What's Happening

By Ida Peters

When the Pointer Sisters come to the Lyric Theatre on November 16 their special guest star will be Stanley Turrentine instead of Hugh Masekela who was in town last week at Morgan State University.

A rather indignant bank official friend of mine called to protest a recent column by Fred Douglass on the Lottery TV program on Ch 11 WBAL on Wednesday nights at 7:30 p.m.

Our caller thinks that Fred missed the whole point of the program. He says he watches the WBAL Show each time and gets mad every time because the Lottery personnel and the station personnel are all wrong. He thinks in this half-black town where a whole lot of blacks purchase lottery tickets they ought to be able to find some black employees to pick the number or hand out prizes.

He says if the Lottery doesn't have some black employees they ought to get some for their TV program. How about that!

"Baltimore, A World In Miniature" will be presented by the International YWCA, 128 W. Franklin St., Sunday, Nov. 23 1 to 4 p.m. They will feature international dancers, music and ethnic gourmet foods. There will also be an art exhibit of Chinese paintings and a doll exhibit.

More than 100 persons sent letters in the AFRO's 'Mahogany" Contest. Winners received two free passes and in some cases 4 passes to see the Billy Dee Williams-Diana Ross movie.

The contest lasted one week and winners were printed in last Friday's AFRO. Our last winner was Ms. Alvette Chase, W. Saratoga St. She wrote:

Billy Dee Williams is an excellent actor. When he acts, he shows feelings. Diana Ross is a well put together actress and singer and "Mahogany" will be a great success.

Another sharp eyed reader called about our 1959 AFRO Magazine History Series on Redd Foxx done by Bob Matthews at the Old Royal Theater on Pennsylvania Avenue.

They wanted to know why we didn't change the ending about his loving wife Betty Jean and daughter Debraca. The answer is that Redd and his wife were lovely-dovey 16 years ago and if they weren't he certainly didn't tell the interviewer.

The Redd Foxx's are now splitsville and Betty Jean Foxx shelled out $45,000 for Debraca's wedding . . . which Redd may have to still pay. They say he didn't even get invited.

Helen Stafford is the new president of the Baltimore Marketing Association . . . making her a first in the history of the organization. The group will hold their 8th Annual Awards Dinner at the Holiday Inn on March 5. E. Gaines Lansey, president of Ideal Savings and Loan Association will be honored for his leadership in the Baltimore banking industry.

Cancelled

The concert series featuring Harold Melvin and the Blue Notes with KC and the Sunshine Band for November 26 at Painters Mill Music Theatre in Owings Mills, Md. has been cancelled. KC and War was cancelled last Sunday at the Civic Center.

"Godspell," the modern adaptation of the Gospel according to St. Matthew, the joyous, zealous celebration of life and love, will be presented at the Painters Mill Music Fair in a memorable two-week engagement Tuesday November 11 through Sunday November 23.

..."Hair," one of the most popular, most innovative and most controversial stage attractions of this century is coming to the Shady Grove Music Theatre in Rockville for one week only, November 11 - 16.

You can see the fully exposed and uncut version of this landmark Broadway musical for the first time in the round at Shady Grove where you're no more than 23 rows from the stage.

"Encores of Broadway"

Morgan State University Opera Theatre Workshop presents a revue of the best of Broadway. The program "Encores of Broadway"—featuring Marian Artis, David Hamm, Moreen Smothers, Naomi Wiliams, the Baltimore Summer Youth Corps with Joseph Eubanks, Director—is playing Friday and Saturday evenings, November 7th and 8th at 8 p.m. a. Murphy Auditorium, Morgan State University, Coldspringlane and Hillen Road. Admission Free.

Mr. Eubanks says "Encores of Broadway" will preview selections from productions of "Purlie" and "West Side Story" to be presented later this year.

