THE COMING ELECTION

On Tuesday, November 8, the voters of this state and each county in the state will vote for candidates to fill state and county offices. Each of the two great political parties are putting forth their best efforts to succeed. Both are trying to convince and win the voters to their issues. We have always been and are still firm believers in the Democratic party and Democratic principles. The various candidates and the issues of the Democratic party are superior to those of the Republican party, and, this being true, we contend there is no good or sound reason or excuse for a single Democratic voter to split his ticket or bolt his party. The record and history of the Democratic party, as founded by our forefathers, we believe is good enough and sound enough for voters to follow. Most of the candidates on our local ticket have held public offices before, and their record is before you. If you wish to examine it do so—you will find it clean and efficient. We appeal to every wavering voter in this county to compare the constructive work of the two parties before voting. The Democartic candidates were placed on the ticket in the usual way and, therefore, are entitled to your serious consideration and to your vote November 8. Many arguments have been and are still being put forth by the Republicans of why Democratic voters should vote for Republicans, but we fail to find any logic in their arguments. Some mud slinging has been indulged in but we do not believe the Democratic voters have been deceived by it. We have faith in the intelligence and sincerity of our people and are convinced after talking with many of them that every Democrat on the ticket will be elected and that Kent County will return on November 8 safely to her Democratic moorings. We urge every reader of this paper to carefully read the two-column political advertisement in another column of this issue in reference to our Democratic candidates.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE

On October 20 the Adelphia Literary Society had a very interesting meeting. The attendance was unusually large and to accommodate every one it was necessary to meet in the chapel. Various extemporaneous speeches were given by the students. Mr. Spear spoke on "Disarmament." Mr. E. Duffy explained the benefits that may be derived from athletics. Mr. C. Wingate spoke on the old subject of "School Spirit." He had the proper occasion and having couched his speech in forceful language, he had produced an oration that struck home. Not to be outdone by its opponent, the Mt. Vernon came across with a still more interesting program the following night. Members from the Adelphia attended as well as those from the Mt. Vernon. The outstanding feature of the night was a debate on the question, "Resolved, That the principal nations of the world should disarm." On the affirmative were Miss H.Jones, Messrs. Knight and Culp. The negative was represented by Miss Ermine Jewell, Mr. Hecht and Mr. Ruark. The judges were Mr. W. Bounds, Miss Rasin and Miss Smith. The debate was decided in favor of the affirmative.

—The Centreville Opera House has a half-page advertisement in this issue of The Transcript on page 8. The feature attraction will be the world's greatest motion picture, entitled "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse." This picture will be augmented by a ...al symphony orchestra with spec... written music. The picture will ...own at Centreville on Monday and ...and November 1.

TO THE VOTERS

OF KENT COUNTY, MD.

It has been, and still is, my intention, in my campaign for Clerk of Circuit Court for Kent County, to refrain from mud slinging or making statements derogatory to the character of my opponent, or his relations. Such statements are, or should be, beneath the dignity of a man aspiring to this office.

In the following letter Mr. Rasin answers his own accusations:

Chestertown, Md., Jan. 21, 1918.

From: A. Parks Rasin, Clerk Circuit Court for Kent County, Maryland, formerly Cashier of the Peoples Bank of Chestertown, Maryland.

To: Wrom It May Concern.

Subject: Robert R. Ayres, Corporal, Machine Gun Co., 115th Infantry, Camp McClellan, Anniston, Ala.

This is to certify that I have known Mr. Robert R. Ayres for 15 years and have been closely associated with him during this period and have alwa... found him to be a man of high m...oral character, integrity and indus...trious. He was employed as Book-k...eeper in the Peoples Bank of C...hestertown, Maryland, when I was ...Cashier of the above Bank, during a ...period extending from Sept., 1910, ...to about April, 1915, which position ...he filled much to his credit and ...when he resigned we endeavored ...to retain him but could not. I say th...is so as to make it clear that it was t...he desire of the bank to keep him and ...that he left of his own volition. ...unhesitatingly recommend him for any position that he may apply for and I do this because I know him thoroughly and have worked side by side with him for a number of years.

Very sincerely yours,
A. PARKS RASIN.

I do not know of any reason, neither do any of my acquaintances know of any reason, why Mr. Rasin has changed his mind, but that I am his Democratic opponent. In publishing this letter I am betraying no confidences, for it is addressed, "to whom it may concern," and I believe you voters are concerned in this matter.

Very truly yours,
ROBERT R. AYRES.

HOPE H. BARROLL, Attorney.

WHO'S WHO ON THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET

In this age of unrest, when few things seem absolutely certain, there is one fact that stands out so clearly in the realm of political affairs that it cannot be denied, and that is THAT KENT COUNTY IS A DEMOCRATIC COUNTY. Its history for a half century or more has been—with but few exceptions—years of Democratic rule, when nearly every official has been a Democrat. And, consequently, the history of the county has been history that has been made by that party. The ideals of its people, the traditions of its people and the environment of its people have all been woven and interwoven by the ideals and the traditions of the party of Jefferson, of Cleveland, of Bryan and of Wils...

The recent registration shows that of the total of ... registered voters in Kent county, 3879 are Democrats, ... 2802 are Republicans—OVER A THOUSAND MORE DEMOCRATS THAN REPUBLICANS, or nearly one-third more. This means, regardless of the race question, that there are more Democratic business men, more Democratic lawyers, more Democratic physicians, more Democratic farmers, more Democratic mechanics, more Democratic laborers—in fact, MORE DEMOCRATS IN EVERY LINE OF HUMAN ENDEAVOR IN KENT THAN THERE ARE REPUBLICANS. The fact of the registered vote, if nothing else, shows that the people of this county prefer, as a party, the Democratic party. If for no other reason, and all things else being equal, the representatives of the people of Kent County SHOULD BE DEMOCRATS.

