5, Model Cities Council "A" will hold its Membership Awards day from 2 p.m. 'til 3:30 p.m.

The location is Johnson Square School No. 16, Velley and Biddle Sts., in East Baltimore.

Model Cities Community Councils first met at this same auditorium 3 years ago where Model Cities Councils were formed, with the selection of temporary officers.

Since that time two great warriors of Model Cities has gone, namely Walter Carter and the then director Edgar Ewing.

Honored guest invited for this occasion include Thomas D'Alesandro, mayor, and William G. Sykes, State Senator Dalton and others.

A total of 235 members will receive certificates. The Dunbar High School Cultural Arts and the Cultural Arts Choir will be present.

NBC is getting extra mileage from Raymond Burr, star of its "Ironside" series, and George Kennedy, star of the network's new "Sarge" police skein that will bow in the fall. They have been cast in a two-hour motion picture, playing their video roles entitled "The Priest Killer," NBC will screen it on the network Sept. 14.

Miss Blackburn becomes bride of Jerry Forte

CONCORD, N.C. — Miss Cynthia Annette Blackburn became the bride of Jerry Forte of this city in a three o'clock wedding ceremony Sunday in Mount Zion Baptist Church.

The Rev. William McKinley Wyatt officiated. Music was performed by Melvin Rush, soloist and Miss Joniece Anderson, organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Blackburn of 1417 W. Monroe Street. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Anna Mae James of 406 Wincott Avenue.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal white gown designed with a ruffled neckline and basque of re-embroidered chanilly lace. The dress had long lace sleeves, an A-line organza skirt trimmed with lace appliques, and an empire waist accented with a satin sash and bow.

An aisle-wide chapel train was attached at the waistline and made of imported organza. A pouff veil was attached to a headpiece of crystal and pearl beading. She carried a casoade of white, lavender and orchid daisy miniature carnations and sweetheart roses.

The bride had her sister, Mrs. Robert Phillips Jr., for matron of honor, and Miss Geraldine Moore for maid of honor. Another sister, Miss Janice Blackburn, was a bridesmaid with Miss Cassandra England of Catawba, Miss Gail Reid, Miss Saundra Roberson and the bridegroom's cousin, Miss Joyce Forte of this city.

The attendants wore formal dresses of lavender and purple polyester knit designed with a scooped neckline, gathered empire bodice and puffed sleeves. The waistline was accented with a velvet ribbon sash. For headpieces they wore pouff veils fastened to matching velvet bows, and carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums with purple velvet ribbons.

Singer-actress Barbara McNair and Jackie Cooper join host Allen Ludden on the ABC daytime game show, "Passwords" this week. They are joined by two contestants to play the game in which one-word clues are used to help one's partner to guess the password.

Hints For Homemakers

INEZ KAISER

The other day I was telling my niece Joyce how lucky she was that it was so much easier keeping her summer clothes fresh and spotless than when I was her age.

"How is that?" she asked.

"Well, there are a number of reasons," I said. "For one, we now have so many new easy-care fabrics and we also have Lever Brothers' CONCENTRATED all detergent to help us."

"I love to use all because it does get my clothes really clean," Joyce said. "I especially like it for my summer washables. But am I being a good citizen in using such a strong detergent? Is it safe for the environment?"

"Don't worry; all is safe for the environment. In fact, all is so mild it's even recommended for baby diapers," I said.

"Actually, all has been one of the most popular washday products on the market for many years. It has passed hundreds of laboratory tests which proved its safety for home use," I continued.

"And now Lever Brothers has reduced its phosphorus content to a low 8.7 percent, to give assurance to everyone who feels that the use of phosphates should be reduced."

"That's good to know," Joyce said, "I'm going to tell my friends about that. But tell me, is all still low-sudsing? I hope so."

"Yes," I replied. "Lever scientists made sure that the new all formula gives the same clear rinsing and has the perfect suds level for safe, efficient use in every type of washer.

"Its cleaning power is marvelous—especially on removing greasy spots and stains. And, of course, it still contains color-safe oxygen bleach, borax and brighteners.

"Remember, all is especially good for your favorite wash 'n wear and permanent press fabrics. To help prevent wrinkling, just set the machine for the special wash 'n wear or permanent press setting—of warm wash and cold rinse.

"When you can, it's best to dry your clothes in an automatic dryer, and remove garments as soon as they are dry. You'll be delighted to see how nice and wrinkle-free your clothes will be."

"Gee, thanks, Aunt Inez. I'll remember your advice. Now I can feel good about getting my clothes clean without hurting the environment."

Of course, all is not the only Lever product that leaves you with a happy reaction. There's another that produces a similar good feeling—LIFEBUOY deodorant soap.

This pleasure comes to you in three ways. First, you can enjoy LIFEBUOY'S good-looking decorator colors—pure white, softly tinted coral and pleasing green.

These three colors will go with practically any bathroom decor. This is important to me because I like everything nicely color-coordinated.

Next, you can give your nose a real treat with LIFEBUOY'S nice fresh scent. It has a clean-smelling fragrance that doesn't compete with whatever else you may use after your bath.

Last but not least, you can enjoy LIFEBUOY'S effective deodorant ingredients that last through the day or night and leave your skin feeling really clean.

Another thing I really like about LIFEBUOY is that my whole family enjoys it. It is gentle enough for my skin and, at the same time, it provides all of us with the lasting protection we need in our busy lives.

There is never an uncertain moment when you use LIFEBUOY because it doesn't let you down.

LUX SOLVES DISHPAN DILEMMA

Still another Lever product you can always depend upon is LUX LIQUID for dishes. You can always rely on LUX to get your dishes so really clean you will always be proud to show them off to guests.

And, when it comes to mildness, there isn't a better product on the market. Besides being so very mild to hands, LUX LIQUID cuts grease effectively and leaves your dishes sparkling clean.

I'm sure you've all seen actress Betsy Palmer talking about her favorite dishwashing liquid on TV. There's a gal who really tells it like it is!

Like most consumers, Betsy Palmer likes to know the facts about the products she buys. As she says, if all you want is a good dishwashing liquid, it doesn't really matter which leading brand you use. One's about as good as the other—for your dishes.

But for your hands, there is a difference—in LUX.

LUX has an exclusive skin-conditioning formula that can help your hands feel soft, and pretty... and conditioned.

Most brands do a good job on your dishes—but LUX conditions your hands while you're doing them.

It's like I keep telling you. The people at Lever Brothers always have you and your environment in mind, by producing safe as well as effective products. Try them and see for yourself!
