Right Way to Breathe.

The fundamental of health—also of beauty—is proper breathing. Most people don't bring the remote cells of the lungs into use. Reducing the respirations to ten per minute for five consecutive minutes three times a day will insure full breathing. For instance, as you are walking, instead of breathing as you ordinarily do, make ten complete respirations per minute (ten inhalations and ten exhalations). In other words, you breathe in for three seconds and out for three seconds, making a complete respiration every six seconds, at which rate your respiration will be at the rate of ten per minute. To simplify, make 50 complete respirations last you for five minutes. At the end of five minutes you will find that you will be breathing deeply and filling your lungs to capacity. This is simply an exercise, and three or four times a day will be found sufficient, according to a Delineator writer.

Portuguese Women Good Porters.

The porters of Portugal are women who carry great burdens upon their heads. It is a common thing for one of these Amazons to carry a filled steamer trunk on her head from the ship landing to the hotel, a distance of a mile and mostly up a steep hill. Every conceivable kind of load is carried in this way. Peasant women will carry a closed umbrella neatly balanced on their heads. I once saw a woman coming into market, says a recent traveler, with a sleeping infant in a small round basket on her head, one hand holding the basket and the other an umbrella to shield off the strong rays of the sun.—Philadelphia Record.

Dislike Ordinary Salt.

A report made to the French Society of Biology shows that 25,000,000 human beings in the Congo region commonly employ salt of potassium instead of salt of sodium for seasoning their food. They obtain this salt from the ashes of certain plants. Since the opening up of the country ordinary salt has been largely imported, but the negroes regard it as insipid, and abandon with regret the use of their familiar ashes. They take the imported salt only because it is cheap.

MUST REST IN CHINESE SOIL

No Son of the Flowery Empire Allowed to Remain Perpetually in a Foreign Grave.

It is not perhaps generally known, but no Chinaman's remains remain indefinitely on foreign soil. At the west coast where Chinese are much more numerous than in the East, Chinese cemeteries are large and there are lots of them. In the graveyard is a large, hollow cement dome with a small hole just above a small altar table. Plunks, or small tapers, are burned continually on this altar during a burial ceremony and the object is to drive the evil spirit into the dome and hold him there until the remains are interred. From the time the body leaves the house until it is covered, prayer papers are continually in the air. These papers are punched with numerous small holes, and the belief is that the bad spirits must creep through each of these holes before they can enter the body.

Periodically the bones of the departed are disinterred and packed in small caskets. On all the P. and O. liners are sections devoted entirely to the carrying of these small, bone-filled caskets, back to China for final reinterment. No Chinese bones are knowingly allowed to remain on foreign soil.

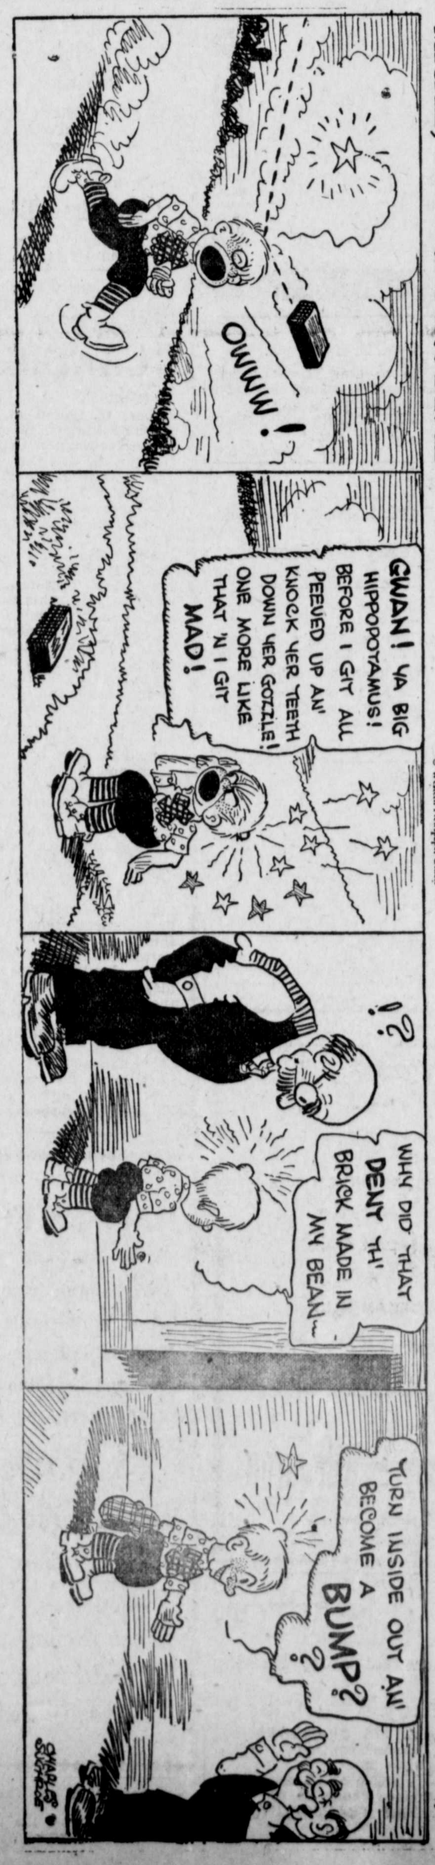

Thus China is a land of graveyards and the greatest difficulties found by railway companies building in China is to avoid disturbing the remains of China's honored dead.

"Habeas Corpus" Act.

The "Habeas Corpus Act" was passed in the reign of Charles II, and defined a provision of similar character in Magna Charta, to which also it added certain details.

The act provides that any man taken to prison can insist that the person who charges him with crime shall bring him bodily before a court and state the why and wherefore of his detention. As soon as this is done the court is to decide whether the accused is to be admitted to bail.

Imprisonment in fact, must be either for punishment after conviction, or for safe custody till the time of trial.

DON'T RISK NEGLECT

Don't neglect a constant backache, sharp, darting pains or urinary disorders. The danger of dropsy or Bright's disease is too serious to ignore. Use Doan's Kidney Pills as have your friends and neighbors. Ask your neighbor.

Robert T. Harris, farmer, R. F. D. No. 3, Chesterfield, Md., says: "I was in bad condition with kidney trouble. I had lumbago so badly, I could hardly get up or down. My back ached constantly and there was no let-up to the misery day or night. I had such sharp catches through my kidneys, I couldn't lift a basket of corn. The action of my kidneys was disordered and annoyed me. A friend advised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills and they quickly stopped the backaches and I could do my work without suffering. There is nothing to take the place of Doan's Kidney Pills with me."

Queer Feelings

"Some time ago, I was very irregular," writes Mrs. Cora Robie, of Pikeville, Ky. "I suffered a great deal, and knew I must do something for this condition. I suffered mostly with my back and a weakness in my limbs. I would have dreadful headaches. I had hot flashes and very queer feelings, and oh, how my head hurt! I read of and of others, who seemed to have the same troubles I had, being benefited, so I began to use it. I found it most beneficial. I took several bottles . . . . and was made so much better I didn't have any more trouble of this kind. It regulated me."

CARDUI

Cardui has been found very helpful in the correction of many cases of painful female disorders, such as Mrs. Robie mentions above. If you suffer as she did, take Cardui—a purely vegetable, medicinal tonic, in use for more than 40 years. It should help you.
