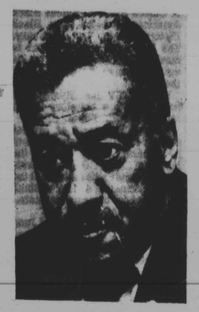
City Temple prepares 6,000 Thanksgiving dinners



The Rev. Dr. William W. Payne

By Pam Widgeon
AFRO Religious Editor

He has always had a great concern for everyone but, especially those who are unloved, unwanted, unemployed and the lonely.

For 12 years the Rev. William W. Payne, members and friends of City Temple Baptist Church have served Thanksgiving dinner to more than 5,000 citizens.

Thanksgiving is a time for serious religious thinking, church services and personal prayer. Annual Thanksgiving day services will be held on Nov. 25, 10 a.m. at City Temple, Dolphin and Eutaw St.

Members and friends of the church are now preparing to serve dinner to 6,000 citizens Nov. 25.

Rev. Payne, pastor of the old church said, "We look forward with much anticipation to joining hearts and hands with people of goodwill to provide Thanksgiving dinner with all the trimmings, for the lonely, elderly and the needy without regard to race, color or creed. All are welcome."

Rev. Payne said the impossible mission became a reality because of concerned citizens. He said, "Because of your concern and contribution, thousands of our deprived brothers and sisters will be made happy."

He has been a minister for 27 years. Before he founded and became pastor of City Temple, he was pastor of Wayland Baptist Church, 3200 Garrison Blvd.; for 23 years.

Citizens in the community often describe Rev. Payne as a "shepherd" who loves his sheep and a gifted man of God who feeds the hunger, clothed the naked and is loved by everyone."

Mrs. Betty Johnson, an active Christian community worker and secretary to the Rev. Payne told the AFRO the food is donated to the church from clubs, citizens, unions, businesses and morticians. It is prepared by members and friends of City Temple.

According to Mrs. Johnson Cong. Parren J. Mitchell will be among the friends assisting in serving dinners. Mrs. Johnson said Cong. Mitchell participates every year.

City Temple's inner city ministry is a non-profit organization aimed at reaching out to the rejected men and women such as the alcoholic, drug abuser, homeless and jobless.

Aide is offered daily by providing hot meals beninning at noon.

Food is provided for families who are in need due to lost or stolen checks, food stamps or lateness in receiving monthly allotments.

Clothing is provided for families and individuals. Housing arrangements are made for those who are in need. Counseling is provided for families and single parents

The church also gives funds when availabe for gas and electric evictions, food stamps and car fare.

The church inner city ministry is funded solely through the contributions of friends and well wishers. The Maryland Food Commission has been of assistance to the ministry. The church continues to help hundreds of families and individuals daily.

Rev. Payne says his motto is, "If I can help somebody as I travel on, My living will not have been in vain."

Today..... In Christ

By Joseph A. Carter Jr.

Psalm 23:1 "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want."

Matthew 6:8 "... for your father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him.

There's an entry often found in school autograph books that has always made an impression on me. It says, simply, "a friend is one who knows all about you and still loves you."

I'm not certain what impressed me in years past, but Today... In Christ, I know exactly what and why. There's just not a friend like Jesus.

Jesus Christ loves you, not who, where, or what you are. So much so, that he did for you. He knows everything about you and still loves you.

No fair weather friend, this Jesus Christ, Son of God, Saviour, Redeemer, and Lord. He'll stand by you in times of trouble, knows and cares about what you need ... and is always there to administer to your every need.

The scriptures are full of examples. John 4:4 reads: "And he must needs go through Samaria."

That word "needs" connects with the needs of a woman by a well, a Samarian, who had needs that perhaps she wasn't aware of having.

Needs that were met in Jesus, resulting not only in her life being changed, but also in many others, likewise, being changed, but also in many others, likewise, being changed.

"Come see a man, which told me all things that ever I did: is not this the Christ? (John 4:29)"

"And many of the Samarians of that city believes on him the saying of the woman which testified, He told me all that ever I did." (John 4:39)

Jesus, knew that the woman was by that well that's why "he must needs go through Samaria". He was her best friend.

