Woodlawn HIGHlights

MRS. GREEN

By MARJORIE R. GREEN

For those of you who are interested in sports you will be happy to hear that the "Spoilers" have once again captured the Employees Activities Association-sponsored basketball league championship.

Many strange things happened in the league this season. The strangest of all events was the Spoilers losing three games. Two of their losses were against a team with an ineligible player, but the fact remains, they were still losses.

These three losses were the first the Spoilers have experienced in league play since 1967. For almost seven years the team won every game. Chalking up a string of some 120 wins against the recent 3 losses, this is a record that should stand for many years.

Despite this setback, the Spoilers managed to ragain their past championship form in a semi-final game against the Benders. The semi-final win against this team earned them a berth in the finals against the Titans.

They won that encounter by a score of 32 to 35. The shortage of gyms has delayed any further play-off action.

If no other game can be scheduled, the Spoilers will go on record as being the "Undisputed Champs."

Head coach, Fred Conaway will have then led his team to an unprecedented seven straight championships. No other EEA-sponsored team in any sport can claim such a record.

Credit also belongs to assistant player-coach Roy Reese, who plotted defenses for each game.

Other members of this record-setting team were: Ron Campbell, Sam Cornick, Reggie Cornish, Tyrone Harris, Charles Levi, Steve Nixon, Alton Scott and Emanuel Turner.

Also a part of this year's team were Misses Lucille Bethea and Denise Fitzgerald, cheer leaders.

Three members of the team were also selected to the EAA All-Star Team. They are Reggie Cornish, Charles Levi and Emanuel Turner. CONGRATULATIONS — to a great bunch of guys! ! !

Mr. Royce Bradshaw Jr., budget analysist in the Bureau of Retirement and Survivors Insurance, has been named president of the Maryland Chapter of the American Society for Public Administration.

He is married and the father of three children.

The American University in Washington has announced plans to honor The Social Security Administration's Press Office this week at the National Press Club in Washington.

Based on the votes of newsmen in the Washington area, SSA was selected as having the best Press Office in Government. Members of the entire press staff will be on hand to receive the award.
