CLOSE BUT NO CIGAR — Lee Elder of Washington (D.C.) made a run for the top money but fell out of it with a final round 74, in the international golf dual between the United States and Japan at Osaka, last weekend. Lee played with the victorious U.S. team, the first time a black has represented the country in team play, and the first time Japanese golf has integrated. He fell three strokes off teammate Tommy Aaron for the individual honors.

Va. State favored in Morgan clash

PETERSBURG, Va. — Despite the shutout loss at the hands of Howard University in midseason, Coach Walter Lovett's Virginia State College eleven rules a slight favorite over Morgan in tomorrow's (Saturday) game here.

The Trojans and Bears will clash in their traditional November confrontation before an estimated 12,000 fans. In the 1971 game, played at Baltimore, Virginia tallied a 14-12 decision.

Lovett's youngsters figure to respond to the drive of a Morgan game, easily the biggest in the year for all Trojan grid teams. But they have added incentives for this one.

* * *

They are being pressured to avenge the loss to Howard, since the Bisons like the Bears are representatives of the new Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference (MEAC). A victory over Morgan, which last Saturday dumped Howard, would serve as a measure of vindication.

Additionally, the Trojans are undefeated in the CIAA, from which Morgan and Howard defected two years ago. In order to preserve the prestige of the CIAA, Virginia wants badly to down Morgan.

Coach Earl Banks, on the other hand, is hoping his Bears have shaken the lethargy which engulfed them all season until last Saturday's awakening.

"I think we're ready to put it all together now," says Earl. "The boys showed an entirely new spirit against Howard, and it could be that they are pointing to these last two games — Virginia State and Rutgers.

"We lost both last year, you know" . . . SAM LACY.

No-holds-barred match on Nov. 15th mat card

Two power specialists who were disqualified in a previous meeting have been re-matched Texas Death Style to a positive finish in a special attraction scheduled for the eight-event wrestling card at the Civic Center next Wednesday night, (Nov. 15).

Sonny King, a former heavyweight boxer from Detroit, has accepted a challenge issued by Ernie Ladd, six-foot, nine-inch, 325-pound professional football linebacker,i o a no-holds-barred return bout trat can be won, or lost, only by a pin-fall.

They are supporting the one-fall feature match between former heavyweight champion Bruno Sammartino and the world traveled Japanese contender, Professor Taro Tanaka.

King, who concedes Ladd a substantial advantage both in height and weight, readily accepted Ladd's dare to battle it out with no restrictions.

"If Ernie uses his football roughness on me, I can retaliate with a good punch," Sonny maintains.

"I proved that I can take care of myself our last time out at the Civic Center and I expect to prove that I also can take care of Ernie Ladd in this re-match."

Big Ernie, who wrestles out of Houston, Texas, expects to win quickly, and decisively.

"I'm glad Sonny has agreed to play rought," he stresses. "I'm not only the bigger, but the better man and this is my chance to prove it."

CCB graduate awarded $4,000 fellowship

Maurice Brown, a 1972 graduate of the Baltimore Community College has received a $4,000 fellowship to continue his education at Morgan State College.

The grant was made by the Maryland Regional Planning Council, which is funded by the Housing and Urban Development Department to encourage students pursuing planning careers.

"I didn't know there was such an occupation as urban planning, until I began to take these courses at CCB", Mr. Brown said. "Those professors woke me up," he told the AFRO.

Mr. Brown became interested in urban planning while studying sociology at CCB.

He plans to continue his education at Morgan State where he expects to enter the graduate program in fiscal management and planning administration.

The student, a junior at Morgan State, says he especially wants to work in the Northwest Baltimore Corporation, as a planning assistant after he completes his studies.

Mr. Brown is married to the former Miss Patricia McGraw.
