
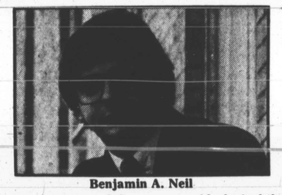
This district takes in all of Southeast Baltimore including parts of the Inner Harbor, Little Italy, Canton, Highlandtown, Patterson Park, Armistead Gardens and O'Donnell Heights. The black population in the District is among the poorest in the city, primarily concentrated in the public housing projects in O'Donnell Heights and the neighborhoods surrounding the Poe Homes.

This district has been dominated by ethnic politics for decades. Descendents of the Poles, Czech, Italian, and Eastern European cultures have battled for City Council and legislative seats. The city's Spanish population is concentrated in the Fells Point area of the district.

Long a bastion of white political power, the First Councilmanic District and its elected officials have long ignored the aspirations of black people.

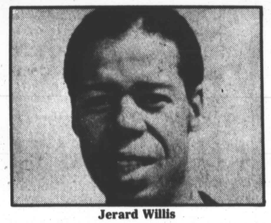
But now the white politicians there have learned to count and they are beginning to count black voters. Of course, many are not doing anything to assist blacks and the only real difference is that their indifference is less strident.

There are two candidates running in the first district who we urge you to support: Jerard Willis and Benjamin Neil.



Benjamin A. Neil

Neil shows energy and the necessary ideological thrust to be an advocate for the interests for the poor and the underrepresented in this city. His positions on education, housing, and crime are laudable.



Jerard Willis

Jerard Willis has been involved in the first district for many years as a community and political activist. He has learned the hard way about the deceit and political machinations of the first district incumbents. All during his political life, he has exhibited a strong and healthy respect for the interests of black people.

First District Honorable Mention

A former member of the Marine Corps, Edward Jack Makowski, a lawyer, and a politician who does not seem to be of the same ilk of those who we are accustomed to coming from the First District deserves an honorable mention.

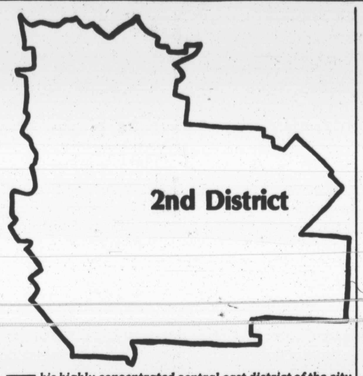
BEN NEIL

CITY COUNCIL
1st DISTRICT
LEVER 6-C

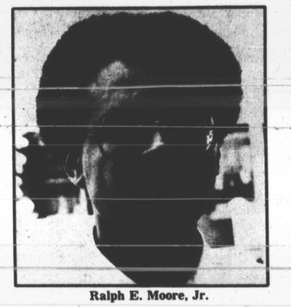
Authority: Francis Czosnowski, Treasurer



This highly concentrated central east district of the city has both the most affluent areas of the city (Guilford) and the poorest (Greenmount). This district is one of the few that have elected integrated political teams.

Clifton Park, Johns Hopkins Hospital, Greenmount Cemetery, Waverly and Charles Village are located in the Second District. You will find this district to have both tree-shaded streets and congeted overcrowded brown stones.

The second district, to its benefit, has a race full of very able candidates. There are several who would be excellent representatives of the residents that they would serve. We would like to recommend to you that you study the positions and backgrounds of each of the candidates carefully. However, we recommend Ralph Moore, George Buntin and Nathaniel McFadden.



Ralph E. Moore, Jr.

Moore, Assistant Director of the St. Ambrose Housing Center and a member of the board of the Maryland Food Committee, is one of the ablest candidates seeking office in the city this year.

He is both an administrator and an advocate, capable of discussing complex financial issues and of communicating effectively with the homeless and the forgotten.

George Buntin, a former director of the Druid Heights Action Association, is equally as capable. Buntin has a background in business and has worked diligently as a private citizen on behalf of minority contractors.

He has testified for them at City Council hearings and has joined them on picket lines. As black Baltimore becomes more economically-oriented, it is important that we have representatives who understand the language and Mr. Buntin understands the language.

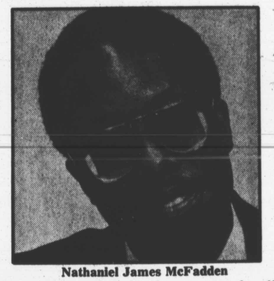
George N. Buntin, Jr.

Our third choice for the second district is the incumbent, Nathaniel McFadden. An educator, Councilman McFadden is deeply concerned with the issues of education and the development of our young people. Having been appointed to office, he has matured as a legislator and if elected will do an even better job.



Nathaniel James McFadden

Second District Honorable Mentions

The field in the Second District, like that in the Fourth, is crowded with worthy candidates. Their qualifications made the endorsement process very difficult for us.

It is our hope that they will continue to serve the Second District as civic leaders, their leadership will be valuable to the people of our city.

Those who receive an honorable mention are Anthony Ambridge, Edwin Johnson, Paula Johnson, Jacqueline McLean and Carl Stokes.

"Mary Pat Clarke will make an excellent City Council President. As a member of the City Council she has demonstrated her leadership ability, her strong convictions, and the willingness to expend the energy necessary to bring about progress in Baltimore. She is people-oriented and concerned for all of the citizens of Baltimore, regardless of race, sex, or age. Baltimore needs Mary Pat Clarke as City Council President."
Dr. Patricia L. Schmoke, M.D.

"Mary Pat Clarke and I worked side-by-side in City Council for seven years. She works hard and cares about the people she represents. I think that she will be a fair and outspoken President of the City Council. I am campaigning for her and voting for her as the kind of leader we need."
Senator Nathan C. Irby, Jr.
45th Legislative District

"When we fought MTA fare increases for senior citizens, Mary Pat Clarke helped us organize citywide testimony. She testified for us and with us, and we kept the increase to a nickel! When we call her, she is always there."
Mr. William A. Laws, Resident
Bolton North Senior Citizen Highrise

"Mary Pat has always showed up to support our schools. She cares. That is why I am with her now."
Dr. Gwendolyn J. Cooke, Principal
William H. Lemmel Middle School

"Mary Pat has always believed in and worked for community and citizen participation in decisions which affect our lives. When she wins, we'll all win!"
