and have

HEALTHIER COWS, MORE MILK—AT LESS COST!

Proper stock feeding is a matter that deserves the serious attention of every progressive farmer. The right feed results in healthier, happier stock—more milk production—increased earnings. A proper balanced ration is important. Experiments show that seven cows fed GROUND feed produce as much as ten cows fed whole grain.

GRINDING DEMONSTRATION

We will have public demonstrations of this combination grinder at our store, when we will grind hay, fodder, corn, etc. Don't forget the dates below and come in and see this mill in operation.

LOCAL ITEMS OF INTEREST

—Hog cholera has appeared near Hanesville.

—Sheriff Hadaway now has but eight "boarders" at the Kent County jail.

—A tenant house on the Elmer Ernest far near Sassafras was destroyed by fire on Sunday.

—Yesterday morning furnished a real touch of winter—with boys skating on the streets of Chestertown.

—The local unit of the National Guard enjoyed an oyster scald at Gill Bros. Ice Cream Plant Tuesday evening.

—Mr. C. A. Goodwin's employees were made glad Christmas by generous gifts in gold given by Mr. Goodwin.

—Miss Clendaniel's kindergarten school closed for the Christmas holidays and will reopen the middle of January.

—Monday next, Jan. 1, being New Year's Day, and a legal holiday, the banks and other public offices will be closed.

—The heavy fog of the past week has made shipping on the Chester river dangerous and few boats have ventured out.

—William F. Wiggins and family, of Crumpton, who started for Florida in a Ford sedan recently, report reaching there in five days.

—Mr. Benjamin F. Rash sold during the past fall to the residents of this town and vicinity 300 hampers and 1200 baskets of apples.

—A big Christmas dance was given in the Washington College gymnasium last evening. The affair was one of the most elaborate of the year.

—The Guiding Coaster Sled, given by Wm. Medders & Co., of Still Pond, was drawn by Miss Pauline Hopkins, of Turner's Creek. We hope she will enjoy the winter sledding.

—The latest reports from the ducking shores near Rock Hall are that some of the duckers soaked corn in "jumpsteady" and used it for bate and that the ducks, after eating it, became so intoxicated that they were picked up in large numbers. Next.

—This is the last issue of The Transcript this year. We wish all our friends and patrons, as well as the public generally, a most happy and prosperous New Year.

—Sidney P. Townshend, Esq., attorney, sold at public sale on Tuesday the Rolph farm in the First District, containing 187 acres, to Samuel H. Beck, for $1800.

—Mr. W. B. Strong and family moved into their new home on Riverside Terrace this week, Mr. Ringgold Strong going to the residence on Maple avenue vacated by Mr. Strong.

—Fred C. Clifford, a passenger conductor on one of the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia trains, running from Love Point to Lewes, died last week after a paralytic stroke.

—The first dance by radio was held at the home of Mr. Arthur Brice, at Betterton recently. The music came from Schnectady and was furnish by one of Mr. George Baldwin's outfits.

—Messrs Olin B. Stafford and John E. Barnes have rented the office over the State Road Engineer's office on Court St. and will have their insurance and real estate offices, respectively, there.

—The Coburn farm, in Rock Hall, has been sold to a son of Capt. J. E. Apsley, now living in Baltimore. The farm will be divided into building lots and new homes erected in the spring.

—James N. Lane, of Quaker Neck, won first prize on young Toulouse gander and second prize on young Toulouse goose at the Baltimore show. Three of his geese laid 108 eggs in their first year.

—Contractor T. E. Newcomb has completed the bungalow at Kennedyville for Mrs. Anna C. Melvin. Mrs. Melvin will move to her new home this week and Mr. Dewey Whiteley will tenant Mrs. Melvin's home farm.

—Total exclusion of all immigration for a period of five years will be urged by American Legion adjutants in all states, it was decided at a recent conference of the adjutants in Indianapolis. The Legion will ask Congress to enact legislation to that end.

