WOMEN IN CONFERENCE

Four Days Were Given To Study Of Problems, With Various Entertainment

Three hundred women from all over the state attended the conference of the members of the rural women's clubs at the University of Maryland, last week. Sessions began Tuesday morning and continued to Friday, inclusive.

Almost everthing that pertains to the management of a home was taken up during the four-day meeting and persons well versed in the subjects of food, clothing, healh, poultry raising, dairying, landscape gardening,etc., addressed and tutored the various assemblies.

There was no music, community singing, folk dancing and other phases of entertainment.

Dr. A. F. Woodds, president of the University, presided at Tuesday's meeting; Dr. T. B. Symons, of the Extension Service was in charge on Wednesday and Dr. H. J. Patterson, director of the Extension Station, was in charge on Thursday during the early session, while Mrs. H. C. Foster, president of the Washington County Federation, presided Friday, the afternoon of which was spent in a sightseeing trip to Washington.

A number of addresses were given during the four days. Speakers Tuesday were Miss Clara H. Burroughs, supervisor of music in the Washington high schools; Dr. C. B. Smyth, of the United States Department of Agriculture; Dr. Patterson and Dr. Symons.

Reception Wednesday Evening

The principal addresses Wednesday were given by Miss Grace Frysinger, of the United States Department of Agriculture, who spoke on "The Farm Woman a Factor in Economics," and Mrs. Betty Sippel, president of the Maryland State Federation of Women's Clubs. Dr. Symons and Dr. Homer House, in charge of music at the University also talked. Dr. Woods gave a reception in the evening at Gerneaux Hall.

M. M. Stewart, secretary of the State Farm Bureau, and Miss Lavina Engle, State director, League of Women Voters, gave the principal addresses on Thursday. Mr. Stewart spoke on "Woman's part in the Farm Bureau." Dr. Patterson and Miss Burroughs also spoke.

Friday Miss Adele Stamp, dean of women at the University, spoke on women's work at the institution, while Miss Ola Powell, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, told of the home demonstration work in France. Dr. House was also on the program.

Subjects and Instructors

The subjects taken up and instructors were: Food, Mrs. Claribel Welsh; Miss Nina Simmonds; Miss Hannah Wessling. Household Management, Mrs. Marion C. Bell, Ray Carpenter; E. J. Murphy. Plans are being made to make this Short Course an annual affair. Too much credit cannot be given Dr. A. F. Woods, President of the University, who left no stone unturned to make the Short Course a success.

The following women attended from Kent County: Mrs. Chas. H. Ashley, Piney Neck; Mrs. Emma Downey, Rock Hall; Mrs. Wilbur Morris, Worton; Mrs. Ellsworth Newcomb, Chestertown; Mrs. Joseph Viskovitch, Rock Hall; Mrs. H. B. POULTRY NOTES

Items Concerning The Raising Of Poultry That Will Interest Many Of Our Readers

The poultry industry in Kent Co. is producing a great deal of the wealth of the county and is helping our farmers in many ways.

The season for weeding out non-producers is now at hand. Intelligent culling at this season works a two-fold advantage in that it reduces the feed bill and at the same time has the effect of raising the average yield per hen. During the coming months as many as 10 per cent of the birds can be culled without decreasing the egg yield.

The only object in keeping a male bird is to provide hatchable eggs. The hatching season for layers and breeders should be at an end now. Remove all males that you do not intend to keep over. Infertile eggs keep far better than fertile eggs, especially in hot weather. Produce infertile eggs now. Swat the rooster!

Don't sell all your young cockerels for broilers. Select your breeders from the best of your flock for next year's pen birds. Market the cockerels not desired as soon as they reach a pound and a half to two pounds.

Keep your young stock growing and well by giving them plenty of shade and fresh water. They need both, and green feed too.

IN THE SPORTING WHIRL

Interesting Items Concerning Many Sports In Places Far Removed

Chestertown is about as void of sports at this time as the Sahara is of water, yachting and swimming being about the only things that we know of there is to wile away the time for the ones looking for enjoyment. However, with the fishing season about here and The Transcript putting on a subscription contest whereby a Studebaker will be given away absolutely free, life will not be so dull after all that one will be compelled to do something rash in order to keep down the desire to commit suicide. Anyhow, if there is anyone who can find nothing to do, we commend him to the tender mercies of our farmers, who can find lucrative employment for him in the harvest fields.

In the coming contest for the heavyweight championship of the world between Jack Dempsey and Tom Gibbons at Shelby, Mont., on July 4, we look for Gibbons to be hearing the catbirds calling in about the sixth round. We figure that Gibbons is about 25 per cent better than Carpentier, who lasted around four rounds.

The third annual Chesapeake Bay Workboat Races, under the auspices of The Sun and The Evening Sun and the Chesapeake Bay Yacht Club, to determine the fastest sailing and motor craft typical of the Chesapeake Bay, will be held Saturday, Aug. 18.

The race for the pennant in the Eastern Shore League is a close fight. Four team are tied or nearly tied for first place. Cambridge is making a big spurt and promises to make a good bid for the flag.

The fight between Willard and Firpo, to determine the opponent for Dempsey gives promise of being a real bruising match, with prospective honors nearly divided. Firpo is being picked as the winner by many, but if Willard ever lands one of his uppercups on his chin, he will see a myriad or stars from a thickly studded heaven.

Concerning the statement in a recent issue of our paper as to whether the old Chestertown team was superior to the Eastern Shore League teams, the Worcester Democrat, in a recent issue, takes issue with us, citing the trip down the Shore of our team to show that we only split 50-50, and in closing says, "However, it is all a speculation; the matter can never be put to a test, and everyone is entitled to his own opinion.

Reporting Service Troubles

Telephone service embraces a variety of operations: the installation of telephones and changes in location; operating; maintenance of the central office equipment, outside plant and other apparatus; accurate and up-to-date directory listings; billing; collecting and numerous other things needed to give complete and satisfactory service.

We realize that at times difficulties will arise. Usually these are quickly remedied but there is always a possibility that some defect may develop which, in spite of our efforts, is not detected immediately.

It will help if you will make reports to us in the following way:

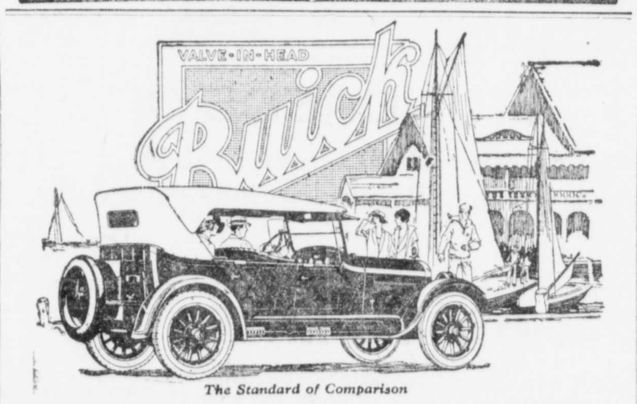

CALL THE REPAIR CLERK if your telephone is out of order. It will be repaired without delay.

CALL THE CHIEF OPERATOR if your calls are not completed satisfactorily. You will receive prompt and courteous attention.

CALL THE BUSINESS OFFICE on matters concerning applications for telephones, bills, adjustment of accounts, directory listings, advertising and the like.
