Clean Bock Inspection Tour - Part 2

By Kathy Parrett

In Tuesday's AFRO we reported the first part of the Inspection Tour. Today, we will give you the highlights of the second part of the tour.

After leaving the Perkins Homes and all their beauty, we went to the participating blocks in East Baltimore, where we saw more beautiful blocks.

Let us not forget to thank Officer Michael Dunn, one of our police escorts, who came to the AFRO - AMERICAN Clean Block office the week preceeding the tour to get a list of the blocks in East Baltimore. When he arrived at the Clean Block office on Inspection Sunday, he had mapped out a route for all of the blocks; and as that part of the tour progressed, we noted that his routing was perfect.

Our stop in East Baltimore was at 2400 Ashland Ave., where block colors are yellow and white. They were looking good.

From there, we stopped at the pretty blue and white 1100 block of Montford Ave. where Alice D. Queen-Freeman is advisor.

On our next stop, we found ourselves in an oasis of loveliness.

By walking a few steps in any direction, we could see five of the most beautiful blocks in Baltimore; 2000 Ellsworth St., 1300 N. Chester St., 1400 N. Chester St., 1200 N. Washington St. (Dana's Block), and 1300 N. Washington St.

The 2000 block of Ellsworth St. was as bright and lovely as the sunshine, for they chose yellow and white as their block colors. They had sidewalk furniture, window boxes, sidewalk planters, and flowers everywhere.

Judges were again treated to a refreshing homemade punch.

Captain in the block is Ms. Rose M. Eggleston; Co-Captain, Ms. Carolyn McCoy; Advisor, Mrs. Elizabeth Comartie.

The lovely 1300 block of N. Chester St. is green and white. They also have sidewalk furniture, painted in their block colors, adopted trees, and beautiful flowers.

Ms. Wanda Johnson is the block Captain Mrs. Virginia Allen, Co-captain; and Ms. Minn J. Walker, Advisor.

The 1400 Block of N. Chester St. is also green and white. They were as beautiful as their neighboring block.

Workers in that block of N. Chester St. is also green and white. They were as beautiful as their neighboring block.

Workers in that block gave a great deal of praise and credit to their Co-captain, Leroy Richardson. He was not able to be in his block during the inspection because he had to work, but we were told that he did just about all of the work. Anything residents asked of him, he did without question, and as promptly as possible.

Orchids to him because of his untiring efforts and cooperation.

Other leaders in the block are Captain, Ms. Patricia Mayfield; and Advisor, Ms. Brenda Harrison.

1300 N. Washington St. is green and yellow, and truly pretty. Their block also looks like a garden scene, with flowers everywhere, and sidewalk furniture. Charles W. Parks is the block Captain; Ms Theresa Wright, Co-captain; and Ms. Faith Denise Shears, Advisor.

'Dana's Block, 1200 N. Washington St., was a beautiful red and white block where workers have faithfully maintained quiet beauty. We have written a lot about them, and all we can say is that they have been inspired and inspiring all through this campaign. Keep up the splendid work.

Ms. Kathy Pressley, saluted in Mrs. Bettye Moss' Hats Off section, is the block Captain, and a true leader. Other faithfuls are Ms. Kim Horne, Co-Captain; and Ms. Margaret Dugger, Advisor.

Letters

Dear AFRO:

We of 2713, 15, 17 and 19 Spelman Road would like to thank you for your donation of flowers, paint and especially the movie tickets. We also would like to thank Mrs. Peters for her advice on problems that we encountered.

Thank you for accepting us in the Clean Block organization, and for helping us to beautify our area.

Mrs. Ernestine Brockington and all the tenents of 2713, 15, 17 and 19 Spelman Road.

Dear AFRO Readers:

Talking about the prescribed informal entertainment.

It was with great pleasure to see our youths up today get together and march in the AFRO Clean Block Parade.

Seeing our teens and youths, gave me a good feeling. All the marching units really gave a grand performance. Every step act and beat was out of sight.

A good point of awareness was to see uptown come downtown and share the hidden talents of our youths. I take my hat off to all the parade performers. It made my day to see "dignity," performed in great style.

If you ask me

By Bettye Moss

Hats off!

Our salute this week to Catherine Holland.

A reader nominated her because "she is a good example of people who volunteer their time to help others and to help train younger people."

Mrs. Holland has been a volunteer for two years in the Baltimore NAACP office.

The reader advises: "Whenever you call her for information, she has a pleasant voice and is very helpful. She has coordinated the NAACP voter registration drive in a very efficient manner. She deserves praise."

Even though Mrs. Holland is not a teenager, she is typical of young women in Baltimore who render unselfish service, so we're glad to know her.

We called Mrs. Holland and learned she is involved in other volunteer activities. At St. John AME Church, she is a member of the Pastor's Aid, Gospel Choir and Stewardess Board.

