R.S.V.P. With Marie

I really don't want to sound redundant, but I can't stop asking the same question over and over again: How do we find the time and energy to participate in so many activities on the weekends? It seems, according to our Community Calendar, that with each season comes a whole new list of social and civic functions. Honestly, I'm not complaining—just scratching my head.

This week reports reached this desk from several organizations telling of recent group activities and from the way they were described, I am sorry my schedule did not allow me to attend. Nonetheless, my good friends came to the rescue and sent us the stories.

N. M. Carroll Home

Pandemonium broke out during the Salute to the N. M. Carroll Home on Thursday evening when Bishop James K. Mathews of the Washington Area, Baltimore Annual Conference — United Methodist Church announced a gift of $288,000 — the cash having been deposited that day to the credit of the Home.

A standing ovation lasted for minutes rather than seconds.

This climaxed an evening of warmth, singing, and brief, pointed speeches laced with humor. After invocation by the Rev. Ernest Clark of the Metropolitan United Methodist Church, honor awards were made.

Senator Verda Welcome, who has helped the Home in its financial quests, received a citation of "good citizenship" from Mayor W. Donald Schaefer; Mrs. Elizabeth Spicer, recently retired administrator, received an engraved silver tray — gift from the trustees and presented by Mrs. Ernest Dennis (Louise) who is chairperson of the Personnel Committee of the Home;

Mrs. Bernice Richardson, Volunteer of the Year, received a silver Revere bowl, presented by the Rev. Martin Riley who is the present administrator at the Home.

By request, Delmas Milbourne played some old favorites as well as classical music during dinner. Because of a conflict of engagements Congressman Parren J. Mitchell could not preside as scheduled. The Rev. Kelly L. Jackson carried the program.

Greetings followed. The Rev. Marion Bascom equated the Home's treatment of the aged with Christian leadership. James Talley, director, Council of Ministries of the Baltimore Conference, spoke of work being done. The Rev. Carroll Doggett said that $400,000 is to come to the Home by '76. Some $270,000 has been given already.

The Rev. Forrest Stith is the conference's representative on the Board of Global Ministry and works in the Division of Health and Welfare. He said this gives him a splendid opportunity to be a channel between the national group and the N. M. Carroll Home.

Lin Bergman, executive director in the Division of Health and Welfare in the section on aging with office in New York, flew in from Omaha to bring greetings.

The songs written by Mrs. Parlett Moore (Thelma), touched everyone's heart at the first Salute. These were led by the Rev. John Buchheister. The group sang:

"Built by stalwarts, full of courage.
And with hearts of love alone.
Hail to the founders of N M Carroll Home
Hail to the founders of N M Carroll Home."

Bishop Mathews was presented by the Rev. Jackson who told how two newly-elected bishops (Golden and Mathews) one black, one white, attempted to worship in a white Methodist church in Jackson, Miss., in the 60's and were turned away.

Bishop Mathews held the audience in rapt attention as he spoke of the mission of "caring" and illustrated by recalling his visit and tour of the Carroll Home accompanied by the Rev. Jackson, the Rev. Lockman and Mrs. Spicer. He found evidence of love and care in this inter-racial, inter-faith abode.

He then announced the gift of $288,000. This had been voted on by the Conference but had just come into fruition on the day of the Salute.

Mrs. Kelly Jackson, chairperson, announced the evening's gifts. Afterwards, Miss Mary Allen, treasurer and Mrs. Edward McDaniels, financial secretary, presented a check for $6,500

Edward Carroll, presented a check for $500 from his father Bishop Eddie Carroll; the Letitia Savings $500. Others followed until the total was $8,087. This did not include $350 given the night before by the Rev. Forrest Stith in honor of Dr. Philip Edwards who is retiring as associate director of the Board of Missions.

The program carried the names of the Century Club ($100) Half Century Club, Quarter Century Club, Contributors, Patrons and a section for "In Memoriam."

Mrs. Jackson challenged the Rev. Jackson to match the highest amount given that evening. With pretended reluctance, the Rev. Mr. Jackson handed over a check for $400 which made his contribution equal to that of Bishop Carroll and the Letita Club.

