Mrs. Leslie Parker celebrates her 100th birthday

100 YEARS OLD — Celebrating her 100th birthday at House in the Pines birthday party in her honor is Mrs. Leslie Parker (seated). Looking on with love are her two daughters, Mrs. Rosie Thompson (left) and Mrs. Margaret Lancaster (right).

On Wednesday, Oct. 3 Mrs. Leslie Parker reached her first cneutyr mark. She celebrated the occasion with a party given in her honor at the House in the Pines Nursing Home.

Her daughters, Mrs. Rosie Thompson and Mrs. Margaret Lancaster planned the celebration for her.

A lovely two tiered white birthday cake with golden leaves and the numeral 100 standing on top added to the festiveness of the occasion. There were also ice cream, punch and munchies for party fare.

Many friends from the city as well as in the Home were on hand to help Mrs. Parker celebrate. She received numerous beautiful gifts and cards, in addition to money.

Mrs. Parker was born in Caroline County, Va. on Oct. 3, 1879. She was married to the late James Parker, also of Virginia. They came to live in Baltimore in 1947.

During her 100 years Mrs. Parker has borne and reared nine children (two of whom are still living) and has scores of grandchildren, great grandchildren and great-great grandchildren.

She joined the Morning Star Baptist Church shortly after coming to Baltimore and is still a member to this day.

MORTAR GUNNER

Pvt. Peter B. Jaffe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Jaffe, 1312 Cherry Hills Lane, recently participated in Constant Enforcer, a major field training exercise in central Germany.

Jaffe is regularly assigned as a mortar gunner with the 3rd Armored Division in Kirch Gons, Germany.

Pacesetters

Elizabeth Carter
Director

Amandalores Barksdale
Specialist

Elizabeth Carter joins the staff of WKTK-FM 105 as Community Affairs Director. The position was created to further promote and support a stronger liaison between the radio station and Baltimore's community service organizations.

A native of Baltimore, Ms. Carter has recently returned to the city following a five year stay in Los Angeles.

During that time she worked in the television industry as well as for several advertising agencies.

She is a graduate of the Friends School, Syracuse University and The Peabody School of Music.

Through the newly acquired position, Ms. Carter will be able to expand WKTK's services to support the programs and projects which have been established by the city's local agencies.

Also, she will be able to focus on key issues affecting the Baltimore community.

WKTK has consistently maintained a deep involvement with the needs of the fast-growing organizations, and feels strongly about its responsibilities to actively participate in their progress.

Ms. Amandalores Barksdale has been selected to represent the United States Government as a Learning Disabilities Specialist in its Overseas Dependents Schools in Europe.

She received her Bachelor of Science degree from Coppin State College and Master of Education degree in Special Education from the University of Illinois.

Hearing to ban psychosurgery

Calling psychosurgery the worst form of mind control and submitting evidence that it is still being performed in the United States, three social reform groups met this week with Congressman Charles Rangle, D.N.Y. chairman of the Subcommittee on Health of the House Ways and Means Committee, demanding immediate hearings on H.R. 789, a bill to ban the use of psychosurgery in any federally funded institutions.

The National Association for Blacks in Criminal Justice, the National Council of Community Mental Health Centers, and the Citizens Commission on Human Rights met with Representative Rangle to gain his backing to prevent the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare (HEW) from providing Medicare and Medicaid funds for behavior modifying psychosurgery.

H.R. 763 was introduced earlier this year by Rep. Louis Stokes (D-Ohio) partially in response to an HEW decision to provide funds for the operations.

Psychosurgery is the surgical removal or destruction of healthy brain tissue with the intent of altering behavior.

According to the National Commission for the Protection of Human Subjects of Biomedical and Behavorial Research, psychosurgery, in order to be considered therapeutic would have to reduce the individual's ability to think.

Psychosurgery is not only limited to cutting, scrapping, or otherwise killing healthy brain tissue, but includes the electronic control of the individual through the implanation of electrodes within the brain.

Women's center opened

Approximately 200 persons were on hand last week to celebrate the fall opening of the Women's Center at the Rockville Campus of Montgomery College.

Honored at the open house were Academic Dean Antionette Hastings and Associate Dean Susan Jeno, the first women deans ever appointed in the campus' 14 - year history.

"I'm very happy to be here and very proud we are supporting not only women but all returning students," Dean Hastings remarked.