She is a Morgan State U. political science grad, wife of Raymond Holland, a land surveyor. They have two children, Gary, 20, and a Morgan U. sophomore; and Christopher, 17, who attends the School for the Arts.

Please continue to nominate folks for our Hats Off section. We seek to feature those who are outstanding. Our theory is that too many adults only notice young people when they perform poorly. Hats Off!

Help NAACP!

This column's call to the NAACP office to confirm information supplied by the reader in our Hats Off section brought this startling news — Because of insufficient funds the NAACP office is closed for a two - week period!

It reopens September 7.

Branch president, Mrs. Enolia P. McMillan, advises this is the first time in the history of the Baltimore branch that funds have been inadequate to hire staff to keep the office open year round.

"Not since the branch was organized in 1935," she said, "have we faced a situation like this."

What can Baltimoreans do to help? Mrs. McMullan says they can pay their NAACP membership NOW.

She is urging NAACP members to renew their membership, and to get their neighbors to take out new memberships.

Here are the membership categories: $10, General; $15, $20 and $25, Contributing; $20 a Year, Subscription on Life Membership. Fee for youth, under 21, is $5, and includes Crisis Magazine.

Mail yours TODAY to Baltimore NAACP, 26 W. 25th St., Baltimore, 21218. Phone number is 366 - 8300.

Cuff note: The NAACP regional office, in the same building, was not affected, remains open.

Absent ballot

Here is an important reminder: Persons who will be out of the city on Primary Election Day, September 14, 1982, can still vote by applying NOW for Absentee Ballots.

This includes students who will be away in school and those in the armed services.

It also applies to people who will be confined to nursing homes or hospitals, or otherwise immobile, on election day, or out of the city on business.

Here is all you have to do to get an Absentee Ballot application: Call 396 - 8974 - the office of the Supervisors of Elections and they will mail you an application promptly.

Or, you can go to the Elections Office in the People's Court Building, Fayette and Gay Sts., and pick up the Absentee Ballot applications.

(Of course, only registered voters can use Absentee Ballots).

Reminder: It is important to apply NOW for Absentee Ballots, so that you can fill them out NOW and return them. Then, the Supervisors of Elections will mail qualified applicants their ballots.

NOTE: The Supervisors of Elections deadline to receive applications for Absentee Ballots is 4 p.m. September 7.

The ballots will then be mailed to voters who must return or mail them to the Supervisors of Elections, postmarked by midnight September 14, Election Day.

Cuff note: It has not always been this easy to register and vote in many sections of our country, including Maryland. Now, thanks to voter registration campaigns and public officials more sensitive to community needs today, it is easy to register and easy to vote.

If you're hospitalized or incapacitated or going to be out of the city on Election Day, YOU can still VOTE, but hurry and apply NOW!

About people

Oakland, Calif. visitors — Mrs. Marsha Eugenia Carlisle, a native Baltimorean, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Gaskins Sr. With her, her 3 - year - old daughter, Lisa.

Pleasant young sailor visiting in our midst this month has been Seamen E3 Nathaniel Mosley, 21.

His ship, the Spear, recently arrived from Italy, bound for Norfolk. While in the area, Seaman Mosley visited with his aunt and uncle, Ray and Henrietta Mosley of Woodbrook Ave.

Another relative here is disc joc, Stanley Mosley. The youngster says he is so impressed with Baltimore, he plans to settle here when his tour of duty is completed in 1984.

Attention: Lincoln University alumni in the Baltimore area: Your group met recently, elected officers, and wants YOU to affiliate.

Dr. Horace Judson is president; Dr. Julius Taylor is treasurer. You can get details from them by addressing them care of Morgan State University, Baltimore, 21239.

Other charter members of the Lincoln U. group are, Daniel W. Spaulding, Glenwood C. Brooks, Coldex L. Brown, Martin B. McNair, and Dr. T. B. O'Daniel.

Vicksburg, Miss. residents in our gates this week are Mr. and Mrs. James Gardner, visiting their daughter, Dr. Betty Gardner, the Coppin State College dean.

In from a "glorious and enjoyable" trip to nowhere aboard the Cunard Line's Queen Elizabeth 2 are members of the Big Sisters of Baltimore and guests.

They report the cruise up to N.Y. Sound and to Ohio was made more enjoyable by entertainment provided each evening by top stars.

In the group were: Lil and Ed Slater, Lucille Brown, Pearl Sungleton, Hillyard Jones, Evelyn Holsey, Elizabeth Phillips, Phyllis and Bob Shamwell, Mildred Carter, Evelyn Holsey, Irb Williams, Dr. Roland Williams, Shirley Murchison, Dr. Donna Chenier, Diane Tolson, Myrtle and Bonda Lee and Gladys and James Parker.

