—CITY SCAPES—

DOWN TO WORK — Spring's thaw has found Baltimore construction workers back on the job continuing the resurfacing of streets and sidewalks started last summer. Here workers pave a new sidewalk along Guilford Avenue.

CAR WASH TIME — While city street workers do their job at left, the fellow above has a chore of his own as spring's warm weather spells time for car washing.

Lakeview Towers seniors party

REFRESHMENTS ON THE ROCKS, more commonly known as fruit punch, is served to residents of the Lakeview Tower Apartments when they threw a party recently.

ARTHRITIS ROCK as this little jig is dubbed by local senior citizens has Mrs. Ethel Jackson doing her thing.

ALL SMILES — Mrs. Hilda Green of the Lakeview Towers shows her enjoyment of the entertainment.

THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT — Mrs. Pauline Carroll, president of the Senior Citizens Club at Lakeview Towers, sings to building residents with backup by the Charm City Orchestra.

A FASHION SHOW was also presented during the recent Lakeview Towers senior citizen party. Mrs. Hattie Smith came decked out in her bright spring hat.

PUBLIC HEARING
URBAN DEVELOPMENT
ACTION GRANT PROGRAM

A public hearing has been scheduled to discuss Baltimore City's proposed submission of Applications for Urban Development Action Grant funding from the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development. The Urban Development Action Grant Program will be explained, and the City's proposed Applications requesting Action Grant funding totaling approximately $11.6 million for new residential construction, rehabilitation of existing residential properties, and commercial recreational development, will also be presented. The meeting will be held in the

City Council Chambers
City Hall
7:00 p.m. Wednesday,
April 12, 1978

Draft copies of the proposed Applications, along with Federal Rules and Regulations concerning the Urban Development Action Grant Program, will be available for citizen review and comment in the Commissioner's Office of the Department of Housing and Community Development, 3rd floor, 222 East Saratoga Street, as of Tuesday, April 4, 1978.

The public is invited to attend the hearing and express their views on the City's needs and the proposed Applications.

M. J. BRODIE, Commissioner
Dept. of Housing and Community Development

Coping with Teenagers

The Center for Displaced Homemakers is offering a two-part workshop entitled "Coping With Teenagers and Their Problems."

The workshop will take place at 2435 Maryland Ave. on April 6 and April 27 from 6 to 7:45 p.m.

The workshop is free and open to the public. For further information and to register, call 243-5000.

NEW MOTEL CO.

Room for 2 people $9.50 and $10.00 per day, Tax included. Air conditioned, T.V.

4601 E. MONUMENT ST.
EA. 7-5900

AFRO photos by Roman Hankewycz

Photographers

Do you have a favorite picture showing Baltimore, its people, neighborhoods, etc.?

Send us your photographs — 8 x 10 black and white glossies.

The best picture will be published and the photographer will receive $5.

Clip this coupon and mail it to PHOTOS, City Desk, Baltimore AFRO-AMERICAN, Box 1857, Baltimore, Md. 21203.

Name
Age
Address
Phone Number

One limitation — we cannot return photos.

Reflections of Afro-American lifestyles, ideas, society, fashion, food

OUR WORLD

On the inside
- Columbia Capers
- R.S.V.P. with Marie
- Woodlawn Highlights
- Catonsville Notes
- Weddings and more....

Orchard Church Museum benefit

Fashion extravaganza premieres Sunday

The Baltimore Civic Center will house an exciting all new designer spring fashion show on Sunday, April 9, 4 p.m. sponsored by the Committee for the Preservation of Orchard Street Church, Inc.

This fashion show will mark the return of high fashion to Baltimore's downtown when it previews at The Civic Center. The best offerings of local designers will be shown by top professional models with more than 3000 guests witnessing the historical fundraiser.

The fashion show will be directed by popular model - instructor, Ms. Willia Bland and co-directed by Ms. Rosalind Russell, owner of Rainbow Productions, Inc., one of Baltimore's newest high fashion modeling troupes.

Other O.S.C.A.R. Committee members include Ms. Twilah Scarborough, publicity and news media coordinator; chairperson of hostesses and Richard L. Evans, finance assistant chairperson. Tickets for the upcoming fashion show can be purchased at the ticket office of the Baltimore Civic Center.

Relaxin' with a new twist

By Michele L. McRae

We had a ball! Dressed up in our new tennis outfits and jocking suits some 200 guests entered the Greenspring Racquet Club on Saturday night for an evening of tennis — cards — and disco.

We were the guests of the Mid-Town Tennis Club, Inc., a local Baltimore group just a little over a year old.

The picturesque setting was fantastic for relaxin'. The atmosphere was lively and everyone participated either in tennis, racquet ball, cards or disco drinking. Free food and liquor (You know that was right up our line.)

And legs, legs, legs! Yes, the men awed the exposed legs of the women all night — but little did they know we were in our corners checking theirs out too! There were really some "body beautifuls" around!

But not everyone was dressed in sports attire. Some of those sisters and brothers were ready!

The ladies in their suede and ultra-suede suits and dresses and the gents in their three-piece Pierre Cardins and Oleg Cassini's.

We relaxed for some five whole hours (10 p.m. - 3 a.m.) and still weren't ready to go home. Many of us left the Greenspring area and had breakfast either privately or in groups of two or more.

