FOCUS ON...

By Lee Fitzpatrick

Almost daily are we confronted with media details of the excruciating tragedies brought about by fires. Many fires claim innocent lives as well as creating astronomical material losses.

There are many organizations which dedicate their time and services to aiding individuals and families who have suffered as a result of a fire. This week, I would like to FOCUS ON a local group of 16 black women whose primary goal is to give assistance to such victims. Who are they? THE WIVES OF FIREFIGHTERS Inc.

This non-profit organization was started in 1971. As wives of Firefighters, they have given the following as priority objectives:

— Assistance to local fire victims

— Civic and social activities for the betterment of the community.

— Participation of more black children during "Fire Prevention Week".

The officers and members of this organization are: President, Mildred Goodwyn, Vice President, Michelle Nesbit, Recording Secretary, Margaret Dorsey, Corresponding Secretary, Vernet Wilson; Business Manager, Mary Deshields; Treasurer, Irma Taylor; Parliamentarian, Hilda Leach; Entertainment Chairperson, Shirley Holly, and Fire Victims Committee Chairperson, Tina Dyson. Bernice Redmond has the responsibility of Hospitality and Welfare.

Members are, Sherley Chapman, Delores Davenport, Dorothy Gaines, Barbara McKnight, Esther Purnell and Barbara Smith.

The interest and work involvement of the members cover a wide range, but they have joined together for one common goal. "To give assistance". President Goodwyn, is a Claims Technician-Bureau of Health Insurance, Social Security, Woodlawn.

Vice President Nesbit is a senior teacher at Harford Heights Elementary School. Bernice Redmond, Health Assistant, and Irma Taylor, nurse, are both employed by the State at the Regional Institute for Children and Adolescents.

Dorothy Gaines is also a State of Maryland employee. Mary Deshields, Barbara McKnight, Shirley Chapman, Tina Dyson, and Hilda Leach devote their time and efforts to being successful homemakers.

Vernet Wilson, is a nurse at Bon Secours Hospital, but she is currently at home.

Barbara Smith, is the program director for Headstart with the Department of Social Services and Urban Services Agency.

Shirley Holly is also employed at the Woodlawn Branch of the S.S. Administration.

Delores Davenport, travels to Washington where she is employed as a supervisor in payroll for Walter Reed Hospital. Esther Purnell, is a bank cashier, and Margaret Dorsey, is a teacher at the Westside Elementary School in Baltimore City. Also Margie is a very active member of the popular All Saints Choir.

In addition to their priority goals, each year the wives honor the "Outstanding Black Fire Fighter of the Year". Their selection this year is Lloyd Marcus. Mr. Marcus was selected because of his extensive community involvement, and life saving endeavors:

In addition, Mr. Marcus has previously been cited by his own department for outstanding services. Mr. Marcus is classified as an E.M.T. (Emergency Medical Technician) he is also certified as a C.R.T. (Cardiac Rescue Technician) which allows him to administer EMERGENCY medical treatment. Further, the United Methodist Church of Pumphrey is fortunate to have Mr. Marcus as their Assistant Minister.

Again hits year, the Spring Fund-Raising activity will be sponsoring a night for the ARENA PLAYERS for the production of "LYSISRATA" on May 7 at the Community College of Baltimore.

NEXT WEEK: DIRECT FOCUS ON: Dr. Frances N. Beckles.

They Are All Procter & Gamble Suppliers!

These business owners are among the growing family of minority suppliers who help provide Procter & Gamble's plants, laboratories and offices with many of the vital goods and services they require each year.

To encourage this trend, the company's Buying Department locates and works with minority businesses able to supply our needs for quality materials and services. Today, dozens of minority-owned companies, from coast to coast, have joined our supplier family . . . and the list keeps growing.

By being able to compete successfully in today's marketplace, these businesses grow and prosper. New jobs are created and more dollars flow into minority communities throughout the country.

That's why P&G believes that supporting minority-owned businesses makes good business sense.

Procter & Gamble

"I asked my bank to advance me a little money when my checking was low–and they gave me a long loan application.

I don't think my bank understands me."

At Equitable, we understand. There's more than one way to borrow money. For instance, we have a reserve account, called Check Command.

The reserve account works with your checking account. It's the private and convenient way to make a loan.

We'll set aside an amount from $300 to $5000 specifically for you when you qualify for Check Command. Then, whenever your checking is low, you can still write a check for more than the current balance. We'll advance you money in $100 increments, up to your credit limit.

We understand

Once you have Check Command, there are no extra applications. You don't have to call the bank, or wait for approval.

And unlike other types of loans, there's no 1-year or 2-year term restriction on Check Command.

The interest is charged on a daily basis, so you owe only for the number of days the money has been borrowed, and no longer. Check Command interest is a 12% annual percentage rate, on the unpaid balance. In other words, as you make each principal payment, the interest charge decreases.

And payments can be made at the bank, in any amount, or conveniently through regular monthly deductions from your checking account.

The reserve account really becomes valuable to you when you've finally run into that perfect color T.V. at the perfect price.

But the bank isn't open, and you're not sure if your checking balance can cover it. That's the time to write yourself a loan with Check Command—a private, convenient loan between you and Equitable.

Any Equitable checking customer can apply for Check Command. It's one of several ways you can use money; others are our bank credit card and many kinds of personal loans. We want you to know about all of them. You can make better banking decisions when you understand all your options—and we understand that.

To apply for Check Command, call 547-4960 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily.