Martin Artis, who is featured, is a graduate of Morgan State College in Psychology and has spent the last six years in New York where she garnered another degree in Nursing. Her new job in Baltimore is Clinical Coordinator for Nursing Service, Instructive Visiting Nurse Service at 5 E. Read St.

"Othello," offered by The Masqueraders at the Naval Academy, premieres Friday, November 7, and will run for a total of six performances. Other shows are scheduled for November 8, 14, 15, 21 and 22. Showtimes are 8 p.m. in Mahan Hall.

Othello, the Moor, is portrayed by Midshipman second class Elbert D. White, who last fall starred as Chief Bromden in The Masqueraders' "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest."

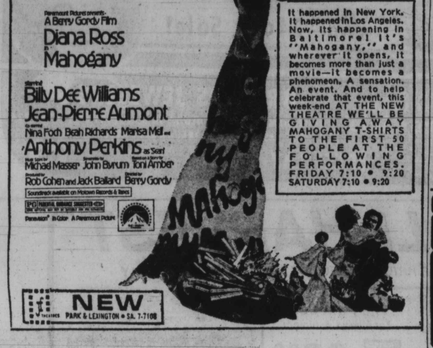
Work by printmaker Percy Martin is display at the University of Maryland Baltimore County corridor gallery November 5 through December 5.

Mr. Martin, who primarily does etchings and acquatints, has two major themes in this exhibit, the self-portrait and the South African Bushmen. Also included in the show are several images of blues singer Billie Holiday.

Magnificent!



It happened in New York. It happened in Los Angeles. Now, it's happening in Baltimore! It's "Mahogany" and wherever it opens, it becomes more than just a movie—it becomes a phenomenon. A sensation. The McKenzie report

Dionne 'tracks the cat'

By Vashti McKenzie

Baltimore's step-child Dionne Warwick was back in the neighborhood briefly this week.

With her new producer Thom Bell (Spinners-Johnny Mathis and Stylistics fame). She greeted the electronic and print media Tuesday evening in the Terrace Room of the Watergate Hotel in D.C.

"She's back!" said Dionne to the dinner and cocktail guests, after being introduced by Tom Draper, Warner Brothers Records Vice-President.

Looking every bit of an inch of a super slim sexy black panther Dionne threw her head back and laughingly charmed her audience as usual. She's back. She's ready and she's a winner.

Diamonds decorated her long and graceful fingers and black liquid material was poured over her body in the form of a fitting shirt-cocktail dress.

If her reported pending divorce from Baltimorean Bill Elliott was taking its toll, it didn't show.

If her reported law suit against her former producer Hal David and Burt Bacharach was giving her any trouble, that didn't show either.

All anyone saw was a cool confident lady introducing her new sound for Warner Brothers Records. "Track of the Cat" produced by Thom Bell.

We were treated to several cuts of the album and judging from the reaction of the DJ's, record company and press persons, the album already is a winner. Expect "Track of the Cat" in the racks by November 15th.

Thom Bell, the young genius, added just a touch to Dionne's style. It's good listening sounds like all of his products . . . not just a dancing production, good only in discos and similar institutions. Bell and Dionne are proving that you don't have to be disco to be successful.

Just back from a stint in Europe, Dionne has been promoting her "new marriage with Warner Brothers and Thom Bell" in Chicago, Detroit, Philly and New York.

Dionne said after the presentation that she plans to do two college concerts one at Ole Miss and the other at Alburn before flying off to Africa for a concert or two.

A little rest after that and Dionne is off to New Jersey to spend Christmas with the kids and her parents.

It looks like Dionne is back alright, tracking the cats.

SHADY GROVE FOOTNOTE: Bobby Brown, popular radio personality from 1340 mighty WOOK will bare all on the opening night of the American tribal loverock musical "Hair" Tuesday, Nov. 11 at Shady Grove Music Theatre in Gaithersburg, Md.

It just so happens that Nov. 11 is Bobby's birthday so he's going to join the cast of "Hair" on stage at the end of the controversial nude scene in exactly what he wore the day he was born . . . nothing.

