WASHINGTON COLLEGE

The Adelphia Literary Society elected its officers for the first term of the coming collegiate year. The following men were elected to their respective offices: A. E. Goodrich, president; E. L. Kaiser, vice-president; A. A. Soifer, recording secretary; R. J. Bounds, correspondence secretary; L. E. Cooper, treasurer; D. McMenamin, critic; E. F. Keenan, sergeant-at-arms; and C. Armstrong, chaplain.

Previous to the war it had been customary for the literary societies of the Hill to choose from amongst the seniors one member who had done the most work for his society during the whole collegiate career. The member who was so designated received a medal in recognition for that work. For the past few years this practice has been abandoned. This year saw the revival of that old custom. In recognition for the work he has done for his society Mr. Gilbert V. Byron, of Baltimore, Md. was elected Mt. Vernon man. A similar honor was placed upon Mr. Conrad M. Wingate, of Wingate, Md. The two students so honored will receive their medals at commencement.

The Dramatic Association gave a fare well banquet to Dr. C. P. Gould, the guests of honor. Speeches were given by Messrs. Gordy, Claggett, Langham, and Howes. Mr. Wingate presented Dr. Gould, the director of the Dramatic Association, with a handsome traveling set. In one of his introductions Prof. Howell suggested, and it is hoped that his suggestion is accepted, that the Association make a banquet its annual affair. The menu consisted of fruit cocktail a la Italian, broiled spring chicken a la Maryland, green peas, new potatoes, Waldorf dinner rolls, sweet pickles, stuffed olives, hearts of celery, stuffed tomato salad, saltines, harlequin ice cream, Wafers, mints and demi tasse. Miss Helen B. Jones was chairman of the committee on arrangements.

The junior class elected the following officers for the coming scholastic year, on June 1: R. J. Bounds, president; D. McMenamin, vice-president; Miss D. Woodall, secretary; Miss E. Jewell, treasurer; R. J. Bounds and E. L. Kaiser, Student Council representatives.

The members of the Cotillion Club elected Mr. Preston P. Heck as chairman of the organization for the coming year.

Professor D. Cannady called a meeting of all the officers of the student organizations for the purpose of getting their cooperation to publish a college hand book. The book would contain a list of all the college organizations, their objects, their histories, the names of their officers and their addresses, the college songs and cheers, a description ofthe honor system, the constitution of the student council and a history of the college. Such a hand book would be of great value and interest to new students, old students and alumni. Its value as a means of integration between students, friends and alumni of the college can not be over estimated. It is sincerely hoped that Professor Cannady's plan will meet with full success.

On June 1, the sophomore class elected officers for the coming year. The following sophomores were elected to fill their respective offices: Jarman, President; Usilton, Vice-pres; Cooper secretary; Bankert, treasurer; Jarman and Cooper, student council representatives.

Examinations began Monday, June 4, 9 a. m. and are to continue till Monday, June 11.

The freshman class, on June 4, elected the following officers: Stewart president; Rice, vice-president; Ryan, secretary; Raine, treasurer; Stewart, cheer leader; Rankin and Wheeler, student council representatives.

At its election last week the Mt. Vernon Literary Society failed to elect a treasurer. On June 4, the society held a special meeting and elected Lucien Powell to fill that office.

The student body, on May 25, elected the officers for its various organizations for the scholaristic year 1923-24. Griffith was elected president of the Student Council, Goodrich, vice-president and J. Bankert, secretary-treasurer. The faculty elected Professor Howell to represent on the Council, and the election was approved by the student body the same day. The following officers were elected for the athletic association; R. Bounds, president; E. Kaiser, vice-president; C. Armstrong, secretary and P. Heck treasurer. The managers of the college teams for the following year are as follows: Griffith, foot ball; Duffy, basket ball; R. Bounds, base ball. The assistant managers are as follows: Knight, foot ball; Cooper, basket ball; Culley, base ball. Mr. Kaiser was elected tennis manager and Lohran assistant manager. Professor Howell was elected chairman of the athletic committee. The following officers were elected on the Collegian Staff: D. McMenamin, editor; R. Bounds, business manager; Cooper, associate editor; Jarman, assistant business manager.

The Mt. Vernon Literary Society elected the following officers for the year 1923-24, on May 28: Preston P. Heck, president; Helen B. Jones, vice-president; S. Heck, critic; Owen Knight recording secretary; Helen Mills, corresponding secretary; Miss Hammer, historian; J. Spear, sergent-at-arms.

The Washington College Cotillion Club held its May Hop in the college gymnasium, Friday, May 25. The Hall was beautifully decorated with a red dome and colored paper streamers. The music was exceptionally good and the attendance was large. The decoration committee consisted of William H. Ruark, chairman; Luther Cooper, and Albert A. Soifer. Music was furnished by Peck Mills' Marylanders, of Cumberland, Md.

The old Quvdrumairate held its third morning, to spend the whole day row-River, Sunday, May 27. This little group was formed in the Freshman class that entered in the year 1920. It has limited its membership to four members of its class. The original four including Kaiser, Levy, Peregoy and Reed. After his first year Reed did not return to college, so to complete the Quadrumvirate Goodrich was invited to join. With the exception of this one change the Quadrumvirate has remained the same for the past three years. It has been the custom of this group to leave on an early Sunday monring, to spend the whole day rowing, swimming, boating about and to return in time for supper, a happy, hungry, sun-burnt group.
