BIG DRIVE CLOSES AT EIGHT WEDNESDAY NIGHT

All Prizes to be Awarded Immediately After Judges Have Announced Winners

The mammoth subscription campaign which has been in progress for the past five weeks on The Transcript will come to a close as the clock strikes eight Wednesday evening.

In every respect this campaign has been the most successful of any like enterprise ever before staged in Chestertown, not only in the many valuable prizes given and the many hundreds of new and renewal subscriptions taken, but also in the amount of interest manifested during the entire drive.

As several of the candidates have been running close together all thru the drive it will take the votes polled during the closing period to decide the winners, and friends of the different candidates from all sections of the trade territory through which The Transcript circulates are expected to be present at The Transcript office at the closing hour. Each candidate will have many friends and relatives in Chestertown the closing night to see what prize their favorite candidate wins.

CLOSING RULES

The closing rules of the campaign are that all subscriptions taken during the closing period must be placed in a sealed envelope and then deposited in the sealed ballot box at The Transcrip office. All candidates should write their names upon the envelope and after placing the subscription stubs therein must deposit it in the ballot box any time before eight p. m. At eight o'clock sharp, the judges will take complete charge of the campaign and after counting the votes will proceed immediately to award the prizes. The candidate polling the largest number of votes will be declared the winner of the Studebaker touring car, purchased from H. D. Massey, the local dealer, while the one running second will receive the beautiful Remington phonograph, purchased from J. S. Kreeger. The other prizes, the bracelet watches will be awarded to the candidate running next in order.

J. S. Kreeger has carefully tested and regulated every one of the beautiful wrist watches to be used as prizes in the campaign.

The votes polled during the closing period will be secret to everyone, as not even the Campaign Manager, the Publisher, or any one else will know the number of votes polled by any candidate. This insures absolute fair play and after the drive is over and the winners announced, no one can say that anyone told how many votes another worker possessed as no one will know how many votes any one has.

NO CHECKS ACCEPTED INnbor

All candidates bear in mind that no checks of any kind will be accepted in payment of subscriptions during the closing period. Any checks tendered in payment of subscriptions should be made out to the candidate and cashed before being placed in the box No subscriptions without the cash nor any cash without the subscriptions will count and no votes issued on such subscriptions or cash.

Each candidate should exercise great care in making out his or her final report as no exception can be made to any of the closing rules and a worker might lose a major prize through carelessness.

Theclosing rules are few and simple and candidates who lose votes by failing to heed same have no one to blame but themselves.

The Manager wishes to thank each and every candidate for the excellent work they have performed in making the campaign such a grand success and he is only sorry that each of the workers cannot win a car. This is of course impossible, but to the victor belongs the spoils and it is certain that the first congratulations the winner receives will be from his or her former rivals.

Any advice from the Campaign Manager to the candidates at this stage of the campaign is unnecessary. However he wishes to state that all the candidates have been treated alike, and that all the present candidates will receive a prize as there are enough prizes to see that everyone who has qualified with all rules is compensated. As stated in the opening announcement of the campaign there will be no losers and each one will receive compensation who has made an active race throughout the campaign.

The judges chosen to count and award the prizes are three of Chestertown's most prominent men. These judges will be satisfactory to all of the contestants.

The judges of the contest will be Messrs. Allan A. Harris, of the Chestertown Bank of Maryland; W. Robert Huey, of the Third National Bank; and Don. F. Falls, of the Peoples Bank of Chestertown.

WEDDINGS

Miss Elizabeth Meeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Meeks, of Chestertown, and one of the most popular and accomplished young ladies in this section, and Mr. Albert Wheat, one of Chestertown's most popular young men, were quietly married at Christ M. P. Parsonage on Saturday morning at 7.30 by Rev. N. O. Gibson. The bride was becomingly attired in gray canton crepe, with hat to match. The groom wore black. Miss Mary Anderson and Mr. Howard Pennington were their attendants. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left by Elkton for Atlantic City to spend their honeymoon. The bride was the efficient book-keeper at the Chestertown Bank of Maryland for many years. The groom is the well-known and accommodating salesman for the big firm of Vansant & Newsome. Upon their return to Chestertown they will reside on Front street in the house of the late Mrs. Carrie Wroth.

Bank Receives Present

The directors and officers of The Third National Bank wish to publicly acknowledge receipt of a beautifully bound copy of the Holy Bible from Mrs. Sallie G. Palmatory, Church Hill, Md., with the following prayer enclosed: "Oh God our Father, we implore Thy blessing on every official of this Third National Bank, and all persons who are in any way associated with the business. Keep them in the hollow of Thine Hand, safe from all harm, both day and night, for Jesus' sake. Amen.

News Of The Water Industries

State Conservation Commissioner H. W. Vickers is awaiting the results of his experiment in raking over a 50-acre area of defunct oyster beds in the Potomac River, but he is still strongly of the opinion that the salvation of the oyster industry lies in the state control and planting of oyster shells. He had an area on Cobb Bar, in the Potomac, raked over because a special oyster investigating committee of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association suggested this would be a remedy. Mr. Vickers decided to try it out.

As to the crab problem, Mr. Vickers describes the situation as follows: Maryland crabbers say that Virginians dredge during the winter months before the crabs come to Maryland waters and furthermore market female crabs. Virginia crabbers contend that Marylanders capture great numbers of hard crabs and place them in water pens, where they are allowed to remain until they shed their shells. They are then sold as soft crabs. Maryland crabbers declare that the Virginians, by marketing female crabs, prevent propagation. Virginia crabbers contend that the Marylanders allow thousands of crabs to die in the water pens while they are waiting for them to shed their shells. Mr. Vickers thinks that some legislation may be put through to aid in solving the situation.

Failed To Agree On A Commissioner

At a meeting of the Board of Town Commissioner for Chestertown Monday evening, two names were presented for a Commissioner to succeed Mr. C. A. Goodwin, who has resigned. Mr. C. N. Satterfield, president of the board, put in nomination Mr. Ralph Barnett and Mr. W. P. Newnam placed Mr. P. M. Brooks in nomination. As there are only two Commissioners and each presented a candidate, no election was had. It has been the custom here for many years that the board should be composed of two Democrats and one Republican. Mr. Goodwin was a Democrat, therefore, under the custom that had prevailed here for years, a Democrat is to succeed him. Mr. Satterfield is the Republican member and Mr. Newnam is the Democratic member. From present prospects, it looks as though the board will remain with two members only.

Big Day At Galena On Wednesday

About five hundred people were at Galena on Wednesday. Congressman T. Allan Goldsborough delivered an address, wihch was greatly enjoyed by those present. The opening game of the five-game series between Massey and Galena resulted in a victory for Massey, score 5 to 1.

The Cecilton Band enlivened the occasion with good music.

A number of candidates for office and politicians were present.
