Girl Scout cookie sale

The annual Girl Scout cookie sale is now under way in Central Maryland. Girl Scouts throughout Baltimore City and Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Carroll, Frederick, Harford and Howard Counties are approaching friends, relatives and neighbors to offer seven varieties of cookies for sale. In addition, many troops have arranged for cookie - selling booths in shopping malls and neighborhood stores.

Tractor trailers last week delivered 84,000 cases of Girl Scout cookies to 87 storage depots in churches, homes, firehouses, armories and shopping centers. There cookie managers and helpers from participating troops picked up the cookies they had ordered. Troops ordered 1500 more cases this year than last; each case contains twelve boxes.

New in 1979 is the granola cookie. Other varieties are the butter tre-foil, chocolate mint, peanut butter sandwich, chocolate and vanilla creme, chocolate - covered peanut butter and the caramel - coconut samoa. All are baked with pure vegetable shortening and all are kosher. Each box sells for $1.50.

A Girl Scout troop receives 25 cents for each box of cookies its members sell. When they plan their year's program, the girls and leaders decide how they want to use their cookie money. Some troops choose to invest it in a trip: some buy materials for community service projects; others use their cookie profit to go camping or to purchase arts and crafts supplies.

Persons who are not contacted by a neighborhood Girl Scout may get information on obtaining Girl Scout cookies by calling: In Central Maryland, 889 - 2861; in Frederick County, 662 - 5106; in Anne Arundel County, 987 - 5885; in Howard County 792 - 4010.

Cookies are on sale at the Girl Scout central office at 730 W. 40th St., Baltimore, and at the council's two service centers. Southwest Service Center is in the Severn Professional Building, Rt. 3, Millersville. The Frederick Service Center is at North Bentz St. Frederick.

Effective consumer workshops

The Maryland Citizens Consumer Foundation and the Consumer Council of Maryland announce Effective Consumer Representation workshops March 23 and 24. The workshops are designed for consumer or public members on occupational and professional licensing boards in the Maryland Department of Licensing and Regulation.

The Effective Consumer Representation project, a pilot in Maryland, has received endorsements from Gov. Harry Hughes, Attorney General Sachs will open the program with a presentation on the importance of serving as a consumer member. Other guest speakers will be Robert Erwin, Chief of the Consumer Protection Division and Frank Pugh, Counsel to the Department of Licensing and Regulation.

Among the topics to be covered in both two day sessions are consumer protection, the regulatory process, pertinent laws and occupational licensing. Concepts of assertiveness and advocacy will be stressed through role playing and skill development.

... take place in Baltimore, will be conducted by Barbara Clark and Helen Savage of the National Consumers League. The project is funded by a grant from the Office of Consumers Education, U.S. Department of Health, Education & Welfare. Additional support has been provided by the State.

The idea for this project grew out of a study conducted last fall by the Consumer Council of consumer representatives already serving on occupational and professional licensing boards in the Maryland Department of Licensing and Regulation. The study examined the participation and effectiveness of consumer ... respective boards.

It revealed that the representatives often lacked the training and expertise necessary to make them effective advocates of the consumer interest. Based on this evidence of need, Secretary Johnson plans to adopt ECR training on a regular basis for new appointees.

Upon its completion the training program will be distributed nationally. The project offers Maryland a unique opportunity to come to the forefront in consumer protection. All citizens in Maryland will benefit from this program because trained consumer representatives will be able to isolate and analyze issues of concern ... consumers and will be able to influence board decisions which often affect the cost and availability of occupational and professional services.

The Pacesetters

Eleanora Ashby, R.N., has been appointed Director of Nursing at Lutheran Hospital of Maryland, Inc. She was previously Assistant Director of Nursing.

With Lutheran for over 20 years, Mrs. Ashby's goal as Director of Nursing is to continue to provide good nursing care to Lutheran's patients.

"I'm beginning to make some changes and am in the process of planning some new nursing programs," she says. "As always, my main concern is to try to improve on the already excellent patient care offered here at Lutheran."

Immediate changes in the Nursing Service include some reorganization of the nursing administration, as well as the institution of the Head Nurse concept.

The Head Nurse concept provides for one nurse to be responsible on each nursing unit 24 hours a day," Mrs. Ashby says. "Of course, this doesn't mean the head nurse will be there round-the-clock, but it does mean she will be on call, providing more continuity and a personal touch to each patient's stay at Lutheran."

Mrs. Ashby is a graduate of the Brooklyn Jewish Medical Center and is now working toward a Bachelor's degree at Mount St. Mary's College. Her clinical expertise has been in obstetrics and pediatrics in which capacities she practiced nursing before becoming a nursing administrator.

Mrs. Eleanor Ashby