Look also at the example offered by the interaction between Jesus and Zaccheus the rich chief tax collector, who climbed up the sycamore tree to get a look at Jesus because he was too short to see over the crowd. (see :Luke 19:1-4)

Read on, and note Luke (19:5- "And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zaccheaus make haste, and come down for today I must abide at thy house."

Zaccheus came down and received Christ joyfully.. Alespite the negative reaction of onlookers. Jesus did "abide" at Zaccheus house. This disliked man and Zaccheus emerged a changed man. Salvation came to his house" for the son of man (Jesus) is come to seek and to save that which was lost." (Luke 19:10)

It was this need of Zaccheus to change that was why Jesus "must atide" at his house. Jesus is a friend who comes to and abides with you in times of needs. He's a friend indeed.

I could mention, further, Nathaniel, whom Jesus knew all about (John 1:45-51); or Nicodemus, who didn't have to asky anything to get the answer that Jesus knew spoke to his need. (John 3:1-3). Jesus is a friend that brings out the best in people with no strings attached.

Jesus is unchanging. He remains the same. What he did in terms of meeting the needs of an knowing all about the people above, he knows and will do for you today. This is no fairy tale, it's real and reality based.

Need a friend? Have a special need? Struggling with something that you can't share with anyone? Do you think that it's too late that you're beyond help.

Try Jesus. Call him ... now.

Right now. Out loud, or silently it doesn't matter. Just all from the heart believing. And then know that he heard you, knew all about it, and was on the way when you began reading this paragraph.

Gospel singer denies drug charges

Gospel singer Andrae Crouch, arrested last week on drug charges then released because there was not enough cocaine to prosecute him, denies the narcotics found in his car were his.

"I was innocent as far as the accusation being me," Crouch said in an interview with radio station KBE

The grammy-winning singer and composer, known for his strong evangelical faith, suggested the cocaine was left in his car by someone else, noting he works with musicians and others with different values and habits.

Crouch was arrested Nov. 12 by officers who stopped him for driving erratically and found a vial containing 0.08 grams of cocaine. Authorities dropped the possession charge Nov. 16 because the amount was so small.

The singer said he did not protest to police or comment on the charge earlier because he realized that cocaine possession is a "prevalent type accusation among so many musicians."

Crouch, whose songs include such Christian standards as "My Tribute," "Through It All" and "The Blood that Jesus Shed For Me," began singing as a child in his father's church of God In Christ In the Pacoima area.

Churches gear for Jubilee Sunday

The Church Committee for the NAACP Jubilee met at Calvary Baptist Church with the Rev. Dr. Lorenzo Graves as chairman of the committee.

The ministers present agreed upon a $50,000 goal for Jubilee Sunday on Jan. 2, 1983.

The NAACP needs funds to fight for the causes of disinherited. There is still much work to be done to hold on to the progress that has been made. There is still much work to be done to hold on to the progress that has been made. The state of the times, the economy, the mood and actions of national, state and local government mandate continuation and an increase in the fight for freedom and justice.

The Church Committee is asking all church members to give $1.00 from each member of their family. Envelopes will be available at Calvary Baptist Church, Douglass Memorial Community Church and St. Paul Baptist Church.

Pledges and donations may be addressed to Jubilee Day, 3911 Garrison Blvd.

How to raise money for your church

The AFRO-AMERICAN Newspaper in its 90th anniversary special circulation promotion can help you church earn money.

Central Baptist, Providence Baptist and Bethel AME Church in Cambridge, Md., are three of the churches who have received cash by participating in the promotion drive.

The AFRO is paying 40 percent ($8.00) commission on every $20 sunscription sold by the church. If your church sells 100 subscriptions the church receives an extra bonus of $100 plus a plaque.

This can be a special project for church members to participate in if you are trying to raise money for Women's Day, Men's Day, Youth Day or any other special project in your church.

Orders may be taken for the Tuesday and Friday AFRO at the cost of $20 for six months or the Tuesday or Friday for one year at $20.

Any church selling 300 or more subscriptions will receive an additional bonus of a free full page on the Living Church page in the AFRO. This page can be used for pictures and stories about the church, current events and special events.

If your church sells 500 subscriptions, there is a $4,000 commission plus a bonus of $500. If you sell 300 subscriptions you receive $2,400 in commission plus $300 bonus.

