THE TRANSCRIPT

THE getting together of the state leaders on the state ticket has averted what promised to be a bitter political state fight, and should assure the Democratic party of a sweeping victory next fall. The ticket agreed upon is Albert C. Ritchie for governor; Thos. H. Robinson, of Harford county, for attorney-general; W. S. Gordy, of Wicomico, for comptroller; and John M. Dennis, of Baltimore county, for state treasurer. It is to be hoped that the leaders in this county will show as good judgment as have the state leaders, and agree upon a ticket here instead of forcing the county into a primary fight. We believe this can be done by giving and taking, which will cement the party together, instead of separating it.

THE action of the Federal Government in notifying Kent County fishermen that the Federal law requiring that stake nets can not be placed in more than 20 feet of water, will be rigidly enforced, is a vital matter to the whole county. So many people in Kent are dependant upon fishing for a living and being situated as we are practically surrounded by water, this enforcement will seriously affect a number of our people. For many years there has been a noticeable decrease in fish in our waters and this action on the part of the Federal government is designed to increase the stock of fish. With the enormous amount of money appropriated every year by the Federal Government for the propagation and increase of fish we wonder if it would not be a wiser plan for the government to inquire into the efficiency and manner in which this money is spent for the increase of fisheries rather than in restricting the catch by fishermen. If the propogation and dispensing of young fish received proper attention on the part of the Federal authorities to whom this duty is entrusted, with our enormous water ways in Maryland and natural facilities for fish, we do not believe that there would be the necessity for restricting the means of lively-hood for so many of the inhabitants of our State. If the source of supply is increased in the proper manner, the supply will naturally increase and as we have a law prohibiting the catching of fish below a certain size, there should be no need of a law restricting the place of nets. We hope that our fishermen are successiful in their efforts to convince the Federal authoriscoring three runs. Washington then began an uphill fight to overcome this lead, which they nearly succeded in doing, until the seventh, when Ruis, with two on for Mt. St. Mary's rapped out a triple. W. C. got men on continually, but they were unable to put over the runs. Hickman was hit hard at times. Flowers made three hits out of as many times up and scored three of Washington's runs.

Johnson and Flowers are now playing with Cambridge in the Eastern Shore League, which started its season yesterday. Washington College will miss them. They are two of the best infielders who ever played the game at the College.

Kennedyville has organized a fast team for summer baseball. This town always has a team to be reckoned with. There are, perhaps, more good baseball players around Kennedyville than any other town on the Shore. They recently defeated Millington by a big score.

Henry Matthews, of Worton, besides being a good checker player is an athlete of unusual ability, which was demonstrated at the recent meet here.

In spite of the fact that W. C. has a good baseball team, the attendance has been rather poor.

In a game which was lost and won a half dozen times, Washington College finally downed the U. S. Marines Thursday afternoon, in a titantic 12-inning struggle on Washington Field by the score of 9 to 8. The Marines started the scoring in the first inning, but Washington went them one better in their half of the same stanza and held a safe lead until the seventh when the Marines scored four runs. W. C. came back strong in the eighth and tallied twice, but the Marines again tied the score in the ninth. Then the two teams settled down for a death struggle which was finally broken in the twelfth, when McGinness scored on Holland's bunt and Van Buren erred in an attempt to throw him out at second. The team presented a new lineup. Holland was behind the bat, Carrington going to short; Rayne was at third in place of Johnston. The team worked well against a strong aggregation.

WONDERFUL ACTING BY JACKIE COOGAN

Those who have seen Jackie Coogan in "Trouble," his newest First National attraction, at the Lyceum Theatre this week, probably never will forget the court room scene in which the little fellow does a tremendous piece of acting—and those who do not see it will have something to regret as long as pictures are shown and discussed.

Jackie, who plays the part of an orphan adopted into the home of a plumber, is called upon by the judge to testify against his foster father, on trial for wife beating and an attempt to kill a policeman. The little fellow, who had brought the battling brute to earth by hitting him in the head with a flower pot, makes an excellent witness.

Standing before the witness chair, Jackie gives a graphic description, in pantomime, of the fight from the time it started until he brought it to an end. He shows how the prisoner had beaten his wife and how he turned on the rescuing policeman. By gestures and facial expression, he shows how the policeman and the bully fought and swayed around a room until the latter finally landed a lucky punch, knocking the officer unconscious. He pictured how the brute was preparing to brain the insensible man with a chair when he, Jackie, intervened with a well aimed flower pot and put him hors du combat.

All this Jackie tells and, unlike the usual photoplay, his story does not need visualizing by means of flashes of the original action. There is not a single fadeback and only two brief subtitles during his recital, which occupies about ten minutes of the picture's running time.

This example of screen acting stamps Jackie as a truly great artist. "Trouble" will be at the Lyceum Friday and Saturday.
