MARYLAND-DELAWARE NEWS

Items Of Interest From Peninsula Cities and Countrysides That Will Be Worth Our Readers' Attention

The Chesapeake Weaving Mills, in Havre de Grace, have closed down for the time.

The money box in the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Booth at the town of Havre de Grace was robbed recently.

Middletown's Firemen's Carnival brought in $16,000 total receipts, with net profits more than sufficient to meet the cost of the new pumping engine.

Work on the new concrete roadway from Townsend to the Maryland line is progressing nicely, the cement machine having begun laying the concrete bed last week. Nearly 300 hands are engaged in the work.

The motor cabin boat, Elsie B, belonging to the Rev. J. R. Bicking, pastor of the M. E. Church of Pocomoke City, was scuttled by some enemy the other night. Four holes were bored in her bottom and the boat was found along shore just below the town limits. Later someone tried to set fire to the boat.

Robert Milanicz must spend a year in prison. He was the man that the Talbot sheriff allowed to go free.

Feeder Cattle Buying Pool

During the week of Aug. 6, the Md. Farm Bureau Federation will promote a drive in the seven large cattle feeding counties for those who desire to join the Feeder Cattle Buying Pool.

This is a splendid opportunity for economic buying for those who expect to deal in this class of cattle. Last year Washington, Frederick and Montgomery counties bought forty-three carloads at a saving of something like $8 a head in price, or more than $5,000 on the whole shipment. The cattle were delivered promptly and when sold later, after fattening, brought top market prices. The cattle will come from the western ranges as far west as Nebraska. They will be conditioned on Maryland farms and sold early next spring.

Farm Bureau Meetings

Fifteen Farm Bureau meeting were held in as many communities throughout Kent this past week. Excellent meetings with good attendances were the result of the efforts of the County Farm Bureau Organization Committee. Between five and six hundred farmers and farm women heard the story of the Farm Bureau.

This coming week, beginning Monday, Aug. 6, every Kent County farmer will be visited on his farm by some of his neighbors and asked to join the Farm Buerau.