To make sure that Bobby doesn't have a change of heart or cold feet an armed guard will accompany him in a limousine to the theatre just before show time. He will then be escorted to his private dressing room to prepare for his daring debut.

Dionne has new marriage

James Earl Jones, star of "The UFO Incident," a World Premiere on "NBC Monday Night at the Movies" a week ago, says he keeps an open mind about UFOs. "A few years ago when they were talking about landing men on the moon, I thought they were out of their minds," Jones says "Now if they say there are remarkably intelligent creatures from other planets observing us from spacecrafts, I just say could be."

The popular comic books of the 1940s depicting the incredible exploits of a beautiful heroine called Wonder Woman come to life again on the ABC Television Network in "The New, Original Wonder Woman," a world premiere presentation opening, Nov. 7 (8:00-9:30 p.m., EST).

Fred Sanford is given an ultimatum — marry or elsewhere — "Donna Pops the Question," the "Sanford and Son" colorcast of Friday, Nov. 7 (8:8:30 p.m. NYT) on NBC-TV. Redd Foxx and Desmond Wilson are series stars. When Mel proposes to Donna, she tells Fred he must marry her son, or never.

Basketball star Kareem Abdul-Jabbar is the narrator for the "Bicentennial Minute" of Friday, Nov. 7. Virginia's Royal Governor offered instant freedom to any slave who escaped from a patriot master and joined British forces. The "Minute" may be seen at approximately 8:28 P.M. ET at the conclusion of "Big Eddie,"

"In Performance At Wolf Trap" features members of Katherine Dunham's Performing Arts Training Co. of Southern Illinois University dancing to ragtime music of Scott Joplin and Eubie Blake on Ch 67, 22, 28, 31 Saturday, Nov. 8 at 9 p.m.

Souvenir hunters have walked away with 10 fuel caps and several "Sonny Pruitt" truck door decals during NBC-TV's "Movin' On" location shooting in the East according to series star Claude Akins.

Kojak finds himself the object of a murder contract, and the source of division between a father and his son, both of whom he would like to put behind bars, on "Kojak," Sunday, Nov. 9 (9:00-10:00 p.m., ET) on the CBS Television Network. Series star Telly Savalas directed from a script by Burton Armus.

A hit-and-run accident leaves a young man dead afted a holdup, and Bronk finds that the getaway car is owned by a respected policeman in his own department, on "Bronk," Sunday, Nov. 9 (10:00-11:00 p.m., ET) on the CBS Television Network.

When a young supermarket employee is run down after the seventh in a string of market holdups, Bronk's friend Harry Mark (Henry Beckman) finds the car in his junkyard — and learns that the car's owner is a policeman who doesn't seem to want to talk about it. Bronk is Jack Palance: Tony King is Sgt. John Webber.

"Big Red," a poignant story about a grand champion Irish setter, his wealthy but lonely master and a backwoods orphan lad, will be presented on "The Wonderful World of Disney," Sunday, Nov. 9 (7 to 9 p.m. NYT, in color), on the NBC Television Network. Walter Pidgeon and Gilles Payant star.

Monte Markham guest stars as a race driver reactivated as the second bionic man, who uses his extraordinary powers for criminal purposes and is opposed by Steve Austin in a battle of bionic men on the ABC Television Network's "The Six Million Dollar Man," Sunday, Nov. 9 (8:00-9:00 p.m., EST).

"Walking Tall," the "sleeper" film about the crime-busting crusade of Southern sheriff Buford Pusser, which earned a theatrical gross of more than $50 million and became one of the top 15 movies of all time, returns to television as the ABC Television Network's "The ABC Sunday Night Movie," Nov. 9 (9:00-11:15 p.m., EST).

The season's first "Dean Martin Celebrity Roast," with motorcycle daredevil Evel Knievel as the "roastee," will be presented Monday, Nov. 10 (10-11 p.m. NYT), on the NBC Television Network.
