Hoyle; 7th, Pomona, Mrs. John Jacquette.

The following resolutions were adopted by the convention:

1st. Resolved, that we should use our best efforts toward the organizing and establishment of a Teacher Training Class in every Sunday School in Kent County.

2nd. Resolved, that the Superintendents and Teachers of our Sunday Schools press earnestly upon the minds of their pupils the proper observance of the Sabbath Day, and we request the members of the State Legislature to support all bills tending to the proper observance of the Lord's Day.

3rd. Resolved, that we heartily recommend frequent S. S. conventions or efficiency conferences throughout the county as a means of a larger growth in S. S. work, especially a Young People's Conference to be held in the spring of each year.

4th. Resolved, that our Superintendents and teachers emphasize the keynote of evangelism in all their teaching.

5th. Resolved, that we earnestly plead for a revival of scriptural memorizing in all our schools for the purpose of equipping our youth for life work.

6th. Resolved, that we request the Maryland State Legislature at its coming session to enact an enforcement code whereby the state and city officers shall be put behind the federal officers in the enforcement of the Volstead Act, and we request the voters of Kent County to support only such candidates as will agree to this resolution.

7th. Resolved, that we should use our best efforts toward the enrollment of every infant possible in Kent County on the Cradle Roll, and would suggest a membership campaign for this purpose.

8th. Resolved, that we urge the coming Maryland Legislature to abolish, by a law passed at that time, race-track gambling in the State of Maryland, and we pledge our support to the candidates of our county who will support such a measure.

9th. Resolved, that we extend our heart-felt thanks and sincere appreciation for the hearty welcome extended to us by the pastor of this church, Rev. J. F. Wooden, the faithful Supt., Bro. L. W. Ford, and all his coworkers, especially the ladies and friends of the church, for their tokens of appreciation shown us, which have made our stay very pleasant and profitable.

Cancer Week

The object of Cancer Week is not to spread alarm about cancer, but to bring hope. The causes and nature of this terrible disease are still obscure, and once it is fully developed its cure is almost impossible. But one thing, at least, has been demonstrated by the surgical experience of the past ten or twenty years, it can be cured if it is taken in time. A cancer, it has been found, never starts as a cancer. It always starts as something that is not, in itself, dangerous; a lump, a mole, a wart, a bruise, a small ulcer, a burn. Such things often go away themselves, and then no harm is done. But if they remain a long time, and sometimes even a relatively short time, they may turn into cancers, and then they are very dangerous indeed. The safest plan is to have all such things attended to at once. A good doctor can determine whether they are likely to turn into cancers or not. If not, simple remedies will usually suffice to heal them. And if they are of the dangerous variety, they can be removed at once, and all risk of cancer prevented. Such an operation, in these stages, is quick and painless, and causes no disability. It can be done as a rule, under a local anaesthetic—procaine, not ether or gas. Even if a cancer has begun to develop, the life of the patient may be saved if it is taken in time. But not if it is neglected until the late stages. The surgical records show clearly the importance of early treatment. In the early stages, even of undoubted cancer, the percentage of recoveries is very high; in the late stages it is next to nothing.

The surgeon can do nothing until the patient comes to him. The later the patient comes, the more difficult his task—the worse the operation and the smaller the chances of cure. If you have a lump, a mole, a wart, a bruise that won't heal, a sore spot anywhere that resists ordinary remedies, go to a good doctor and ask him about it. It will probably turn out to be harmless, and he will cure it quickly. And if it is something worse—the warning that goes before cancer—then going early will save your life. A cancer does not come unannounced. You have warning. But that warning must be heeded instantly.

Peninsula Horticultural Society

The thirty-fifth annual meeting of the Peninsula Horticultural Society will be held in The Globe Theatre, Berlin, Md., on Nov. 29-30 and Dec. 1, 1921. Mr. G. Hale Harrison, the president, has spent some time in arranging the program and is to be congratulated that he has secured such fine speakers.

Cantaloupe growing and marketing will be discussed by the most prominent men of the Peninsula who have been successful in growing this vegetable. The same may be said of watermelons, strawberries, peaches, apples, tomatoes, potatoes, both sweet and white. There will be at least four speakers on white potatoes and three on sweet potatoes.

Besides these topics, Dr. Readlos will tell about the insects and diseases of fruit. Other speakers will talk about the value of liquid and dust spraying. Various scientific men will talk about the diseases of fruit and vegetables, and how they may be controlled.

The work of the National Farm Bureau and the North American Fruit Exchange will be fully discussed. The program in detail will be announced in a short time.

A most interesting and instructive exhibit of fruit and vegetables will be held in the garage close by The Globe Theatre where the meeting is to be held.

The vegetable exhibit will be especially fine this year as premiums are offered on almost everything. It is expected that the commercial exhibit of spraying equipment and materials and the other horticultural exhibits and supplies will exceed anything ever held on the Peninsula.
