Mom threatened to kill herself, three children

"She threatened to shoot me before. She came downstairs and fired a shot which just missed my head. It would have got me if I hadn't moved in time."

Charles Stewart made this statement to the AFRO on Tuesday afternoon soon after his wife, Linda, was arrested by police on charges of assault.

* * *

Police report Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Linda Jackson) Stewart, 900 block Dukeland St. in Baltimore, were having an argument in their home when Mrs. Stewart became angered, went upstairs, came down and fired a shot at her husband with a .32 caliber revolver.

Mr. Stewart told police he immediately fled from the house to Lanvale and Ashurton Sts. and then reported the incident to police.

Upon arriving, police found Mrs. Stewart, 23, locked inside with her three children: 7½ months, 1½, years and 4 years.

When attempting to enter the house to talk to Mrs. Stewart, police report she yelled, "No one is coming in and I'm not coming out. If you try to come in I'll kill myself and the children."

During attempts of Sgt. Charles Barclay and Capt. Dennis Mello to persuade Mr. Stewart to come out of the house, her father, Edward Jackson, arrived on the scene.

Mr. Jackson persuade his daughter to let them in and Capt. Mello and Sgt. Barclay were able to disarm her and place her under arrest. The children were left in the care of their father.
