Fish Fry At Quaker Neck Wharf

The Men's Club of Emmanuel P. E. Church held a crab and fish fry at Quaker Neck Wharf on Thursday evening. Soft crabs and fish were served in abundance and the party enjoyed boating, swimming and horse shoe pitching. One of the events was a horse-shoe pitching contest between Mr. William G. Smyth, representing Maryland, and Mr. James G. Metcalfe, whose art at this game was acquired in the State of Virginia. The contest was a very close one and resulted in a victory for Mr. Metcalfe. It is rumored, however, that the contest will be continued at a later date, as Mr. Smyth believes that he can place the honors on the Maryland side.

This was a very enjoyable affair and was well managed by Messrs. D. B. Ford and R. Hynson Rogers.

Spain Takes To Football

In view of the universal condemnation which bull-fighting has aroused throughout Europe, Spaniards have decided that football is the nearest approach in the matter of carnage and have adopted the game as one of their national sports. The old arena at Ronda in Andalusia has been converted into a gridiron and the demand for football has invaded Seville, where matches are as popular as bull fighting. It is singular that in Seville a regular bull-fight was postponed on account of a championship match between the Europa and Seville football teams, interest in whhci had aroused enthusiasm like the American mania for baseball.
