Tape from $2,000 recorder says Liddie paid Miles $40,000

A tape recorded by John Edward (Liddie) Jones on a $2,000 recorder was played back this week for the all white jury in Baltimore County Circuit Court at the Stephen L. Miles trial.

Excerpts from the tape quote Miles as saying, "Yea, alright, so you originally gave me $40,000."

Jones answered, "I thought it was $50,000."

Miles, who at one time represented Jones in court, is charged with taking $72,500 from Liddie's mother, Mrs. Ada V. Jones, in order "to bribe a judge and two prosecutors."

Jones placed the transmitter in his pocket and recorded a conversation with Stephen L. Miles in December, 1972.

Miles says, "No, no, she gave me $40,000. Evidently they were a little short. She'll tell you she gave me $40,000. Now, out of that you told me to take $5 000 for my fee on all the cases and $35,000 (for) "postponements.

Jones answered, "But, I tell you, I don't go for that stuff."

Miles responded, "Don't have to go. Don't have to go for $15,000. I'll get him down. I got him down to $7,500."

The state's keywitness, Mrs. Jones, is still confined to Provident Hospital in 'fair' condition.

James Keane, the prosecutor in the Miles case, says Mrs. Jones is "faking" her illness "in order not to testify."

Harold I. Glasser, defense attorney contends the tape had been "doctored" by Robert (Bobby) Frank, one of Joneses former lawyers.

Each juror was given an earphone in order to hear the tape.

Spectators in the courtroom could not hear the tape as well.

However, other quotes from the tape record Miles as saying, "Your case stinks. It was a . . . . . farce. Your case makes me not feel bad about trying to fix something.

"You should never have been charged. If they would have caught you, with the . . . in your car or something like that. You know what I mean. . . ."

Miles continued to say, "I got friends in high places anyway shape or form. If I get worked that my name is about to be put in the paper or I am about to be accused or charged, I'll file a petition immediately to withdraw as your attorney in the case.

"I can get a judge out here to sign, don't worry about that."

The 30-year-old attorney stated on the tape, "You tell your mother (Mrs. Jones) I will call first. You tell her I am going to give her $27,000 and that I will get hold of her.

"It's in the bank. I will get it out Monday and meet her one day during the week. If I can work something else out, I will just come back to you and tell you I can do it and she (Mrs. Jones) can give me the money back.

"Tell her the only thing that William (Billy) Murphy and Gerald A. Kroop (lawyers) and all of them are doing is just bad mouthing. I was the one that took place in Miles's my practice to go to New England."

Miles told Jones. "Tell your mother it's $27,000. I don't want her to think I am robbing her.

Jones answered, "Yeah, but she is going to think that anyway. I'll tell her but you know she is going to scream. . . ."

State police got a copy of the tape from Bobby Frank. Frank had connected wires from the transmitter to his car and then turned on a recorder to tape the conversation ha ook place in Miles's office in Towson.

Judge J. Harold Grady had at one time discussed with the attorneys taking the jury to the hospital where Mrs. Jones is.

However George L. Russell Jr., administrator at Provident Hospital, stated that he would not allow Mrs. Jones to be questioned while in Provident.

Dalton bill will protect drug patients

ANNAPOLIS — A hearing was held before the Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee on a bill introduced by Sen. Robert L. Dalton, D-2nd to protect patients who seek hospital care for drug overdoses.

Maryland law permits collection of records, reports, statements, probes, and other information about drug use for purposes of research and study by the Drug Abuse Administration, but records which contain identifying information must remain within the custody and control of the Authority.

Sen. Dalton's bill would extend this shield of confidentially to hospital employees. It would permit release of information about patients admitted as the result of drug overdoses only upon the patients' written authorization or under a court subpoena.