For 400 subscriptions to the AFRO, your commission would be $3,200 plus a $400 bonus. For 200 subscriptions, the commission is $1,600 plus a $200 bonus.

Mail your subscriptions to Church Promotion, AFRO-AMERICAN Newspapers, P. O. Box 1857, or call 728-8200 ext. 221 Mrs. Arnetta M. Lottier circulation promotion manager.

Hats off!

Our salute of the week goes to Sydney Reddick. Reader Louise Kerr Hines writes:

"Fifteen minutes after I phoned the Baltimore Gas and Electric Co., to report a pilot outage on our gas furnace, Sydney Reddick, Service Technician, responded.

"Hats off to the alert, mannerly and quietly efficient technician, who spotted the trouble, replaced a part, relit the pilot, and gave me instructions on how to do it myself.

"Before you consider this a routine report, you need to know that this G and E technician is Mrs. Sydney Reddick. On December 5, she rounds out five years on this job.

"Mrs. Reddick applied for the service technician job, was trained by the company, one year of her two-year apprenticeship included installing water meters, dryers and ranges.

"She is one of ten female service technicians, and the only black.

"It was a pleasure to meet Mrs. Reddick at work. Hats off to her and to Baltimore Gas and Electric. She is a worthy representative of the company."

More on Mrs. Reddick: She is the wife of Sylvester Reddick, second tenor in a popular singing group.

She stands just a little over 5 feet, weighs 125 pounds and is 25 years old. She and her husband have three children.

Please continue to send this column nominations for its Hats Off Section.

We seek here to show that we adults do take time to praise our young people when they do well.

We are about the business of proving untrue the assumption that adults only notice young people when they perform poorly. Hats off!

Love notes

Seems only yesterday that Lynette McRae was a teenager following her older sister, Michelle, to the AFRO City Desk, where she was a club reporter.

She's a grownup lady now.

Last week, Lynette was a CPA in Boise, Iowa.

On Saturday, she returns to her native Baltimore to exchange wedding vows with John Ajie, the San Antonio engineer.

Event is at 2 at Providence Inspirational Baptist Church in downtown Baltimore.

Her older sister, Elaine Smith, will stand with her.

Proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel McRae (Gwen), of Lawina Rd.

About people

Baltimore Urban League board is expected to pick a new president early next month to succeed the late Travis Vauls.

A search committee, headed by Dr. James Priest, has interviewed many of the 160 persons who sought the $35,000 plus post.

This column hears that the choice has been narrowed to two persons — one from a midwest town, and another from near Baltimore.

More in an upcoming column.

Cuff note: Interim Urban League president, Harold J. Kennedy is ailing. Get well cards to him at Sinai Hospital, Room 347B

Dr. and Mrs. Ray Brodie expect their first born within the week. He's the urologist.

Mrs. Brodie is Dr. Marsha Brown, the physician, she was recently appointed a member of the City's Civil Service Commission.

And the Tyrone McNeils, (Michelle), hope their second will arrive on Christmas day.

Mom is director of community relations at Provident Hospital. Dad is Beth Steel supervisor.

Just as happy is their older child, T.J., who was six in March.

Prayers, please, for Ossarew Gee Sr. He was stricken on Sunday.

He had visited his wife, at Keswick, and was walking to his car when he collapsed. He's undergoing tests at Provident Hospital.

Cuff notes: Mr. and Mrs. Gee, both 86, are longtime members of St. James Episcopal Church. They observed their 67th wedding anniversary in September.

Mrs. Gee (Cassie) has been at Keswick for over two years. Mr. Gee, their daughter, Senator Louise Murphy, and son, Ossarew Jr., have been daily visitors.

More people

U. of Md. President, Dr. John Toll and Mrs. Toll, (Debbie) hosted brunch on Saturday before the Md. - Clemson game.

Among guests, Charles G. Tildon Jr., and his wife, Louise.

Mr. Tildon is the new president of Community College of Baltimore.

Mrs. Tildon, retired city school administrator, is director of religious education at St. Gregory the Great Catholic Church.

Event provided an opportunity for Tildon to see old friends, like former U.S. Senator Joseph Tydings, now chair of the UM Board of Regents. Tildon was Tydings' campaign director at one time.

It also gave UM's new chancellor Dr. John Brooks Slaughter, a chance to meet a fellow educator. Dr. Slaughter assumed his duties at College Park last week.

