SHOCKED ENFORCER OF LAW

Man Who Placed His Arm Around His Fiancee in Theater Brought Instantly to Book.

Love in a picture theater in Newark is not a bed of roses, as Peter Catenacci, twenty-two years old, found the other night when he put his arm over the shoulder of his fiancee at the show in a movie theater.

John J. Hickey, special officer in the theater, suddenly saw the young couple in that affectionate position, and was horrified.

"Take your arm off that girl!" he shouted, so loudly that everyone in the house turned from the screen to the loving young couple.

"This girl is my fiancee, and I have my arm around her, because I love her," replied the unabashed Catenacci. "So long as she doesn't object I don't see what business it is of yours."

"It is against the law to make love in a theater," declared the special officer.

"I'm not making love to you," was Catenacci's rejoinder, "so why should you object?"

This piece of logic so infuriated the conscientious preserver of law and order in the theater that he arrested the young man. Acting Police Judge Guthrie freed Catenacci, declaring he felt incompetent to decide of what "making love" consists.—From a New York Letter in the Pittsburgh Dispatch.

SELLING EMPTY EGG SHELLS

How Chinese Boys Make Money When the Fish Are Known to Be in the Hatching Season.

Earning pocket-money by selling empty eggshells is how many Chinese boys add to their savings during the fish-hatching season.

Fish hatching in China is often conducted with the aid of a hen. First, the fish spawn is collected from the water. A quantity is placed in each eggshell, the open end of which is sealed with a special kind of wax. This done, the eggs are placed under sitting hens.

After the third or fourth day each egg is tested. If the hatching is complete the shells are broken, and the spawn is emptied into water and placed in the sun's powerful rays.

Soon the little fish are strong enough to be moved. Their next home is in water a few degrees colder, and this lowering of temperature goes on until they can stand the cold water of the lakes and streams.

The Chinese boy, by selling empty eggshells, earns more money during the hatching season than at any other time of the year.

Gave His Son Hard Jobs.

P. D. Armour, founder of Armour & Co., liked to pose as a rich man, it is said. He liked the feel of money and to give it away. He had 100 $1 bills put on his desk each morning, and before nightfall he usually managed to get rid of them.

His son, J. Ogden Armour, has said that he had no more choice in becoming the head of Armour & Co. than the prince of Wales in becoming the king of England.

"To get the right kind of men we begin early," J. Ogden Armour said recently. "We are more particular about hiring office boys than about anything else connected with the business. For the office boys of today will become our department managers tomorrow."

His father having antipathy for "soft" young men, put "J. O." in every hard job. He has served in every department both at the stock yards and in the office.

Eat Less, Live Longer.

The great majority of human ills arise from overeating and lack of exercise and fresh air, according to Jack Taylor, the "scholar gypsy," who reached New York on his way to southern California by way of the Atlantic coast states, Florida, Louisiana, Texas and Arizona, walking and camping all the way.

Mr. Taylor, who is sixty-nine years old, said that ten years ago he was a commercial traveler whom the physicians had given only a few months to live. He determined to revolutionize his habits, gathered together a camping outfit, and since that time has confined himself to a diet of raw eggs and corn meal, chocolate, raisins, rye bread and molasses. Since he began his new life he has walked 8,000 miles, lying in the open and camping under the stars. The average human being, he says, eats far more than he should.

She Kept It Going.

Emphasizing the virtue of persistence, Mrs. Kathleen Norris says, as quoted in the Boston Advertiser:

"When my husband was a magazine editor in 1910, a certain battered and travel-worn story, a novelette, came to his office and was immediately rejected. Two years later, when he was on another magazine, the story reappeared. It was unchanged, the same little child story of optimism and hope. This second magazine paid a small sum for it, and it was serialized."—From the Outlook.

Invention to Prevent Speeding.

In Rome the narrow streets and steep hills render motoring rather precarious at best and there is no room for the speed maniac. An automatic regulator which will limit the speed within the city proper is being seriously considered. This invention depends on a type of governor and is the result of the inventive labors of Messrs. Fragano and Villa.—Scientific American.

GOT KNOWLEDGE FROM STARS

Ancient Egyptians Said to Have Been Able to Foretell Coming Events With Accuracy.

The ancient Egyptians were great astronomers and astrologers. Their priests knew how to calculate solar and lunar eclipses, and their religion was founded on astronomy. They had a theory of belief in a mysterious relation between the spirits of the stars and human souls and they thought that the destiny of mortals was regulated by the motion of the heavenly bodies. From the conjunction of planets at the hour of birth, they prophesied what would be the temperament of a child. The horoscope also foretold the kind of life he would live and what manner of death he would die. Of these astrologers, Diodorous, who wrote during the century preceding Christ says: "They frequently foretell with the greatest accuracy what is about to happen to mankind; show the failure or abundance of crops and the epidemic diseases about to befall men and cattle. Earthquake, deluges, risings of comets and all those phenomena, the knowledge of which appears impossible to common apprehensions, they foresee by means of their long-continued observation."

CAT'S MARK OF CONTENTMENT

Purr Proves That Pussy Is Just at That Moment Particularly Pleased With World.

We know that the cat purrs when she is pleased. But just how she does it, beyond the fact that she is breathing in a way which causes a peculiar vibration, we do not know. Place your hand on the chest of a man speaking or singing in a low deep voice and you will experience a distinct vibration. It is only this vibration, much exaggerated, that we feel when we stroke a purring pussy. Other "cats" besides our domestic pet also purr, the note in the case of a large animal such as a puma rather resembling a roar. A seldom-noticed peculiarity of the purr is that it continues both during breathing "in" and "out"; careful observation will detect a slight break in the purr with the change of breath. The purr is no more than an expression of emotional satisfaction. Just as some of us, when feeling particularly pleased with life, will instinctively and almost unconsciously hum, so will a cat purr when it is contented.

Tammany Hall of New York.

The Tammany society of New York was incorporated soon after the Revolutionary war. Its meetings took place in Tammany hall, so often distinguished in the political history of the country. Many of the soldiers and sages of the republic became members of the society, for it was based upon the broadest republican principles. It was in favor of government by the people, of freedom of speech and religion and of the liberty of the press. Originally established for benevolent purposes, it became political as soon as an aristocratic element was suspected to be growing strong, favorable to a standing army and extensive navy in time of peace, to heavy taxes and to alien and sedition laws, such as were in vogue in the time of the elder Adams, when a large party desired to empower the president so that he could expel suspected foreigners from the soil of the United States, says the Detroit News.

The Willys-Knight sleeve-valve engine actually improves with use. It is even smoother and more powerful at 5,000 miles than when new. Carbon only makes it better. Many owners report 50,000 miles of brilliant performance without engine adjustment. And a Willys-Knight engine has never been known to wear out.