Not only do the some 95 members of the Mid-Town Tennis Club entertain but they are involved in community youth efforts.

Presently the group is working toward bringing one of the popular tennis tournaments into the city. Shortly, around the month of May, members will begin teaching tennis to inner city youths who can't afford private tennis lessons.

Officers of the group include Billy Reed, president; Willard Wright, public relations chairperson; Carroll (Curley) Scroggins, chairperson Social Action Committee; Linwood Clark, chairperson of Mid-Town Tennis Club, Inc. and Dave Saunders, treasurer.

Those young professionals interested in joining the Mid-Town group should write to Carroll Scroggins, 3911 Parkview Avenue, Baltimore, Md. 21207.

Some of the guests about for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. C. Bell, Michael Brown, William Blackmore, Johnathan Branch, Wyatt Coger, Gary Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Linwood B. Clark, Joyce Edwards, Wayne Ezell, Rhoda C. Fassett, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Henderson, Jim Howard, Linwood Jennings, Reggie Jackson;

And, Judith Langley, Elliot Liberman. Mr. and Mrs. Curley Scroggins, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Scroggins, Calvin Scroggins, Ruby Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reed, Mark H. Reed, Reginald Washington, Portia Badham, Robert White, Samuel Cobb, Gail Westmoreland, William Wells, Joyce Strawder, Elaine Hicks.

All AFRO staff photos by Robin McGinty

RELAXING AND CHATTING — Melvin Humphrey and Norm Scott relaxed on Saturday evening at the Greenspring Racquet Club during the affair by the Mid - Town Tennis Club.

MID- TOWN TENNIS CLUB — Attorney Blaine White and Kay Davis were among the 200 guests at the Saturday evening affair sponsored by the Mid - Town Tennsi Club, Inc.

ANYONE FOR TENNIS? — Mr. and Mrs. Richard (Janice) King were among tennis players at the Saturday night tennis - cards and disco affair of the Mid - town Tennis Club, Inc. at the Greenspring Racquet Club.

tattle-tales

Wall - to - wall carpeting, all the comforts of home plus expensive suits and trousers are some of the highlights of the prison career of an erstwhile Baltimore County resident. You saw him on TV lookin' good last week, "live and on camera from the Pen."

AIRPORT III should be the name of the moving - picture type performance a prominent society couple gave recently at Baltimore - Washington International just after she got off the plane.

Hubby plowed into her after his suspicions of her being accompanied to a convention by a fellow in the same business were confirmed. But, wifey dear gave him a few scratches and punches he will long remember. Someone in the far - distant city phoned hubby that she was present in person with you - know - who also from Baltimore.

Hubby met the plane, she jumped off, acting all innocent and the fire works began after the other guy deplaned with a stewardess on his arm as another part of the grame. What set hubby off really was the smell of wifey's perfume on the "other Guy" a scent hubby said he'd know anywhere.

Close encounter of the FATAL kind occurred recently and sent a prominent citizen straight to the Pearly Gates.

Except for some inside info Tattle Tales received via fone, y'all readers would have gone on about your business thinking this guy was hit by a passing motorist as he got out of his car on the wrong side.

A few additional facts change the whole picture. It goes like this. He was getting INTO his car after he had visited his sweetie pie long after midnite. She heard the crash and screech and came out her door. Saw him on the ground, his legs doubled up underneath, a tragic thing since both were broken.

He handed her his wallet and a secret package which she in turn forwarded to his wife. THE END.

The Pacesetters

Baltimoreans doing things in the professions, community, clubs and organizations

Jacqueline Fassett, director of the Department of Social Work at Sinai Hospital, has been named Maryland Social Worker of the Year by the Maryland chapter of the National Association of Social Workers (NASW).

Mrs. Jacqueline Fassett

Mrs. Fassett is currently serving as first vice-president of NASW. She was president of the Maryland chapter during the 1975-77 term. The NASW is the largest professional social work organization in the world, with 75,000 members in 55 chapters throughout the United States, Europe, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

According to the association, "Jackie Fassett exemplifies the highest standards of excellence within the social work profession in her concern for people, services and the profession itself."

Active in social work for more than 25 years, Mrs. Fassett came to Sinai in 1966 as coordinator of the adolescent center. She became head of the hospital's social work department in 1970. Prior to that, she had worked at the Crownsville State Hospital for ten years.

Catherine Taylor Burton has been appointed director of nursing at Provident Hospital by Thomas W. Chapman, chief executive officer of the hospital. Mrs. Burton previously served as coordinator of hospital-wide education and training at Provident, a position she assumed when the Helene Fuld School of Nursing was phased into a baccalaureate degree program at Coppin State College.

Mrs. Catherine Burton

She started her career as a staff nurse at George Washington University Hospital, Washington, D.C., and was a charge nurse at Sinai Hospital, Baltimore before coming to Provident in 1963. Mrs. Burton has served as staff nurse and head nurse at Provident Hospital, and her positions in the Helene Fuld School of Nursing have included medical-surgical coordinator, acting associate director, director, associate dean, and she was dean from 1973 to 1976.

A native of Goldsboro, N.C., Mrs. Burton holds a B.S. in nursing from Winston-Salem State University and received an M.S. in nursing administration from the University of Maryland.