—The County Commissioners are sitting as a board of review for the purpose of adjusting the assessment of real and personal property. Assessment of farm property has been increased and many names have been added to the assessment books.

—The Water Board last week issued a circular warning water users against the unnecessary waste of water. Because of the unusually dry fall the springs are lower than ever before, requiring constant pumping to maintain the supply and causing air bubbles to discolor the water.

—Mr. Spencer Smith came near having his car burn on Saturday night on the crowded thoroughfare of High St., Chestertown. It seems that Mr. Smith was securing some gasoline at a local dealer's and a match was ignited to find the tank opening, which caused the gasoline to ignite. Happily, however, no damage was done.

—One of the most unusual raids in Delaware was executed late Friday night, when Prohobition Officer Edwards and State Detective Donoway went to the farm of Anthony Neibert, three miles from Milton, and found a 15-gallon still in full operation, several gallons of the finished product and a large quantity of mash and several hundred bottles of home-made beer. It was said to be one of the most complete plants ever found.

—The old house on the Zeisal property, now owned by Mr. Jacob Zeisal, is being torn down. This old house has been a landmark in that neighborhood for many years. Its removal will be a big improvement to that part of Queen Anne's. A fine new bungalow has been erected for the residence on the property.

—Congressman J. Charles Linthicum has a number of 1921 Agricultural Year Books on hand. He will be glad to send one to any party who would be interested in the Book. Address him House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. Mr. Linthicum represents a city district and therefore has few calls for this book.

—Automobiles owned by Lewin Blackiston and William Ashley were completely destroyed by fire, following a collision Saturday night. The collision caused a leak in the gasoline pipe and a short circuit in one of the electric wires set the leaking gasoline on fire. The accident occurred at Rock Hall.

—There is a rumor afloat to the effect that the Pennsylvania R. R., which owns the Chester River Line, proposes to establish a line of fast ferries between Rock Hall and Baltimore, to be used in connection with a line of auto busses, but we have nothing authentic regarding it for our readers.

—The Public Service Commission has given the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. permission to close its station at Blacks February 1. The agent, Mr. Harry Jewell, will be transferred to Kennedyville. This is the second station on the branch road to be closed by the railroad company within two years on account of lack of business.

—A few days ago in Easton three attorneys were pleading a case before the Circuit Court for Talbot County. Their ages summed up 228 years and they fought for their client's interests with all the vim of the younger members of the bar, who were listening. They were Joseph B. Seth, James C. Mullikin and James Tharpe, aged 77, 81 and 70, respectively.

—Miss Elizabeth Holsinger, of Ridgely, met with a horrible accident on Monday morning when her hair was caught in the fly-wheel of a gasoline engine and her scalp drawn back as fas as her ears. Doctors George and Madara were called and the scalp sewed in place again. She is doing as well as could be expected, the doctors say. Miss Elizabeth has been staying at the home of her uncle during the school year.

—A certificate for a charter for Armour & Co., of Delaware, was filed at the office of the Secretary of State at Dover Wednesday. The company is capitalized at $160,000,000 and is authorized to deal in cattle and live stock of all kinds. The incorporators named in the certificate are A. M. Hooven, M. A. Bruce and H. M. Anderson, all of Wilmington, identified with the Corporation Trust Company of America of that city, which drew up the incorporation papers.

—The C. A. Goodwin Ford Agency, of Chestertown, sold three Ford Sedans last week. They were delivered Christmas eve as Christmas gifts. Mrs. John Davis, formerly Miss Lillian Hicks, was one of the recipients. Mr. and Mrs. Davis, who have spent the Xmas holidays with Mrs. Davis' mother, Mrs. Samuel Hicks, will return to their home in New York next Tuesday in the car.

—The numerous accidents and narrow escapes that are being reported is positive evidence that every precaution should be taken to protect the driving public from the "Speed Demons." A great many of our new highways are marked with a line in the center, which helps the other fellow to keep in his proper place, but few observe this precaution. There is behind this line idea a bit of psychology that leads drivers to keep to the right of the margin of safety.