This year the Democratic party has been exceedingly fortunate in the selection of its ticket. Every element of the party is represented by its standard bearers and not a real Democrat in Kent County has a reasonable excuse not to support every man on it. Its candidates are men of the highest moral character, and represent the ideals of the people of Kent County in every particular. They are well-known, clean-cut, honored and respected, personally and morally, in their own communities where they are best known, as well as in all parts of the county, and are among the leaders of the thought and development of the county's wealth and its industry. During the campaign now drawing to a close they have conducted themselves in a manner that does not only themselves credit, but their party as well.

A brief pen picture of the candidates on the Democratic ticket may be of interest to the people of the county, to many of whom they may be not quite as well known as they are to us.

FOR COMPTROLLER OF THE STATE

WILLIAM S. GORDY, JR.—Mr. Gordy resides in Wicomico County and has spent nearly his whole business life in the banking affairs of the county. He is capable and trustworthy and is considered high up in the banking circles of the state. The Comptroller's office requires a man highly efficient along the line in which Mr. Gordy has spent his life work. Maryland always elects a Democratic Comptroller and we have no doubt that this year will be no exception to the past years of the state's history.

FOR THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES

ELSWORTH C. BOWERS—Mr. Bowers is too well known to need any introduction from us. His home is in Lynch, but he is almost as well known all over the Eastern Shore as he is in Kent. He is man of wide business affairs, a doer of big things and a man with a wide intellectual vision. He is a member of the lumber and contracting firm of Stavely & Bowers and has had wide business experience along many branches of Kent County life. He served his county well in the Maryland Legislature during its last session and there has been a big demand for his return. The people of Kent are fortunate in having the opportunity to send such a man to represent them in the Maryland Legislature.

CHARLES L. MILLER—One of the most important and most fundamental lines of industry in Kent County is the water industry and it ranks second in importance perhaps only to the agricultural industry. Next to the tilling of the soil, more people are engaged in pursuits along the water courses than any other occupation and it is natural that they should have a man to represent their interests in the Maryland Legislature and see to it that they are not hampered by unjust or unnecessary laws. Realizing this, the Democratic party has selected as a fit companion for Elwood Bowers a man who knows every condition of the waterman's life, and knows what he needs and what he does not need—Charles L. Miller, of Rock Hall.

FOR CLERK OF THE CIRCUIT COURT

ROBERT R. AYRES—Back in 1916 the whole world trembled with the march of armed soldiers. A great and friendly people, renowned for their skill and their valor, were being swept away like stubble before a hurricane of fire, and with every flash of electric fire that shimmered along the ocean cable we expected to hear that Paris, with every fiber quivering with impotent despair, had fallen and that France, one of the brightest stars in the galaxy of nations, had fallen from the zenith of her glory. American ships were being sunk upon the seas of the world and the very shores of our country was hearing the sinister boom of the invader's guns. Then came the immortal words of Wilson: "For the rights of small nations . . . that the world might be a safe place in which to live." Following these words a tide of khaki was soon set moving that never ceased to flood until France was once more given a place in the sun. On the crest of this heaving tide went Robert R. Ayres, one of the first of Kent's sons to wear the colors of his country. That he entered the service a private and emerged a first-lieutenant is evidence that, like every other position he ever held, he was successful. Born in Kent, reared in Kent, he has lived his life beneath the keen scrutiny of his fellow countrymen. In every position with which he has affiliated he has reflected credit upon himself as well as his position, and, as was said of Lowell, "He has adorned everything with which he has come in contact."

FOR REGISTER OF WILLS

SAMUEL G. CALDWELL—Perhaps no man in Kent County is more closely associated with the business, the intellectual and the political life of Kent County than is Samuel G. Caldwell, of Galena, candidate for Register of Wills. Mr. Caldwell is a widely known business man of unusual ability along many lines and made one of the best Treasurer's Kent County ever had. He is known to perhaps as many people as any man in Kent County and has many warm friends. The Democratic party could not have found a stronger candidate or a more efficient man for the place in the county.

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

LEONARD WILSON—A man with a wide knowledge of business affairs generally is fundamental to make a successful and efficient Treasurer of a county and Leonard Wilson, of Millington, is considered to be one of Kent's best business men. He conducts a large mercantile establishment at Millington and is known for his efficiency along business lines as well as his unusual personality. He is one of the best known men of upper Kent and is one of the assets of the business and social life of his community. Mr. Wilson will make a Treasurer by whom the finances of the county will be handled in a most efficient manner.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

JESSE H. USILTON--The agricultural interests of Kent county constitute the most important element in the life of the county. When they thrive the county is thrifty; when they lag the other interests of the county are bound to suffer. The farmer's needs must be understood and met. Everyone who knows the true condition of Kent County life realizes this. It is not likely that there is a man in the whole county who understands the problems of the farmer more thoroughly than does Jesse H. Usilton, of near Chestertown. Mr. Usilton is a gentleman of well-known and recognized ability along all agricultural lines, in which calling he has spent his life, and the interests of farmer and town man will be well off in his hands.

FOR SHERIFF OF KENT COUNTY

J. THOMAS HADAWAY—When a man has once performed a task most successfully, there is not much question but that he can duplicate the performance. Mr. Hadaway was sheriff of Kent County for two years and it has been frequently said of him that he was one of the best sheriffs that ever held the position in Kent. He knows what the job calls for, knows its difficulties and how to overcome them, and knows the responsibilities of the place. Mr. Hadaway made a mighty good sheriff several years ago and will make an equally good official again after the election.

With such a ticket as the one set forth above, representing the important business interests of the county and every element of the party, the Democratic party should sweep the county from the Sassafras to the Chesapeake with a tremendous majority.
