At a late hour, when the town clock was about ready to chronicle the midnight hour, the guests departed, wishing Mr. Fallowfield, whose birthday the event was in celebration of, many more of the same.

HALL CAINE'S "CHRISTIAN" COMING TO THE LYCEUM

Goldwyn's super-feature, "The Christian," adapted from Sir Hall Caine's most famous novel, directed by Maurice Tourneur, is coming to the Lyceum Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, October 10 and 11. This photoplay is a credit to everyone concerned in its production; it takes rank among the really big films of the year. Tourneur was selected by Goldwyn production executives to make the film because of his fine record of achievement in adapting famous novels to the screen. He has done a finished and inspiring job.

Director and principals were sent to England to make exteriors in London, at Cambridge, at the Derby at Epsom Downs and on the Isle of Man where the big thrilling climaxes of the story take place. The author gave his assistance to the director in obtaining the correct atmosphere and in getting the consent of the London officials to photograph the big mob scene in Trafalgar Square—the first time such permission had ever been granted.

The story of "The Christian" is well known to readers and playgoers—it concerns the efforts of one John Storm, become a Christian Socialist, to live as Christ would live, and his struggle to free himself from his love for Glory Quayle. He meets the usual end that comes to all reformers and prophets—is mobbed to death.

The cast is a notable one: Richard Dix plays the lead and opposite him is Mae Busch. These two players were selected by a process of elimination from a list which included a score or more of the best known film players of the day. Other players are Phyllis Haver, Gareth Hughes, Mahlon Hamilton, Joseph Dowling, Claude Gillingwater, Cyril Chadwick, Beryl Mercer, Harry Northrup, Robert Bolder, Milla Davenport, Alice Hesse and Aileen Pringle. Cedric Gibbons, Goldwyn art director, has outdone himself in some of the sets for the film and the photography is super-excellent. The story is a thrilling, emotional drama, realistically acted.