The Jackson repartee brought the house down with laughter, however Bishop Mathews declared Rev. Jackson winner of the last round when he said that Mrs. Jackson "had just lost her summer vacation."

The Trustees are divided into groups for a continued campaign. Group I: Rev. Jackson and Rev. John Buchheister; Group II: Rev. Howard Cornish and Rev. Kenneth Barnes; Group III: Miss Mary Helen and Rev. Mervin Gray.

The entire group was asked to stand and the Rev. Jackson "by the power vested in him as chairman of the board" dubbed each and everyone "A Friend of N. M. Carroll Home."

The Rev. Sidney Daniels, pastor of Emmanuel Christian Church (also gave $100), gave the closing prayer.

Lawyers' Wives luncheon

Some 150 guests helped the Lawyers' Wives celebrate their annual Founders' Day luncheon at Meushaw's Restaurant on a recent Saturday afternoon.

The theme for the occasion was "Honoring Our Founders and Women Everywhere."

Mrs. Lorraine Hayes (U. Theodore), who presided, extended greetings, followed by Mrs. Ronald Owens who gave the invocation. Mrs. Martha Allen (Milton B.), explained the purpose of the organization.

Music by William Cummings entertained the guests and members. Mrs. Zodie Koger (A. Briscoe) introduced the guest speaker, who really didn't need an introduction, Dr. Delores C. Hunt, associate professor of education at the University of Md., Baltimore County.

"Be active in something. If you are not happy in what you are doing get into something else. There is a place for every woman," she told the listeners.

"Women's lib is fine up to a point, but remember that behind every good, worthwhile man, there is a good, worthwhile woman. Women must not try to take the place of men, but must walk beside them — honorably," she added.

President of the group, Dorothy Reddick (Mrs. Solomon), concluded the luncheon with remarks of appreciation of the past and present performances of the organization and gave a forecast of activities to come.

Other officers and members of the Lawyers' Wives are:

Diane Mitchell (Mrs. David), vice president; Zaidee Koger (Mrs. A. Briscoe), recording secretary; Betty Lee (Mrs. Curtis), corresponding secretary; Agnes Dorsey (Mrs. Charles Jr.), treasurer;

Martha Allen (Mrs. Milton B.); Patricia Brown (Mrs. Roger); Adele Foreman (Mrs. Ben); Helena Hairston (Mrs. Alonzo); Lorraine Hayes (Mrs. U. Theodore), chairperson; Gwendolyn Howard, (Mrs. Joseph); Louise Johnson (Mrs. Richard V.); Daisy Josey (Mrs. Charles);

Betty Lee (Mrs. Curtis); Jean Morehead (Mrs. Nathaniel); Madelin (Mrs. William); Celestine Nelson (Mrs. William); Lois Owens (Mrs. Ronald); Clarice Parrish (Mrs. George); Ruth Rosedom (Mrs. George); Gertrude Smith (Mrs. De Haven); Gwendolyn Smith (Mrs. Gerald); Jacqueline Watts (Mrs. Robert); Grace Walker (Mrs. Joseph), and Anna Williams (Mrs. Archie).

"Occasion Extraordinaire" was the theme of the May Ball, a benefit to aid the building program of the Most Worshipful Hiram Grand Lodge A.F. & A.M., Inc. held Saturday at the Civic Center. Pictured from L to R: Columbus McNeil, past grand and his fiancee, Ms. Gwen Kellum; Miss Helen V. Benton, Grand Matron, Order of Eastern Star; Mr. and Mrs. John H. Thornton, not shown, is the grand master.

Bridal Register

Due to the illness of Sylvester Street, the June 7 wedding of Mr. Street and Miss Mary Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Jones, has been postponed.

A new date has not been announced.

• • •

A Baltimore couple, Mary Hutchins and Norman Gray were wed in an intimate ceremony at the Chesapeake Club recently. The Rev. W. W. Payne officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Clarence Moore. She choose to wear a peach colored gown for the occasion.

