THE TRANSCRIPT

Entered at the Postoffice at Chestertown, Md., as Second Class Matter.

THE resignation of Mr. Stuart Olivier as general manager of the Baltimore News and American is a distinct loss to the press of the state. Mr. Olivier has managed the Baltimore News since March,1908, and the American for the past two years. Both papers have shown decided improvements under his management. Mr. Olivier was associated with the News for twenty-five years, starting as a reporter and advanced to his present position through the various departments of the paper.

WITH this issue of the paper we pass into the first month of spring and the time when our farmers start active work on the farm. We hope that this year will show an improvement in general farm conditions and that the farmer will begin to feel the general betterment of business conditions which are apparent in almost every line of work. It seems to be a fact that the farmer is the first to feel a decline and the last to feel an improvement in the economic world. We hope, however, that this improvement is on the way.

THE appointment of Philip B. Perlman, Secretary of State, and close political ally of Governor Ritchie, as a member of the Jackson Publicity Committee, is further evidence of the fact that the Governor will support Mr. Howard W. Jackson in his fight for mayor of Baltimore City. At the present time it looks as if Mr. Jackson will be the Democratic candidate for mayor. Mr. Preston, former mayor, will run on an independent ticket in the general election, while it appears that Mr. Broening, the present mayor, will be the Republican nominee for re-election. The fight in Baltimore city promises to be an interesting one and one which will have a decided influence on the gubernatorial fight in the state this fall. The fight will be between Preston and the Mahon-Kelly machine. The Republicans' only hope seems to be that this fight will split the Democratic vote and result in the election of Mr. Broening. It is hoped that this will not prove to be the case.

SPORTS

WASHINGTON COLLEGE NOW UNDISPUTED CHAMPIONS OF THE BASKETBALL FLOOR IN STATE—OTHER NOTES

Washington College has finally and without the shadow of the slightest doubt clinched the basketball championship of this state and also of the state of Virginia, if they want to annex that title also, although, perhaps, it would be well to let the Virginia teams fight it out for those honors. Washington has won the title, without dropping a single game to a state team. In fact, not one of them has forced the local collegians to extend Loyola played the final game of the season here Wednesday evening before a big crowd. The score was 37 to 12 in favor of W. C., Loyola making but two baskets against the first team, and these were from the midlle of the floor. Washington outplayed them easily. Washington led, 20 to 6 at the close of the first half. With the exception of Captain Gordy, who missed some easy ones, but played a great defensive and obensive game. Dumschott played perhaps his fastest game while here, while Carroll, Carrington and Fiore were in fine shape.

Cecilton and a W. C. team played the preliminary game, which was quite themselves. Coach Kibler's great basketball combination is the greatest athletic team which ever represented Washington College in any field of sport.

For the second time this season, W. C. defeated St. John's, at Annapolis, on Friday evening last, the score being 22-13. Washington jumped into the lead at the start and had no difficulty in holding it, St. John's being unable to cage the ball but once from the floor.

Blue Ridge College were easy victims of W. C. Saturday night here, the score being 39 to 17. Carroll was the star of the game with seven goals, but the whole team did well. Blue Ridge did well for a short time, but W. C. eventually swamped them.

John McGraw says that Hans Wagner was the greatest ball player of them all. When one reads the wonderful records of Cobb and the others, he is led to doubt, somewhat, this bold assertion.

—County Supt. of Athletics of Queen Annes, John T. Bruehl, of Centreville, has organized an all-star, county-wide baseball team, comcosed of the best players on the high school teams of the county.

The W. C. champion basketball team will play its last game of the season on Friday evening, March 9, at the First Regiment Armory, Salisbury. A team composed of Eastern Shore "All Stars," composed of the pick of this year's Cambridge, Salisbury, Laurel, Seaford and Milford teams, will be their opponents.

Lene Tunney regained the title of light-heavyweight champion of U. S. on Saturday night by deefating Harry Greb, holder of the title.

Cavanaugh, W. C.'s quarter last fall, [illegible] all-around athlete. He is a star first sacker, so the report goes, and a good batter.

Flowers, star short stop, and Johnson, star third baseman, will doubtless play again in the Eastern Shore League this year. Folwers has signed, but Johnston has not signed yet.

Gordy will probably play again in the Eastern Shore League this season.

Carrington, one of the greatest guards ever on the local basketball floor, and doubtless one of the best in the country, is said to be a crack catcher—and we don't doubt it. A man who can play basketball like Carrington, or any of the balance of the W. C. quint, shoul be able to do almost anything in the way of athletics.

Pryor Armstrong should be a big addition to the athletics of Washington College. He is a good man in all branches of college sport and we expect him to make good.

Washington College played like real champions at Baltimore Thursday evening against the Young Men's Hebrew Association Club, composed of a picked team of stars and won by the score of 31 to 26. The game was much closer than was expected, but W. C. was master of the situation at all stages o fthe contest. Dumschott was the heaviest scorer of the game, while Carroll got seven foul shots out of fifteen attempts.

"THE BEAUTIFUL RESTS ON THE FOUNDATION OF THE NECESSARY."--Emerson.

It's springtime now, all over the store! A bower of spring blooming beauty—the spirit, color and inspiration of a new spring caught and crystallized and set forth in the concrete form of new merchandise.

As we pause for a moment and look about us, these words of Emerson come to mind, for everything here presented is the necessary clothed in a radiant beauty, beautiful in its form or in its purpose.

And the vision grows greater as we pass in review the guiding principles in the upbuilding of this store, which have become this honored creed –

—APPRECIATION of what makes a success and a fixed desire to take the patient steps leading to it.

—RECOGNITION that excellence for its own sake is alone worth while.

—EAGERNESS to absorb new ideas, to neglect no opportunity, to correct all errors.

—DETERMINATION to forego temporary gain and build for permanent success.

Whatever measure of success we have attained we acknowledge unreservedly is due in greatest part to the people who have recognized the big, vital purpose of this store and brought to it their patronage.

Not a day will pass without the blossoming of something necessary and beautiful in the store. Each day will see us expending our every energy in the service of a clientele as generously appreciative as the people of this community.

Some folks judge price by the figures on the tag, and complain because things they buy don't give satisfaction.

The price ticket with the lowest figures may be on the most expensive piece of goods.