Cuff note: In the brunch crowd - U.S. Supreme Court Justice and Mrs. Byron White, and old AFRO friends, Philip and Eleanor Merrill of Annapolis, (publishers of the Gazette and Baltimore Magazine).

Note to Delta Sigma Theta sorors: The running back who caught that long pass for the hometown Terps was John Lee Nash, son of your soror, Doris Nash, the Northern High physical ed teacher.

His dad, John Nash, heads the physical ed department at Douglass High here in Baltimore. He played football and was on the track team at Virginia State College where he was all CIAA.

John is a senior.

He was on the All - Met team at Polytechnic where he was quarterback and captain of the team in his high school days.

Sisters die

Thinking - of - you - cards to Mrs. Benjamin Whitten (Lucretia), and members of her family.

They had a double tragedy this week.

They were in Eastville, Va., on Saturday to bury her sister, Frances Bibbins, the retired Cape Charles, Va. teacher.

After the funeral, the family gathered to write thank you notes. It was then they got word that another sister, Ellen Bibbins, the Salisbury, Md. beautician, died suddenly after returning home from the funeral.

Funeral services are this Saturday. Arrangements are by the Jolly Funeral Home, owned and operated by another sister, Loretta, and her husband. Address is Rt. 2, Jersey Rd., Salisbury, Md.

Other surviving sisters and brother are, Arline Young, Wilmington; Bertie Waters, Philly; Elizabeth Smith, Dover; and Paul Bibbins, Cape Charles.

Mrs. Hagwood

The death in Montreal on Saturday of Ruth Webb Hagwood involves a number of native Baltimoreans.

Mrs. Hagwood, director of the medics program at Martin Luther King Hospital in Los Angeles, was stricken while attending the national board meeting of the Public Health Association.

Mrs. Hagwood, 59, was cremated. Memorial services were Thursday, Nov. 18, in the California city.

Survivors: Her father, Luke Webb, and stepmother, Ida, of Las Vegas.

Also, sons by her first marriage to the late William Combash of Catonsville, Gaylord, of Hawaii; Wayne, of Ft. Bragg, NC, and her husband, Stanley Hagwood; their sons, Stanley Jr. and Jonathan, both of Oakland, and David, a pre-med student at U. of Calif., in San Diego.

Local kin

The deceased's brothers and sisters, who also grew up in Baltimore are: Dr. Zelda Webb Anderson, Oakland; Bob Webb, Seattle; Burnell Webb, Pleasant Hill, CA., Gloria Smith, Los Angeles; Louis Webb, Ft. Bragg, N.C.;

Also, Rudolph Webb, Richmond, CA., Dr. Angela Clark, the Las Vegas physician; Stanford Webb, the African architect, and Mayfield Webb of Columbia, here in the Baltimore area, who is an attorney with HUD.

Cuff note: Mrs. Hagwood was a 1939 grad of Douglass High, and a Morgan U. grad.

Thinking - of - you cards to the family can be addressed to 946 McArthur Blvd., Oakland, CA., 94610.

Mrs. Tutt

Another Baltimorean, with many local relatives, was Mrs. Julia Smith Tutt.

She was the retired Washington teacher, who was eulogized at 19th St. Baptist Church on Monday, (Nov. 15).

She was the daughter of the late Virginia and Deaver Smith Sr (Her dad founded and operated the famous tea company on Pennsylvania Ave.)

She is survived by her husband, Dr. Walter Tutt, the D.C. dentist; their daughter, Leah, student at Howard U. Dental School

Brothers and sisters surviving, Dr. Bigg Smith, Harrisburg; Deaver Smith, Baltimore; Virginia S. Clarke, Philly; Elizabeth S. Frazier, Trenton; and Nelson Smith, Los Angeles.

IN NEW POSTS — Charles G. Tildon, left, who assumed his new job as president of Community College of Baltimore last week, is pictured here with Dr. John Brooks Slaughter, who took over his new job as chancellor at the University of Maryland, College Park. Mrs. Tildon, (Louise) retired city educator, is in center. Photo was made when the Tildons were guests in Dr. Slaughter's box at the Saturday football game where the Maryland team lost to Clemson 24 - 22. For more, see If You Ask Me.