Paulette Hicks, maid of honor and Matthew Gaddy was the best man. Octavia Hicks was the flower-girl.

Following the traditional ceremony, a reception was held, also in the Chesapeake Club.

Countians worship at Strawbridge

By Melvina Edwards
AFRO Correspondent

The Huntingtown Charge of Calvert County worshipped at the Strawbridge United Methodist Church last Sunday. The Rev. Eugene Glover delivered a glowing Mother's Day message from Matthew 15:25. Music was by the Youth Choir and the Methodist Men. The Rev. Marin Gray is pastor.

Among those attending services were Mr. and Mrs. Golsborough (Pearl) Morsell of Huntingtown and Spencer Sewell.

U. of Md. rate increases may affect black enrollment

"I question whether this college is increasing financial aid for students while it places heavier costs on them. How can students afford these increases if they don't get increases in aid?"

This was the statement from Board of Regents member Edward V. Hurley expressing his concern over the substantial increases in room and board rates at the University of Maryland.

The increases, effective the 1975-76 school year, greatly affect those black students at the college's four campuses who can ill afford the present rates unless they receive additional financial aid.

James S. Jacobs, student regent from the College Park campus, also spoke out during the Board of Regents meeting, opposing the increases on behalf of his fellow classmates.

Although much opposition was raised from the two members, the board approved increases in dormitory and meal plan rates at all four college campuses, College Park, Eastern Shore, Baltimore City and Baltimore County.

However, the meal plan rates at the Baltimore County campus were not boosted and remain $675 annually for 19 meals a week and $655 annually for 14 meals a week.

Most significant was the 28 per cent increase in room charges at the College Park campus. Annual room charges increased $154, from a level of $545 to $699 for in-state students and from $645 to $799 for out-of-state students.

Dr. William L. Thomas explained that it was necessary to raise the rates substantially due to inflation of utilities and maintenance costs.

OTHER INCREASES AT COLLEGE PARK

Board rates increased $66 per contract per year for meal plans which include 7 meals a week from $694 to $760, any 15 meals a week from $634 to $700, and ony 10 meals a week from $594 to $660.

UMBC ROOM CHARGES

A large increase in utility charges was the main factor cited for the 10 per cent raise in room charges at the Baltimore County campus.

EASTERN SHORE ROOM AND BOARD

Continuing increases in the cost of utilities and maintenance and labor costs caused an increase of $55 per room for in-state students and $66 per room for out-of-state students at the Eastern Shore campus.

A $95 per year increase was approved for board charges. Food service will be provided for the first time by a contractor. Invitations to bid resulted in an acceptable low bid that would require an increase in board rates from $600 for a 21-meal weekly plan to $695 for a 19-meal weekly plan.

DOWNTOWN ROOM INCREASES

A $108 per year increase will go into effect at the Baltimore campus. This applies to the Student Union Building rooms and those in the Nurses' Residence. Rates increased from $547 to $655 per room.

Present at the meeting were Louis L. Goldstein, Maryland State comptroller; F. Grove Miller, treasurer; William G. Connelly, Dr. L. Mercer Smith, assistant treasurer; Richard W. Case, vice chairman; Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of University of Maryland and chief executive officer.

Also Dr. Louis I. Kaplan, chairman; B. Herbert Brown, secretary; George C. Fry, Joseph D. Tydings, Dr. Emerson C. Walden, Mr. Hurley and Mr. Jacobs.

IRS explains tax rebates

Internal Revenue Service is being flooded with more than 2,500 calls a day from taxpayers questioning the amounts of their rebates, according to Gerald G. Portney, IRS director for Maryland and the District of Columbia.

"Most calls result from a failure to understand how the rebate is computed," Mr. Portney said. "The amount of rabate is generally based on 10 per the total amount of liability, as it appeared on Line 16 of Form 1040 or Line 17 of Form 1040A. The maximum rebate is $200 ($100 for marrieds filing separately) and the minimum is $100 ($50 for marrieds filing separately) — unless the tax liability is less than $100, in which case, the total amoung of liability will be returned."

