GOVERNOR RITCHIE will entertain the editors of the state at luncheon today. The governor has called the editors together to have a discussion of the state's problems.

THE announcement of Hengle A. McMullen, former State Competroller, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Maryland at the primaries next September makes a formidable opponent to Governor Ritchie, who announced his candidacy many months ago to succeed himself as governor. Just how the line-up will be between Governor Ritchie and Mr. McMullen throughout the state has not yet developed, but the fight promises to be a warm one.

THE political situation is becoming mixed in Baltimore City. The announcement this week by ex-Mayor James H. Preston that he will be an independent candidate for mayor of that city at election in May, has complicated the mayoralty situation. There can be no doubt that Mr. Preston did a great deal for Batlimore while he was mayor in making it a more progressive and better city, and the people of that city seem to realize and appreciate it more now than they did at the time he was mayor; this fact is demonstrated by the class of citizens who are supporting him in his independent candidacy. Mr. Jackson, the Democratic candidate, seems to have no opponent and will, of course, receive the Democratic nomination. Whether the Republicans will nominate a candidate or not remains to be seen. Should they fail to do so the fight will be between Mr. Jackson, the Democratic nominee, and Mr. Preston, the independent candidate.

MR. R. R. MOFFETT, of the Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce, in his talk before the Business Men's Association, left with those who heard him room for considerable thought. He complimented, criticized and left with them ideas which, if carried out, should prove a great thing for this community. One thing he dwelt on was the fact that the Business Men's Association was not the proper name for this organization, as it should be an organization made up, not for selfish business interests, but for the benefit of the community (Kent Co.), and should not, therefore, be confined to the business men of Chestertown. Get the farmer in it and show that, by working together for a common cause, we will be individually benefited. An example of this of late, is the farmers' meetings held in the different sections of the county, with regard to the coming tomato crop. A few farmers around Lankford, another group in Broad Neck, another in Quaker Neck, all having their meetings and coming to different decisions. Why shoulden't all this be brought under one organazation, let the farmers and business men get together. The farmer knows how to farm, but does he know what crops will bring him the most profit, and how best to market them. It is a known fact that the business men of Kent County are dependant on the farmers for a livlihood, and the more money the farmers make the more business is going to be done. The question naturally arises, "who is going to do all this?" The answer, "the LIVE men of Kent County, through a man who KNOWS HOW, hired by this organazation to do it. Mr Moffett emphasized the fact that before new industries should be brought here, we should first develop the gold mine we already have—AGRICULTURE.

FRANCE continues to use its military forces in forcing Germany to comply with the treaty made at the end of the great war. In fact from all reports the German government is inciting its people to enter in open Rebellion against the French army in Ruhr. Germany, instead of getting down to hard work to pay for a small part of the damage which she inflicted during the war is using all her powers to evade complying with the Versailles Treaty. When we consider the heavy damage assesed against France when defeated by Germany during the past century and the way in which the French people worked and slaved to pay their indemities to Germany we can hardly sympathize with German goverment in its present stand. If the German people would follow the example of the French and forget propaganda and excuses and endeavor to repay to the world some of the great injury which she inflicted during the late war Germany would be more deserving of sympathy from the American people. Germany is now getting a dose of the same medicine which she gave to France during the past century but is not taking the dose in the same heroic manner. We cannot help but admire the energy, self secrifice, and love of country of the French peiple, and can readily understand her reasons for enforcing the Versailles treaty. The world admires any nation which lives up to its contracts and we see no excuse for the present stand of the German government. When we see around us many of our American boys blind, crippled, and sacrificed on the altar of German selfishness and consider how much damage was inflicted on the French, we cannot help but feel that the stand taken by the French government at the present time is thouroughly justified.

Electa Hunt Concert Company

We find that the Lyceum audiences of today are demanding a better class of music than ever before. This standard of excellence is no doubt established by the many different organizations appearing before our select audiences.

The Electa Hunt Concert Co. is new only in name. They are all artists of estabilshed reputation, having made their success with the well known Bostonian Sextette. This company received the very highest praise while touring the New England States last Lyceum season. This indicates to any Lyceum Committee that while the music is what is termed "High Class," the selections are chosen to meet our Lyceum audiences and their demands for a first class Concert Company—with ability plus personality. The program rendered by these select artists is versatile and varied. All are soloists in their various lines. Ensemble work consists of violin, cello, piano and voice. Besides this, the usual trios of violin, cello and piano, interspersed here and there with readings, short stories and sketches—giving just the needed variety that will help everyone enjoy the program from beginning to end.

Miss Electa Hunt, soprano, has an unusual dramatic soprano voice, rich in suality and of big range and power. She first made an enviable reputation about Boston and later was a very popular concert artist with the famous Bostonian Sextette. Miss Hunt has great ability and charming personality.

Miss Alice Hunt, Pianist and Reader, is an experienced Chautauqua and Lyceum artist with unusual personality that captivates her audiences at once.

They have pages of press notices and testimonial letters concerning the artists who will appear in the Hunt Co. Space will not allow us to print these words of praise.

This company will give a performance in connection with the Lyceum Course at Washington College.

Never Were Spring Garments So Alluringly Beautiful

AND NEVER MORE MODESTLY PRICED

Along comes Spring! How shall she be followed? Ah—the all important question of the hour! Inklings about new turns and twists of fabrics, new shadings in colors, new style details in general—everything which marks the mode as authentically new—means satisfaction to the truly feminine. She must know. Here are the facts. Spring garments arriving daily, gay, thoroughly charming with Paris and great originality in its make-up, is here for her approval. Visit these early displays if you would know what's what.

THE DRESSES

Selecting one's first Spring Frock is always an exhilarating sort of experience. This delightfully varied collection promises to be even more. Simplicity of design marks the mode—witt skirt lengths and waistlines acting very conservatively. A trimming note looming up importantly is found in beading of many sorts with colorful embroidery and tucking arrangements sharing honors, too. Grey shades will come to the fore both in day time and evening models, with crushed berry, almond green, beige, eslate blue and pomegranate favored also.

THE COATS

Belted or Beltless Mannish Spring Topcoats have a jolly air about them. Notched lapels, reglan sleeves, inverted centre back pleats, doubly stitched or flapped pockets and widely spaced two-button fronts are style details of the moment. Who couldn't go off for a hike or a motor ride happily in one of these? And, then, we are also showing a most comprehensive array of dress coats which are fashioned in most appealing styles from luxurious pil-fabrics; trimmings are varied yet none are other than practical. A full range of the most desirable colors.

AND, REMEMBER OUR SERVICE

Indeed, we are quite proud of the service we render in all transactions. Nothing is too much trouble when your satisfaction is to be considered. A special order—whether it be for a garment, for a length of material, a pair of shoes—for anything, in fact, is given immediate attention and carefully looked after until you have received it and are entirely satisfied. Remember, we maintain a New York Office in order to take care of such special, hurry-up orders you may wish to give us.

Price

Some folks judge price by the figures on the tag, and complain because things they buy don't give satisfaction.

The price ticket with the lowest figures may be on the most expensive piece of goods.

It is what you get for what you pay that counts.