One of the center's major objectives is to support returning, older students. It provides people a place to gather, to foster a spirit of personhood, and to grow through their own strengths and the support of others, according to faculty coordinator Corinne Vincelette.

Located on the third floor of the library, the center is open from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday - Friday, and scheduled programs are open to the public.

Workshops and speakers are scheduled each week through Dec. 12. Topics include Job Market Workshop, Oct. 18; Sexism in the Workplace, Nov. 7; and Political Power: A Woman's Issue, featuring Delegate Morella, Dec. 3.

Beautiful Baltimore Brides

Miss Teresa Payne marries Frank Marshall

HONEYMOONING IN NEVADA — Teresa Payne and Frank Marshall, now Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, enjoying a happy moment after their wedding.

The recent wedding of Teresa Renee Payne, Whetstone Rd., Columbia, Md. to Frank Louis Marshall of Dallas, Texas took place at Martin's West.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Barbara Gilliard - Payne and the late Richard (Dickie) Payne.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Willie Bernice Marshall and the late Frank James Marshall.

The Rev. Phillip Rushing officiated at the lovely candlit ceremony.

Wedding music done was, "The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face," after the presentation of the bride for marriage; 'God Bless the Child, after the statement and symbolism of marriage responsibilities; 'Evergreen' after the acceptance of responsibilities; 'You Light up My Life' and 'Somewhere' after the candle lighting ceremony and the 'Hawaiian Wedding Song' after the exchanging of vows.

For her wedding the bride wore a white crystal pleated bridal gown designed by Eve of Milady and made of polyester chiffon and Alenco Lace. It had an open V neckline and back with crystal pleated bishop sleeves cuffed with Alenco lace. The reembroidered Alenco lace bodice was covered with seeded pearls and topped an empire waistline and crystal pleated skirt and chapel train. The chapel mantilla veil was made of matching Alenco lace.

Maid of honor was Toski Bolte. Bridesmaids were Regina Payne, Kolleen Faxio, Mary Major and Leslie Charleston.

Junior bridesmaids were Monica Payne, Herwanea Fulbright. Flower girl was Maiya Sutton.

Best man was Wesley Cornelius Jr. Ushers were Clarence Floyd, Stephen Williams, Roger Jones, Mark David, Roland Carmichael and Robert Gilliard Jr.

Ring bearer was Alsandro Turner Jr.

Immediately following the wedding a sit down dinner reception for over 250 guests was held, also at Martin's West. A five - piece band provided music for dancing.

The bride is a June 1979 graduate of Ohio State University. The groom is a 1975 graduate of the University of Texas at Arlington.

The couple honeymooned in Lake Tahoe, Nevada. They are at home on Montfort Drive, Dallas, Texas.

Miss Sheila Ellis weds Frederick Gillis

JUST MARRIED — Sheila Ellis and Frederick Gillis, both of Baltimore, married last week in a civil ceremony.

On Oct. 5 Sheila Gwendola Ellis, 3000 block of Harlem Ave., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elferson Wilson (Florence) was married to Frederick A. Gillis, 2100 Brunt St., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Gibbs Sr. in a civil ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, who also witnesses the double ring ceremony.

For her wedding, the bride wore a white wool walking suit, with a straight skirt and three-quarter length jacket.

On Oct. 6 a wedding reception was held at the Electric Eye on Reisterstown Road, with 100 guests in attendance.

The couple, their family and guests enjoyed a sit down dinner of mammoth proportions.

George Mitchell, owner of the Electric Eye toasted the couple in champagne.

They cut a three-tiered white wedding cake decorated with white swans and blue, pink and green roses.

The bride is a graduate of Edmondson High and attended the Community College of Baltimore. She is employed in the Major's office of Manpower Resources.

The groom attended Dunbar High and is employed at Cockey's Company in Pikesville.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Gillis are at home on Brunt St.

Double-hung windows (those which operate upward and downward) can be made secure by drilling a small hole at a slight downward angle through the first sash and into but not through the second (back) sash. Then slip at least a 12-penny nail into the hole. For maximum security do this on both sides of the window. The nails can be removed when you wish to open the window.

Tone down the telephone bell so it cannot be heard outside your residence, possibly by would-be burglars. Be suspicious of too many wrong numbers or those calls with nobody at the other end.
