1,500 attend St. Frances Academy annual dinner

The Oblate Sisters of Providence, the oldest black nun order in America, recently launched the final phase of their extensive renovations of the nation's oldest black Catholic high school.

St. Frances Academy, 151 years old, is located at Biddle Street and Brentwood Avenue, in the heart of an East Baltimore ghetto area, known as Johnston Square.

The 180-student parochial school has undergone extensive rehabilitation in phases one and two of the renovations, code name "greening of a ghetto.".

Still to be completed are installation of on-campus athletic facilities, renovation of the gymnasium, and physical improvements of the campus.

Sister Reginald Gerdes, project director, said the new facilities will not only benefit the students, who will receive a well rounded academic and athletic experience during their three years at St. Francis, but will enrich educational and recreational opportunities for underprivileged children, regardless of their religious faith.

Adults of the Johnston Square community will also have better facilities to plan and stage program and projects beneficial to all resident of the area, according to Sister Reginald.

The school, which places strong emphasis on scholarship and moral leadership, had fallen into serious disrepair until a year ago.

That's when the fund raising drive to rehabilitate the academy was directed by Allan Quille, the well-known parking lot owner, who is general chairman of this year's chief fund raising event.

The second annual Man of the Year dinner was held recently at Martin's West with 1,500 guests attending. Nearly $70,000 was raised for t he school.

This year's honorees are two men who have earned wide recognition in the Baltimore community for their achievements in law and medicine, respectively.

They are Benjamin Brown, Baltimore's City solicitor and Dr. Uthman Ray Jr., a family physician and community welfare activist.

Sister Reginald said they were chosen because they serve as role models for inner city youth, who often have no successful black images, from whom they can draw inspiration to lead productive lives.

To date, improvements in the St. Frances complex give the appearance of an oasis in the middle of Johnston Square, where signs of abandonment and isolation abound in the shadow of the City Jail and the Maryland penitentiary.

Stressing the point that St. Frances is an integral part of the indigenous community, Sister Reginald said the students and faculty often stage programs for inmates of the near-by prison institutions.

She added that when the restoration project is completed, the school will be able to expand its services not only to the students but to the total community as well.

Last rites held for Mrs. Alice Ricks

Mrs. Alice Josephine Ricks, 79, died Nov. 20 in Lutheran Hospital after a brief illness. Funeral services were held Nov. 23, at Morning Star Baptist Church, where Mrs. Ricks was a longtime active member.

Born in Buffalo Springs, Mecklenberg, County, Va., Mrs. Ricks attended school in Danville, Va. and was a former member of the Loyal Baptist Church in Virginia.

Mrs. Ricks moved to Baltimore in 1921 and joined Morning Star in 1922 when the late Rev. Robert T. Winn was pastor.

She was an active member of the church until she became ill. Mrs. Ricks was a member of The Senior Usher Board, Samuel Ray's Choir, Flower Circle, Nurses Unit and the Pastor's Aid Club.

She was also a member of the Electa Chapter of the Eastern Star, Moses Lodge, the GUO Nazarites, Mercy Sorrell Iddeal Unit, National Iddeal Benefit Society, American Legion Auxiliary and the Men and Women Beneficial Association Inc. of Maryland.

She is survived by cousins, Ray and Ruth Angelique, Sheksha Gillespie and Jean Johnson of Baltimore; Mrs. Bertha Stephens H. Gillespie and Mrs. Rebecca Price of Danville, Va., Mrs. Willie May Oberbey of Philadelphia, three goddaughters, Miss Cynthia Spence of Germany, Mrs. Helen Benjamin and Mrs. Madeline Jones.

Victor Myrick recital is Nov. 30

The Progressive Shiloh Workers of New Shiloh Baptist Church, Fremont Avenue and Lanvale Street, will present Victor W. Myrick, organist in recital on Sunday, Nov. 30, 6 p.m. at the church. The Rev. Dr. Harold A. Carter is pastor.

Myrick is a music instructor and a member of Music Educators Conference, Fellowship of American Baptist Musicians, Hampton Institute Choir and Directors Guild and a honorary member of West African Musicans Guild.

He is the former music director for the Arena Players, organist choir master at Macedonia Baptist, Mt. Zion Baptist, St. Matthews Lutheran and Pennsylvania Avenue AME and Brown Memorial AME.

Sympathy to...

Sympathy also, to relatives of these neighbors buried last week:

Mrs. Bertina V. Brown, 68, was eulogized on Thursday at Emmanuel Christian Community Church.

The Rev. Sidney Daniels officiated. Carlton Douglass Funeral Home was in charge.

The family tribute spoke of Mrs. Brown as one who was "loving, ever ready to share with others . . ."

Mrs. Brown's death on Nov. 15, followed by just two months that of her husband of 48 years, Edward Brown.

IN MEMORIAM

GILLIAM - In loving memory of my dear husband, WILLIAM GILLIAM, who passed away November 28, 1973.
God does all things for the best.
He never makes mistakes.
He planned your sleep beyond the sod.
Of those Eternal Gates.
Your Loving Wife, INEZ GILLIAM

McCLURE - In loving memory of our mother HILDA L. McCLURE who passed away November 28, 1979.
A million times we've needed you
A million times we've cried
If love alone could save you
You never would have died
In life we loved you dearly
In death we love you still
In our hearts you hold a place
No one else can ever fill
The golden gates stood open
He saw you needed rest
God's garden must be beautiful
For he always picks the best
Loving Daughters
HOLISE and MARY