The Parkers marked their 40th wedding anniversary while on the cruise and there was a grand and glorious celebration in their honor.

More people

Joseph Bush, the city Minimum Wage Commissioner is retiring next month after seven years.

Many know him as the longtime businessman, insurance exec who is active in Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity and as a vice president at Advance Federal Savings and Loan Association.

The J. C. Reaveses (Agnes) holidayed in Atlantic City recently so did Kye and Ruth Lewis, Jim and Ruth Dorsey, Gladys and Sam Daniels, Laura Phillips and dozens more.

If you have not looked in on Atlantic City recently, do go and see for yourself.

It is a sight to behold this time of the year! People of all shapes, sizes, colors, dressed up and dressed down.

The casinos are crowded all the time - even the nickle ones, so when you visit Atlantic City, it is hard to believe that the nation is in a depression. At least that's the way it was a week ago.

At one of the posh hotels, guests stood at attention as a black NY limousine with VIP dark windows stopped at the entrance. Out stepped a white chauffeur in uniform.

He opened the door for the passengers — a lady of color and her escort. In front of all, he counseled with the driver, then peeled off a $100 bill.

The driver whispered something, he handed him a $50. Then the two marched into the casino.

Some in the crowd appeared disappointed, and were upset about the money deal after arrival.

Hints For Homemakers/Inez Kaiser

Get the Signal—enjoy war on garlic, onions

DEAR INEZ: I can't understand why my husband doesn't kiss me more often. We have only been married a year and he often asks me why I eat onions and foods seasoned with garlic so often. I've told him I like spicy foods because they taste so good. What can I do to turn him on? —PUZZLED WIFE

DEAR PUZZLED WIFE: My guess is that you simply haven't understood his signal. It is obvious that you probably have a strong mouth odor caused by eating onions and garlic that just turns him off. But don't panic!

My suggestion to you is to get his signal. Start now by using SIGNAL, the minty mouthwash that fights the strongest mouth odors. It gives you fresher, cleaner breath.

But you don't have to take just my word. Clinical tests have proved that SIGNAL effectively fights the taste of strong mouth odors—even onions and garlic.

That means you can still eat spaghetti with garlic, spicy shrimp and all the other highly seasoned foods you like without offending your husband.

Just rinse your mouth with SIGNAL mouthwash after eating and notice the difference. The very next time he kisses you, he'll know that you got the signal!

My guess is that he will immediately notice the difference in your breath. Just watch the expression on his face. From then on, the kisses will be more frequent and there'll be no more questions about what you eat.

SIGNAL should solve the problem no matter what you eat. Just carry a convenient container of mouthwash wherever you go.

SIGNAL is now available in easy-to-handle unbreakable plastic containers. This new lightweight packaging for SIGNAL—switching to plastic instead of glass containers—is another indication of Lever Brothers' interest in satisfying their customers. They believe in giving consumers what they want.

So take a lesson from the makers of SIGNAL mouthwash and give your husband what he wants—a fresher, cleaner breath when he kisses you. Better still, tell him you got the signal!

HOW TO FIGHT PLAQUE

SOMETHING NEW HAS happened to one of the Kaiser Family's longtime favorites, PEPSODENT toothpaste, which gets teeth their whitest and is low in abrasion.

Now, PEPSODENT has a new plaque-fighting formula. It's made up of a new combination of polishing and whitening agents which help to retard plaque buildup and still keep teeth their whitest.

Pepsodent

In case you didn't know, plaque is that awful film that collects on teeth, turning them dull and dingy. The new PEPSODENT toothpaste fights plaque.

Plaque removal has been widely recognized in recent years as a vital part of dental health care. Actually, plaque is a complex mixture of bacteria, food debris and organic film that can dull or discolor teeth.

In fact, I was surprised to learn that over 80 percent of the U.S. population is concerned about the problem of plaque. So the development of this new formula for PEPSODENT is good news indeed.

Want to get your teeth their whitest? Well, fight back. Fight plaque with new-formula PEPSODENT.

SOFTER, SMOOTHER SKIN IN 7 DAYS

EVERY ONCE IN A WHILE we come across a product that is so very special, so different and so pleasing to use. Such a product is DOVE beauty bar.

More and more people are discovering that DOVE is not a soap! It is a specially formulated bar containing one-quarter moisturizing cream plus mild cleansing agents which leave your skin feeling soft and smooth.

Women across the country who stopped using their ordinary soap and instead took the DOVE Seven-Day Test reported afterward that their skin was indeed softer and smoother with DOVE.

DOVE is a bar that women of all ages can use with excellent results on their complexion and general skin care. And I can tell you that babies like it, too—especially with cases of diaper rash.

That's why I call DOVE a miracle bar. Just switch to DOVE and you, too, will agree that there's nothing like it.
