variety of sodas and champagne.

Hostesses dressed in red and white and blue and white dequined, crinelined costumes were: Stacey Ross, Monica Scott, Karen Evans, Kelly Gross, TeeTee Jollivett and Alicenne Smith.

Male ushers dressed in black and white tuxedos and doing valet parking were: William Slater, Ashley Johnson, Kevin Evans and Aaron Jillivett.

There was even a bouncer, Wayne Ross, dersed asssuperman. Luckily, his bounding services weren't needed. Everyone had a ball.

Sequoia's Bash

In celebration of their 29th anniversary the Sequoia's Civic, Service and Charity Club, Inc. hosted the Arena Players in "Don't Bother Me, I Can't Cope" recently. It was a magnificent performance seen by over 300 guests.

Before the show began, the guests were treated to a delicious hot and cold buffet of hors d'oeuvres, relighes, champagne, wine and punch.

The hostesses were beautifully attired in red dresses with red and white corsages.

The entire evening was filled with good vibrations as the Sequoias and their guests sipped campagne, socialized and then watched an exciting performance by the Arena Players, which resulted in long standing ovations for the coast.

Ms. Ophelia Brown, chairperson of this affair did an outstanding job.

Recently, the Sequoias made contributions to the Mosher Street Boys' Club and the House of Ruth. Other charities that have benefited from donations by the Dequoias are the NAACP, Mrs. Santa, Baptist Aged Home and many others.

Officers of the club are Mrs. Jean Scott, president; Ms. Ophelia "Val" Brown, vice president, Mrs. Lorriane Dorsey, recording secretary; Mrs. Margarea "Tina" Green, financial secretary; Ms. Beverly Tucker, treasurer; Ms. Bernice Bradshaw, chaplain, and Ms. Vivian Morton and Mr. Josephine Shelton, hospitality.

Other members are: Mrs. Anna Britain, Ms. Pearlean Carter, Ms. Ellawesie Minser, Mrs. Victoria Hamilton, Mrs. Geraldine Wiggins and Ms. Doris Pollard.

Disco Fashion Show

On Sat. Nov. 3, Mrs. Rosalyn Cornish and ms. Lyn Gray, of Social Security Adm. sponsored their second annual "Teeny-Bopper Disco and Fshion Show."

This lively affair was held at Odells Disco on W. North Ave. from 4 until 8:30 p.m.

300 children and adults attended for an enjoyable evening of dancing and fashion viewing.

Available for tasting and sipping was free punch and munchies.

Moderating the fashion segment of the affair were Kim Mason and Myron Ferguson, both teenagers.

The youghful models, ranging in age from two to fourteen years, modeled clothing from local department stores as well as some specially designed outfits.

The affair was so successful that it is being replanned for Oct. 1980.

Howard County CAC celebrates 11th anniversary

By Pinnie L. Ross

The Howard County Community Action Council celebrated its 11th anniversary and also commemorated the 15th anniversary of the Equal Opportunity Act signed by former President Lyndon Johnson in 1964.

It was a great celebration, bringing more than 200 guests to the new Clarksville Middle School in Clarksville, Md., last Friday night.

Just before the program started, old friends of the Community Action Council greeted each other and were served a delicious turkey dinner with all the trimmings.

The program opened with a welcome by president William Bailey, and special remarks by County Executive J. Hugh Nichols, who proclaimed the last week in October as Community Action Council Week, after which the Rev. E. E. Arter gave the invocation.

Dorothy Moore, director of human services for the Community Council and chairperson of the Howard County Human Relations Commission, addressed the gathering.

Walter Mills, regional director, Region 3 Funding Agency, was the speaker for the evening.

The big surprise came when Mrs. Moore called on former volunteer board members and asked them to say a few words.

In the program, it read "surprised participants (It could be you)" but it didn't come as a surprise to Dr. Woodson, former Principal of Guilford Elementary School.

Dr. Woodson told the audience about the struggle for survival in the early establishment of the community council during the period when there were three county commissions.

Some of the early board members included Roger Carter, owner of Carter's Bus Service. According to Mrs. Moore, Carter served on the board for a number of years, and during his years of service, he provided free transportation for poor people which included transportation to meetings, forums and programs.

Ted Brown, field representative for Human Resources and Wardell Lindsey were among the first board members, and also members of the Human Rights Commission. Mary Wiggins, Elheart Flurry, Principal of the new Clarksville Middle School, Dr. Cuerman Gray and Larry Demberg.

Certificates of awards were presented in appreciation of exemplary community services to: The Links Inc. They were received by Celonia Walden, one of the Founders of the Columbia Chapter;

The Jack and Jill of America, received by Melvena Brown, Chapter's President, Martin Luther King Community Church, Rev. Phillip Rushing, pastor.

Mrs. Moore thanked all of the clubs and churches for their contribution, but gave praise to former pastor of St. John Baptist Church — The Rev. Dr. Walter L. Parrish II, for his counseling to many couples that needed his services, contributions from his church, and for his personal assistance in many areas to the disadvantaged.

"Rev. Parrish was really a community - minded minister," Mrs. Moore added. Mrs. Esther Vines received the certificate, St. John Baptist Church Board Member.

Closing remarks were given by Andrew Gregg, Executive Director of the Council. The Rev. Robert Fringo, Pastor of Emory United Methodist Church gave the Benediction.

The major purpose of community action is to help limited - income communities organize associations to promote the interest of each group, to help communities organize and help individuals with human service problems.

It also provides help for limited income people facing a crisis which requires immediate aid, rapid consideration and aid from other agencies and services.

Local Omegas observe Achievement Week

On Sunday, Nov. 11, 11 a.m. in the Morgan Christian Center, Pi Omega Chapter of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc. will hold its "National Achievement Week Observance".

The theme of this year's observance is "Restating Our Priorities: A Commitment to Uplift".

In keeping with the United Nations Declaration that 1979 is the International Year of the Child and its request that the world should "Think Children", Pi Omega Chapter will present awards, citations, tributes and recognitions to institutions, organizations, groups and individuals who have embodied the basic human rights of children as set forth in the United Nations Declaration of the rights of the Child.

The Howard Lee Cornish Humanitarian Awards will be given to the Maryland Special Olympic Program, the John F. Kennedy Institute and the Afro-American Newspapers Mrs. Santa Program and Mrs. Ida Peters.

These awards were named after Dr. Howard L. Cornish who was a very active member of the Fraternity and long-time Chaplain at Morgan State University. During his lifetime, he practiced humanitarianism in such a way that it was only fitting to name these awards in his honor.

Mrs. Vivian E. Washington will be awarded the "Outstanding Citizen of the Year Award" for outstanding service and devotion to meeting the needs of this community's children.

The recipient of the "Outstanding Omega Man of the Year Award" will be Judson B. Wood, Principal of Westside Elementary School. He will be cited for outstanding service to Pi Omega Chapter and the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity as well as for his many creative and innovative programs directed towards improving the status of all children.

The recipient of the "Outstanding Undergraduate Omega Man of the Year Award" will be Dana L. Jackson, a senior at Towson State University who has been confined to a wheelchair since the age of 14. He along with other members of Towson's chapter, Iota Epsilon, will be cited for instituting a social action program that raised $1,300 to purchase a motorized wheelchair for another student, a quadraplegic, who is not a member of the Fraternity.

National Achievement Week was inaugurated in 1925 as "Negro Achievement Week Project". In 1949, the name was changed to National Achievement Week in order that the scope of the observance would be broad enough to include the achievements of all people regardless of ethnic differences.