The maximum rebate of $200 is reduced by one per cent of an Adjusted Gross Income in excess of $20,000, up to $30,000 for single taxpayers and married taxpayers filing a joint return. At $30,000 AGI and beyond the amount of rebate is $100. These figures are halved in the case of married taxpayers filing separately.

Mr. Portney emphasized that many people have expected to get a rebate in the amount of 10 per cent of tax withheld, as shown on their forms W-2. "Many have failed to consider that they received a refund of part of their withholding and that their actual tax liability was a lesser amount," he said. "Part time workers, for example, often have no tax liability, but file a return to get a refund of tax withheld. They will get their refund but not rebate."

In cases where a refund has been reduced by a proposed adjustment in the tax liability, the rebate will be based on the tax liability as shown on the return until the proposed adjustment is resolved, Mr. Portney said. In such cases, an increase in tax liability could mean an additional rebate later.

"The rebate checks are a one-time item, based on one per return, not per person," Mr. Portney said. Taxpayers will not be getting a second rebate in the Fall, as was discussed during debate over the legislation. However, some taxpayers who qualified for certain Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits payments will also receive a separate one-time $50 payment under the Act. Questions about those payments should be directed to Social Security Administration at 301-792-7100, not Internal Revenue Service.

"The people getting rebate checks right now are primarily those who filed in January," Mr. Portney said, "but some taxpayers who filed after the legislation was signed and who are also due a refund may be shortly getting a refund-rebate check. Other rebate checks will generally follow the order in which the returns were filed, and we hope all of them will be out by the middle of June," he said.

Goodwill to hold open house

Baltimore Goodwill Industries will hold its annual Spring Open House and antique sale from 9:30 to 3 p.m. on Saturday, May 17. More than 1,500 visitors are expected to tour the plant at 4001 Southwestern Blvd.

A large selection of antique furniture will be offered for sale at competitive prices. Where necessary, pieces have been refinished and reupholstered in appropriate materials by Goodwill workers. The sale will be held outdoors if weather permits.

Lottery drawing set for May 21 at Hopkins Plaza

The Maryland Lottery Agency will conduct its 105th weekly 50-cent drawing at Hopkins Plaza, Wednesday, May 21 at 12 noon.

The 29th drawing of the "14 for $1" game will also take place at the Hopkins Plaza the following day, Thursday, May 22 at 10 a.m. In the event of rain on either date, the drawing for that day will be held in the lobby of the nearby Sun Life Building.

GRANT

The creation of the office was made possible by a grant of $100,000 from the Regional Office of the Office of Minority Business Enterprises (OMBE) in Washington, D.C. That grant will be matched by by $7,000 in state funds, office space and equipment.

A bill making the office a permanent state agency is expected to be introduced in next year's session of the Maryland General Assembly.

Randolph Institute sets confab on economic crisis

Leading black trade union activists from across the country will meet at the Hilton Hotel May 16-18 to discuss strategies to fight the current economic crisis.

Upwards of 1,000 black unionists are expected to attend the conference. They will be representing the 20,000 black union activists who are members of the Institute's 150 local chapters which are spread throughout 35 states.

The conferencce's theme is "Toward Equality."

A principal speaker at the conference will be Vivian Henderson, president of Clark College in Atlanta and one of the country's most esteemed economists.

Henderson, a critic of the policies implemented by the Ford and Nixon administrations, played a significant role in drafting the program of the recent Black Economic Summit Conference.

A highlight will be the presentation of the first annual A. Philip Randolph Freedom Award to Roy Wilkins and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The presentation date, May 17, marks the 21st anniversary of the historic Brown decision in which the Supreme Court outlawed school segregation.

There will also be a number of speakers representing organized labor: Alexander E. Barkan, director of the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education; Thomas R. Donahue, executive assistant to AFL-CIO President George Meany; Edward Carlough, president of the Sheet Metal Workers International Association, and Murray H. Finley, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers.

The Institute maintains a nationwide voter registration campaign in black communities that is coordinated by local black unionists. During 1974 the Institute was responsible for adding over 500,000 minority voters to the rolls.
