Ms. Alice Duarte, Anthony Taylor marry

WASHINGTON

A lovely wedding took place last Saturday afternoon at the northwest home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Williams when their attractive granddaughter, Alice Duarte, and Anthony Taylor were wed in a double-ring ceremony by the Rev. Henry Battle.

Family members and friends gathered in the living room, the dining room and the back sitting room to witness the rites before the huge fireplace, flanked by two beautiful palms and a lovely white floral centerpiece on the mantle.

Given in marriage by her father, David Duarte of Los Angeles, the young bride was radiant in a long white dress with white tiny satin straps, which tied on the shoulders. White satin ribbons also accented the tiered gown. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with green leaves on cascading streamers and wore baby's breath in her hair.

Miss Tanya Bland, the maid of honor, was becoming in a peach organza gown.

Keith Martin served as best man.

The new Mrs. Taylor, daughter of Mrs. Mary Duarte of northwest Washington is a graduate of Coolidge High School. She is a secretary at National Savings and Trust.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Bessie Taylor and Arthur Taylor, graduated from Suitland High School. He is also an employee of National Savings and Trust.

The couple, showered with numerous gifts received best wishes from more than one hundred guests who enjoyed ham, turkey, chicken, salads, fresh fruit balls and cake.

Among them were Gene Sator, Cornelius and Betty Duarte, Joe and Rose Duarte, John Duarte, Jr., Patrick Duarte, Charles and Shirley Hall Delores Duarte and Denise Hall of Connecticut; David Duarte of Monetrey, California; Jeffrey Duarte, Melvin and Mary Jackson, Larry Jackson, Delores Lefalle;

Mae Combs, Cecelia White, Robert Lancaster, Clyde Porter, Agnes Rosier, Bessie Long, Barbara Porter; V. Taylor, Ines Prater and Son, Paul; Birey and Priscilla Richardson, David Cornell, Joseph, Barbara and Patricia Pope, Denise and Anthony Diggs, Veronica Bowman, Trainor Bland, Grether Dunn;

Camille Martin, Mary Thomas, Laurie Thomas, Constance Jordan, Alice Daniel, Shirley and Sharon Mosley, Deborah Smoot, Cheryl Green, Charles Whitaker, Regina Pough, Doc and Mazie Holland and twins, Lisa and Lynn; Juanita Jaime, Cline Porter, Marie Jackson, Stephanie Marshall, Agnes C. Rozier, Rhetta Porter, great-grandmother of the bride, and Sgt. and Mrs. Charles Shamwell and daughter, Shanna Nakatani.

Columbia Chapter B&P Women open fall meeting

It was a lovely morning last Saturday when the Columbia Chapter of Negro Business & Professional Women opened their first early fall meeting after a fantastic summer.

The meeting was held in the home of Myrtle Jackson, first vice president and program chairlady on the west side of the city.

Our newly elected president Ethel Hill didn't waste much time getting the meeting started after a bit of chit chat among the group. She opened the meeting and followed her agenda nicely.

The 1981 - 82 program was presented by Myrtle Jackson, a terrific program plan which touched on the theme for the ensuing year, "Realities for Women in the New Decade: Confrontation, Involvement, Advocacy."

Members of the chapter will be involved in the Long Reach Fair, Saturday, Sept. 12, confrontation; There will be a personal Safety - Defense Seminar, open to the public October 3rd at eh Grempler Building; a Fashion Show - Buffet scheduled for November; A Black History Fair featuring black organizations in Howard County.

An annual Retreat is planned also, a Founder's Day Luncheon and awards ceremony and a Holiday party at Christmas.

At each meeting the members will have a half and half raffle and the lucky winner will take half of the money earned. The program was approved and a standing ovation was given to the committee.

Doni Cook, newly selected staff member at Howard University was congratulated for accepting a position as assistant Dean in the architectural and planning department. She will also teach two classes at Morgan State University.

Mrs. Cook presented to the members a professionally prepared professional and community service profile for each member to fill out. She was highly commended on a job well done.

The club ladies will also have a Baal or throne for its members.

If there are women interested in the Columbia Chapter, please observe the following criteria:

Must have actively engaged in a business for two years, or profession, owner or co - owner manager . . . graduated from an accredited college or university, graduated from a technical program leading to certification, professionally licensed or certified by any state, engaged in civil service and have reached an administrative level. If you meet those qualification, please call 730 - 6609 or 465 - 0123 for an application.

Jackie Banks and daughter Renae had a wonderful trip to Los Angeles, Cal. this summer. Jackie is a long time Baltimore city school teacher. She said it seemed like home when she reached Los Angeles.

Among the Baltimoreans visited were: Elaine Swan and daughter Gail, Elaine a former Baltimore city teacher and daughter now assistant principal in L.A. Also visited were Sheilia Chapman Murchison, Dr. Marcia Chapman Mills, Monk and Gloretta Cooper.

Jackie and Renae were hosted by 73 years young Carrie Brown and Curtis Brown, former Baltimoreans, Irene Mitchell Horn and E. Louise Jackson, former Baltimore school teacher.

From Baltimore also were William and Sarah Lazzin, hosted brother and sister in law Ernest and Margaret Lazzin.

Program for elderly

The federal government has agreed to continue a $3.5 million program for long-term health care for the elderly in Maryland.

The decision, announced by Governor Harry Hughes and Baltimore Mayor William Donald Schaefer, came after the two Maryland officials wrote Health and Human Services Secretary Richard Schweiker asking that the program be continued.

Hansboroughs of Vienna mark 50th anniversary

The fiftieth wedding anniversary of Edith and Cortelyou Hansborough of Vienna, Va., was celebrated, Saturday, Sept. 5, with a renewal of their marriage vows before an overcrowded church audience at Mount Salvation Baptist Church in Arlington, Va.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fred Pretty, pastor, Mt. Salvation Church, with the Rev. Glenwood Roane assisting. Soloist was Eloise Stover with James Grayson, organist.

Attendants included Gloria Carter, Jean Brown, Edward Hansborough, William Braxton and Jessie Garnett. Ushers were Charles Brown, James Brown, James Carter Sr., Elemer Craig and James Pelham. Joyce Dawkins was directress.

Edith Alice Brown, daughter of the late Charles R. and Lillie W. Brown, originally exchanged marriage vows with Cortelyou W. Hansborough, son of the late Edward W. and Lavinia T. Hansborough on Sept. 9, 1931, in Fredericksburg, Virginia.

The ceremony was performed by the late Rev. Melvin L. Murchison, and the attendants were the late Martha Lewis Murchinson and the late James G. Hansborough.

From this union three children were born, Patricia (deceased), Gloria and Edward.

There are three grandchildren, Tamara Hansborough, James R. Carter Jr., Marcia E. Carter and a devoted niece, Jean Brown.
